Rhee Offers Troops To Fight Indochina Reds

Asks The Help Of Van Fleet "To Organize"

"Can't Finish Own War," South Korea President Asserts

SEOUL, Saturday, Feb. 13 (AP)—South Korea said yesterday it had responded to "urgent appeals" from Red-invaded Laos and offered to send a full division (about 14,000 men) to fight in Indochina against the Communists.

A government statement urged that Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former 8th Army commander in Korea, be sent back to "help us organize our own forces and at the same time train and organize the armies of Indochina."

France May Reject Bid

It was considered likely France would reject the offer of a division although it is hard pressed in Indochina.

"If we are not allowed to finish our own war," the statement said, "or to assist another free country in distress, what hope is there for saving any of the free nations, including the United States, from the Communists. . . .

"Our token army to help those in distress will encourage all the anti-Communist peoples of Southeast Asia and should persuade many of them to join with those of us who are now fighting the enemy."

The government said its offer of a division was made in response to "two urgent appeals signed by the Cabinet minister of the Laos government."

Communist forces now are menacing Luang Prabang, the capital of Laos, one of the three Associated States of Indochina.

Chinese May Retaliate

France, which controls Indochina, was reported opposed to any use of South Korean troops lest their appearance draw Red China in full force into the fighting.

South Korea's foreign minister, Ypun Yung Tai, in confirming reports of the offer, conceded that Red China might be expected to retaliate.

In Paris, a source in the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs said it had no information on the offer. Pyun later said there had been no direct approach either to the Indochinese or to France.

Grows Weaker

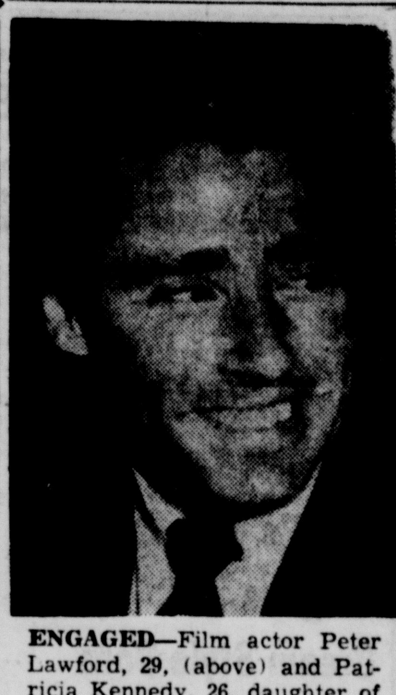
AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 12 (AP)—Confederate veteran Thomas E. Riddle continued to grow weaker today.

Dr. Herman Wing, medical director of the State Confederate Home, said Riddle spent a quiet night under an oxygen tent but continued to lose strength.

The 107-year-old ex-soldier is conscious and recognizes doctors and nurses but has shown no sign of a rally since his heart began to fail Tuesday. He has been suffering from critical pneumonia since Jan. 17.

Dies Unexpectedly

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Keenan, 55, wife of Joseph D. Keenan, secretary-treasurer of the AFL Building and Construction Trades Dept., died unexpectedly today of a heart attack.



ENGAGED—Film actor Peter Lawford, 29, (above) and Patricia Kennedy, 26, daughter of former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, are engaged, the girl's parents announced yesterday.

Knowland Tries For Compromise On Treaty Act

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) inaugurated a round of conferences today in a fresh effort to reach a compromise on Senate proposals to amend the Constitution and fence in the President's treaty-making powers.

The Senate's Republican leader announced the attorney general had raised new questions about the latest compromise language suggested by Sen. George of Georgia, a senior Democrat.

A series of talks will have to be held with George and other interested senators, Knowland said, to see if the matter can be straightened out before next week, when the Senate is scheduled to begin voting on the controversial issue.

Asked whether the administration would accept the latest George draft if it is modified along the lines suggested by Atty. Gen. Brownell, Knowland said he thought so, although he wasn't certain yet.

He appeared to be doubtful whether Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio-, prime mover in the attempt to curb the scope of treaties and other pacts, would acquiesce. Bricker is vacationing briefly in Florida, but the conferees will try to consult him by telephone.

Knowland has searched for weeks for a compromise, beating a path from the White House to Senate conference rooms and then to the State and Justice Departments for expert advice.

He is anxious to avoid a party split over the treaty issue. At the same time he is trying to draft a constitutional amendment which will be acceptable to President Eisenhower and at the same time satisfy those senators who believe there should be some restraints in the treaty-making field.

Bricker's original amendment doesn't appear to have much chance of approval, particularly since a two-thirds vote of all senators present and voting is required for passage.

Wilson Feels Depression Is Not Imminent

Defense Secretary Has "No Patience" With Fear Trends

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said tonight "there is no reason to fear" that the nation's shift from its Korean War footing to peace will lead to depression.

"I have no patience with the people who seem to think that blood spilling and jobs are synonymous," he declared.

In an address prepared for the 68th annual Lincoln Dinner of the National Republican Club, Wilson said that war and production of guns and war equipment makes "no contribution to real prosperity."

Must Maintain Defense

"Whatever we put into defense we take out of our standard of living," he said. "All the energy, all the money poured into war goods means less effort and fewer resources than can be devoted to civilian goods." .

Wilson said the Communist world's failure to demobilize after World War II had made it essential for this country to "maintain a major defense program"—and it is doing so.

This is the Defense Department's main job, he said. But in "building increasing military strength," care also must be taken, he said, to conserve the nation's economic resources.

"There are those who contend that we cannot do both at the same time," Wilson said. "We refuse to accept this defeatist attitude. We are making progress in achieving both of these objectives."

Wilson said he didn't "go along with the thinking of those who believe that the only way we can keep everybody employed is by loosely spending a tremendous percentage of our resources in production of war goods.

"Some act like they believe that we must have either war or unemployment."

The dinner in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, with 800 advance reservation guests, marked the 100th anniversary of the Republican party.

It also came on Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

Ike Sends Greetings

President Eisenhower sent his "warmest greetings" in a letter, read to the audience by Charles H. Tuttle, club president. Eisenhower wrote:

"In maintaining the vigor of our party the enthusiasm of your members has long played an important role. So long as this enthusiasm endures, the party of Abraham Lincoln is certain to take a vital part in the affairs of our nation."

Messages from New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall also were read.

Can Communist Be Good Scout?

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Is it possible for a Boy Scout to be a good scout and a good Communist, too?

The issue arose today with the disclosure that the new district secretary of the West of England Young Communist League, Paul Garland, is a Rover scout and holder of the Queen's scout badge.

A spokesman for the Boy Scouts' Assn. said he didn't feel Garland could fulfill both roles, explaining:

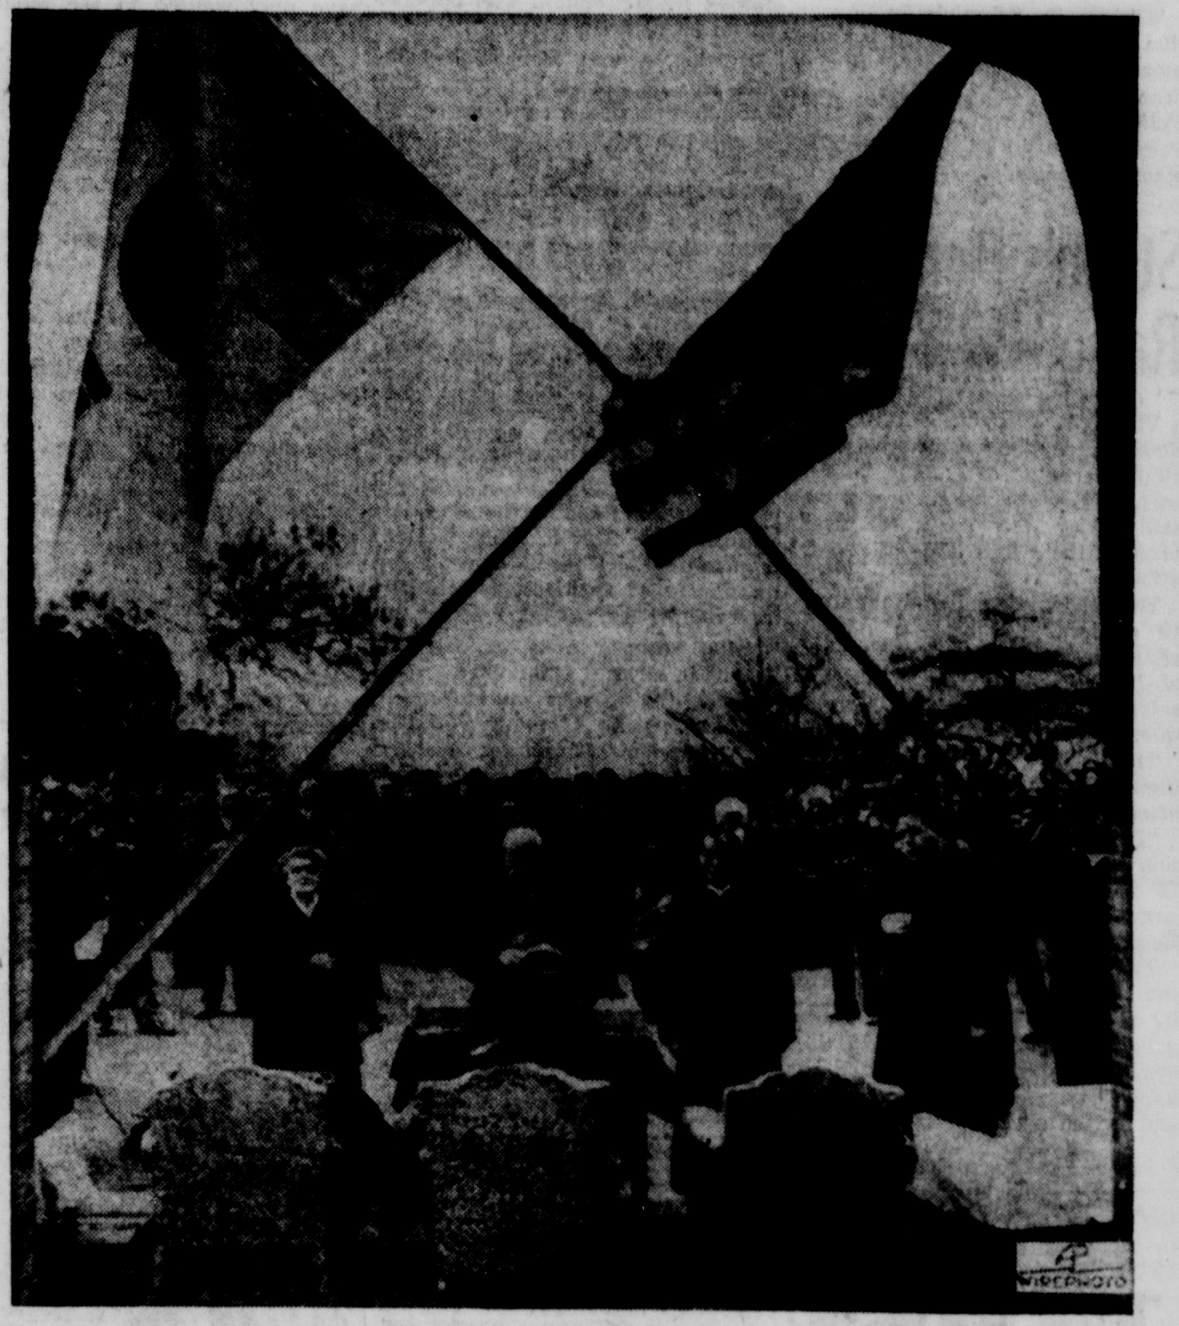
"Although the Boy Scout movement is non-political, the question boils down to this: Can a member faithfully fulfill his scout's promise to 'do his duty to God and the Queen?'

"We contend it is not possible to be a Communist and obey that promise."

Garland, who is 19 and works as a toolmaker in a Bristol aircraft company, said he didn't see anything paradoxical in his outside activities.

"I never mix communism with my scout activities," said Garland, "And always keep clear of political debates in the scouts."

A Bristol scout leader said later Garland would be dropped from the scout roll. The official said the young Communist had not been attending scout meetings for several months.



Rhee Gives Thanks

President Syngman Rhee of South Korea leads his people in giving thanks to Americans who contributed 2,600,000 pounds of clothing, foodstuffs and medical supplies in a drive conducted by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Rhee yesterday offered to send a full division of troops from South Korea to fight against Communists in Indochina asking Gen. James A. Van Fleet's help to organize resistence.

Farouk Holdings Are Put On Auction Block

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 12 (AP)—The fabulous trinkets of a luxury-loving ex-monarch went on the auction block in this ancient Nile city today.

The sharp crack of the auctioneer's gavel rang out in ex-King Farouk's Kubbeh Palace marking the beginning of the biggest rummage sale of royal property the world has ever seen. The beneficiary—over exiled Farouk's distant protests—is Egypt's military-run government which ousted the fat ruler.

Tens of thousands of exotic items, valued at about five million dollars, will go under the gavel before the auction ends.

The sale began with Farouk's fantastic hoard of postage stamps. It will take six days to dispose of that collection alone. A spokesman for H. R. Harmer Ltd. of London which catalogued the stamp collection estimates its value from $300,000 to $400,000.

Included were such choice items as a special collection of the American Confederate states worth $7,500 and a registered letter bearing a pair and a single of rare Romanian stamps worth $4,000 to $5,000.

But hard-headed dealers looking for finds, labelled much of the stamp collection junk.

Commented Jacques Minkus who is buying for Gimbel's Department Store in New York:

"The early part of the collection by Farouk's father shows the care and love of feeling that marks the collector. But Farouk's contribution is just a mixed up accumulation."

U. S. Unemployed Continues Rise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The rise in unemployment continued last week, reports of unemployment compensation claims indicated today, but the increase was smaller than in any of the past four weeks.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security said 364,000 laid off workers filed their initial claims for jobless pay in the week ended Feb. 6. Initial claims are those filed by persons newly out of work.

This figure was 82 per cent more than in the corresponding week a year ago. Weather conditions and other seasonal factors, as well as production cutbacks, contributed to the continuing volume of claims, BES said.

The nationwide total of jobless persons covered by unemployment insurance was 2,128,100. This figure has risen for 10 successive weeks, and now stands at a level higher than in the corresponding week of any postwar year except 1950 when it reached almost 2,400,000.

FHA Measure Is Introduced By Capehart

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP) — A Republican housing program, following through on President Eisenhower's Jan. 25 recommendations, was formally introduced in Congress today.

The legislation would reduce by as much as $1,000 the down payments required for homes bought with mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

It also would allow a stretch-out in repayment periods from the present 20 or 25 years up to 30 years, and give the President broad powers to change interest rates, down payments, and repayment periods on mortgages insured by the FHA and the Veterans Administration.

Congressional comment on the new plan centered on a section which would provide 10 million dollars of federal aid to help states and communities blueprint non-housing public works projects in case the economic situation should require a full-scale public works program.

Two members of the Senate Banking Committee singled out this antidepression device as "good standby legislation" and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said it could be used to provide the federal government with "work sheets of public projects ready to go" if unemployment grows.

Sen. Beall (R-Md), a member of the Banking Committee, said he favored such a standby program so that "we don't try to lock the door after the horse has been stolen."

Sen. Robertson (D-Va) said the 10 million dollar fund should provide "a good, cautious approach."

The housing bill, introduced by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), chairmen of the Senate and House Banking Committees, would not change required down payments on houses costing up to $7,000. On an $8,000 house, the minimum downpayment now is $650 and would be dropped to $400. On a $10,000 house, the present minimum downpayment of $1,250 would drop to $900. And on a $15,000 house, it could go from the present $3,000 to a minimum of $2,150.

"Not Here, Buddy"

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 12 (AP)—An unidentified man showed up at Knox County jail today to fill out his income tax return.

"Not here, buddy," said a deputy sheriff. "This is where you come if you don't fill it out."

Cabbie Proves He's Not Thief, Returns Wallet

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 12 (AP)—Cab driver Emil J. Turgeon was irked when a tipsy mariner called him a thief last night because he charged $3.50 for a meandering trip to the seafarer's tanker.

Later Turgeon found a fat wallet in his cab containing the seaman's papers and $350.

Returning to the tanker, Turgeon handed the sailor the wallet and chided: "Now, who's a thief?"

Democrats Hit Back At GOP's Traitor Brand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Democrats struck up an angry chorus of complaints today that the GOP still is trying to brand them traitors and Communists in spite of President Eisenhower's bid to Republicans to tone down their attacks.

House Democrats took the floor in shifts to cry out against "rat sewer" politics, Republican "plots" and political "immorality."

Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich) came up with a demand that Eisenhower "put some teeth into his words" by firing Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall for his "part in this plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors."

Protesting against what he termed "non-American" attacks on his party, Asst. Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts declared that:

"Accusing another party of treason . . . goes far beyond immorality. Over and above our party politics, we are all loyal Americans."

Rep. Price (D-Ill) jumped in with a charge that Republican "blabbermouths" are using Abraham Lincoln's birthday as "an excuse to leave the impression that Democratic administrations for the past 20 years have been guilty of treason."

Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) roared out that attacks on the personal integrity of persons in either party was "sinking below political partisanship into the rat sewers."

Rep. Sikes (D-Fla) joined in with a conclusion that to some high Republican officials a "security risk" is "any Democrat holding a government job."

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California, took his place today beside Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon in calling for a more moderate approach in Republican criticism of the opposition party. On patriotism and devotion to public duty, Knowland told newsmen, "You can't draw a party line."

The speaker of the House, Rep. Martin (R-Mass), told a reporter "There's a reasonable course that has to be pursued" even though "the field must be kept clear for honest criticism and facts."

Both Knowland and Martin, as much as the President himself, are up against the hard reality that Democratic votes are needed to get much of the administration's legislative program through a closely divided Congress.

New Demands From Molotov Blast Hopes

Wants Soviet To Keep Troops In Austria, Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia refused tonight to free Austria. It blasted the last chance for European settlement at the Big Four conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov knocked out Austrian hopes of independence in the foreseeable future with these new demands:

1. Soviet troops must remain in Austria as long as Germany is divided between East and West.

2. Even a so-called independence treaty for Austria must depend on banning the key Adriatic seaport of Trieste now in American and British hands from use as a Western military base.

The Russian demands, hidden behind the preamble of a resolution piously proposing the completion of an Austrian treaty within three months, appalled the Western ministers.

Gives Dulles "Chill"

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles exclaimed the Molotov proposal "gives me a cold chill." A British spokesman called it an attempt to perpetuate Russian occupation after a mock restoration of Austria's independence.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, today's chairman, asserted the Russians were trying to turn the clock back in Austria to 1945.

Significantly, Dulles then announced he could "not remain indefinitely in Berlin," but must get back to Washington next week to report to President Eisenhower and Congress before attending the Inter-American Conference opening at Caracas, Venezuela on March 1.

On the American's suggestion, the Big Four set up a committee to schedule the order of discussions in the few days remaining and to set a tenative adjournment date.

Only a glimmer of hope remained that some ground might be gained toward settlement of Asian issues, including the breaking of the deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Offer New Guarantee

A diplomatic source disclosed Dulles, Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden tomorrow will offer Russia a new guarantee—a written pledge that Germany, as a member of the proposed European Defense Community, never would be permitted to engage in any aggression against the Soviet Union.

Western diplomats regarded it as a hopeless, but necessary gesture. None expect Molotov to waver from his granite insistence on killing off EDC and breaking up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as conditions for unifying Germany.

Pleas Unavail, Money Stolen

DENVER, Feb. 12 (AP) — Mrs. Jeanette Childs, 25, pleaded with a bandit Thursday night not to take her purse containing $43 because she needed it desperately to feed her children.

But, Mrs. Childs said, he disregarded her pleas and told her:

North, South Join To Put Wreaths On Lincoln Grave

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP) — North and South joined hands today in honoring the memory of Abraham Lincoln.

For the first time in history, a representative of the Sons of the Confederacy placed a wreath at the Lincoln Memorial as part of the ceremony marking the 145th birthday of the nation's 16th President.

"We decided 90 years was long enough to hold a grudge," said the wreath-layer, Col. John Virden.

"It's time old wounds were healed," said Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, 3d, grandson of the general who led the Union forces to victory over the Confederates nearly a century ago.

President Eisenhower lent a hand to the ceremony as he placed a gigantic wreath of red, white and blue carnations at the base of the celebrated Lincoln statue.

Virden was the center of attraction as 1,000 windswept spectators gathered in the cold February morning to witness the ceremony.

Walking a pace behind Grant, Virden went up the long marble stairway and placed his wreath of magnolia and jasmine leaves at the front of the memorial. Nestled among the wreaths were two miniature Confederate flags.

A native of Seminole, Okla., the colonel is a grandson of Hinderson Virden of the 2nd Arkansas Cavalry. Hinderson Virden rose from private to colonel in Jefferson Davis' forces.

Grant extended the invitation to the Sons of the Confederacy in his joint capacity as commander-in-chief of the Sons of Union Veterans and Washington chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion. Explaining why the invitation was accepted, Virden said:

"Lincoln belonged to all the people. He was a good deal more than an Illinois Republican."

Maryland Senate Votes 18-9 To Accept Liquor Tax Raise

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Maryland Senate gave its blessings today to a bill to raise the liquor tax and give the counties one-third of the receipts, but not before the measure was attacked as the "most anomalous thing the liquor interests ever backed."

The full chamber adopted by 18-9 a favorable committee report on the bill, thereby setting it up for final passage early next week.

If Gov. McKeldin vetoes it, as he did an identical measure last year, supporters will have plenty of time to get it back during this session of the Legislature and try to override the veto. They have shown enough strength in both the Senate and House to do it.

The bill would raise the state liquor tax from $1.25 to $1.50 a gallon and turn back 50 cents of this to the county or Baltimore City. It also will wipe out any local taxes on liquor, such as the 50-cent tax enforced by the city and Baltimore County under a special authorization originally scheduled to end Dec. 31, 1955.

Sen. McLaughlin (R-Wash) sparked the attack on the measure today, admitting it "is well on its way to passage and anything I have to say will be in futility."

In other action today the Senate passed and sent to the House measures to allow the sale of some patent medications containing a specified maximum of narcotics without prescriptions, to set up separate accounts for traffic fines paid in magistrate courts and to secure the appearance of Maryland witnesses at trials in other states.

New York, Canada Police Break Market In Babies

MONTREAL, Feb. 12 (AP)—Police announced today the arrest of a Montreal lawyer for questioning in connection with an alleged three million dollar international black market in babies.

Quebec and New York state officials were reported cooperating in a crackdown against the operations of the ring, which authorities said apparently has sold more than 1,000 babies out of the Montreal area in the last 10 years.

The arrested man was identified as Herman Buller.

Buller, 38, was arrested at Montreal's Dorval Airport as he prepared to fly to Israel with his wife and his wife's parents.

Police said information they received led them to believe most of the babies were sold in the United States to childless Jewish couples. Most of the buyers apparently paid from $3,000 to $10,000 for each of the infants, according to this information.

Police said many of the buyers were led to believe that the French-Canadian and other Christian infants were born of parents of the Jewish faith. Ernest Mitler, an assistant New York City district attorney said that several other arrests in connection with the ring's activities will be made in the next few weeks.

The ring was said to have operated by falsifying birth records and apparently involved local lawyers, doctors, nurses, nursing home operators and other social welfare workers. Mitler said some lawyers and doctors apparently were innocent dupes.

Some unwed mothers reportedly were given amounts up to $50 and their confinement expenses paid. Others were said to have had their babies taken away virtually without their consent.

The sharp crack of the auctioneer's gavel rang out in ex-King Farouk's Kubbeh Palace marking the beginning of the biggest rummage sale of royal property the world has ever seen. The beneficiary—over exiled Farouk's distant protests—is Egypt's military-run government which ousted the fat ruler.

Tens of thousands of exotic items, valued at about five million dollars, will go under the gavel before the auction ends.

The sale began with Farouk's fantastic hoard of postage stamps. It will take six days to dispose of that collection alone. A spokesman for H. R. Harmer Ltd. of London which catalogued the stamp collection estimates its value from $300,000 to $400,000.

Included were such choice items as a special collection of the American Confederate states worth $7,500 and a registered letter bearing a pair and a single of rare Romanian stamps worth $4,000 to $5,000.

But hard-headed dealers looking for finds, labelled much of the stamp collection junk.

Commented Jacques Minkus who is buying for Gimbel's Department Store in New York:

"The early part of the collection by Farouk's father shows the care and love of feeling that marks the collector. But Farouk's contribution is just a mixed up accumulation."

U. S. Unemployed Continues Rise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The rise in unemployment continued last week, reports of unemployment compensation claims indicated today, but the increase was smaller than in any of the past four weeks.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security said 364,000 laid off workers filed their initial claims for jobless pay in the week ended Feb. 6. Initial claims are those filed by persons newly out of work.

This figure was 82 per cent more than in the corresponding week a year ago. Weather conditions and other seasonal factors, as well as production cutbacks, contributed to the continuing volume of claims, BES said.

The nationwide total of jobless persons covered by unemployment insurance was 2,128,100. This figure has risen for 10 successive weeks, and now stands at a level higher than in the corresponding week of any postwar year except 1950 when it reached almost 2,400,000.

Maryland Senate Votes 18-9 To Accept Liquor Tax Raise

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Maryland Senate gave its blessings today to a bill to raise the liquor tax and give the counties one-third of the receipts, but not before the measure was attacked as the "most anomalous thing the liquor interests ever backed."

The full chamber adopted by 18-9 a favorable committee report on the bill, thereby setting it up for final passage early next week.

If Gov. McKeldin vetoes it, as he did an identical measure last year, supporters will have plenty of time to get it back during this session of the Legislature and try to override the veto. They have shown enough strength in both the Senate and House to do it.

The bill would raise the state liquor tax from $1.25 to $1.50 a gallon and turn back 50 cents of this to the county or Baltimore City. It also will wipe out any local taxes on liquor, such as the 50-cent tax enforced by the city and Baltimore County under a special authorization originally scheduled to end Dec. 31, 1955.

Sen. McLaughlin (R-Wash) sparked the attack on the measure today, admitting it "is well on its way to passage and anything I have to say will be in futility."

In other action today the Senate passed and sent to the House measures to allow the sale of some patent medications containing a specified maximum of narcotics without prescriptions, to set up separate accounts for traffic fines paid in magistrate courts and to secure the appearance of Maryland witnesses at trials in other states.

FHA Measure Is Introduced By Capehart

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP) — A Republican housing program, following through on President Eisenhower's Jan. 25 recommendations, was formally introduced in Congress today.

The legislation would reduce by as much as $1,000 the down payments required for homes bought with mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

It also would allow a stretch-out in repayment periods from the present 20 or 25 years up to 30 years, and give the President broad powers to change interest rates, down payments, and repayment periods on mortgages insured by the FHA and the Veterans Administration.

Congressional comment on the new plan centered on a section which would provide 10 million dollars of federal aid to help states and communities blueprint non-housing public works projects in case the economic situation should require a full-scale public works program.

Two members of the Senate Banking Committee singled out this antidepression device as "good standby legislation" and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said it could be used to provide the federal government with "work sheets of public projects ready to go" if unemployment grows.

Sen. Beall (R-Md), a member of the Banking Committee, said he favored such a standby program so that "we don't try to lock the door after the horse has been stolen."

Sen. Robertson (D-Va) said the 10 million dollar fund should provide "a good, cautious approach."

The housing bill, introduced by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), chairmen of the Senate and House Banking Committees, would not change required down payments on houses costing up to $7,000. On an $8,000 house, the minimum downpayment now is $650 and would be dropped to $400. On a $10,000 house, the present minimum downpayment of $1,250 would drop to $900. And on a $15,000 house, it could go from the present $3,000 to a minimum of $2,150.

"Not Here, Buddy"

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 12 (AP)—An unidentified man showed up at Knox County jail today to fill out his income tax return.

"Not here, buddy," said a deputy sheriff. "This is where you come if you don't fill it out."

Cabbie Proves He's Not Thief, Returns Wallet

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 12 (AP)—Cab driver Emil J. Turgeon was irked when a tipsy mariner called him a thief last night because he charged $3.50 for a meandering trip to the seafarer's tanker.

Later Turgeon found a fat wallet in his cab containing the seaman's papers and $350.

Returning to the tanker, Turgeon handed the sailor the wallet and chided: "Now, who's a thief?"

Democrats Hit Back At GOP's Traitor Brand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Democrats struck up an angry chorus of complaints today that the GOP still is trying to brand them traitors and Communists in spite of President Eisenhower's bid to Republicans to tone down their attacks.

House Democrats took the floor in shifts to cry out against "rat sewer" politics, Republican "plots" and political "immorality."

Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich) came up with a demand that Eisenhower "put some teeth into his words" by firing Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall for his "part in this plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors."

Protesting against what he termed "non-American" attacks on his party, Asst. Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts declared that:

"Accusing another party of treason . . . goes far beyond immorality. Over and above our party politics, we are all loyal Americans."

Rep. Price (D-Ill) jumped in with a charge that Republican "blabbermouths" are using Abraham Lincoln's birthday as "an excuse to leave the impression that Democratic administrations for the past 20 years have been guilty of treason."

Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) roared out that attacks on the personal integrity of persons in either party was "sinking below political partisanship into the rat sewers."

Rep. Sikes (D-Fla) joined in with a conclusion that to some high Republican officials a "security risk" is "any Democrat holding a government job."

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California, took his place today beside Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon in calling for a more moderate approach in Republican criticism of the opposition party. On patriotism and devotion to public duty, Knowland told newsmen, "You can't draw a party line."

The speaker of the House, Rep. Martin (R-Mass), told a reporter "There's a reasonable course that has to be pursued" even though "the field must be kept clear for honest criticism and facts."

Both Knowland and Martin, as much as the President himself, are up against the hard reality that Democratic votes are needed to get much of the administration's legislative program through a closely divided Congress.

New Demands From Molotov Blast Hopes

Wants Soviet To Keep Troops In Austria, Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia refused tonight to free Austria. It blasted the last chance for European settlement at the Big Four conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov knocked out Austrian hopes of independence in the foreseeable future with these new demands:

1. Soviet troops must remain in Austria as long as Germany is divided between East and West.
2. Even a so-called independence treaty for Austria must depend on banning the key Adriatic seaport of Trieste now in American and British hands from use as a Western military base.

The Russian demands, hidden behind the preamble of a resolution piously proposing the completion of an Austrian treaty within three months, appalled the Western ministers.

Gives Dulles "Chill"

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles exclaimed the Molotov proposal "gives me a cold chill." A British spokesman called it an attempt to perpetuate Russian occupation after a mock restoration of Austria's independence.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, today's chairman, asserted the Russians were trying to turn the clock back in Austria to 1945.

Significantly, Dulles then announced he could "not remain indefinitely in Berlin," but must get back to Washington next week to report to President Eisenhower and Congress before attending the Inter-American Conference opening at Caracas, Venezuela on March 1.

On the American's suggestion, the Big Four set up a committee to schedule the order of discussions in the few days remaining and to set a tenative adjournment date.

Only a glimmer of hope remained that some ground might be gained toward settlement of Asian issues, including the breaking of the deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Offer New Guarantee

A diplomatic source disclosed Dulles, Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden tomorrow will offer Russia a new guarantee—a written pledge that Germany, as a member of the proposed European Defense Community, never would be permitted to engage in any aggression against the Soviet Union.

Western diplomats regarded it as a hopeless, but necessary gesture. None expect Molotov to waver from his granite insistence on killing off EDC and breaking up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as conditions for unifying Germany.

Pleas Unavail, Money Stolen

DENVER, Feb. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Jeanette Childs, 25, pleaded with a bandit Thursday night not to take her purse containing $43 because she needed it desperately to feed her children.

But, Mrs. Childs said, he disregarded her pleas and told her: "Your kids probably ate this afternoon. Mine didn't."

New York, Canada Police Break Market In Babies

MONTREAL, Feb. 12 (AP)—Police announced today the arrest of a Montreal lawyer for questioning in connection with an alleged three million dollar international black market in babies.

Quebec and New York state officials were reported cooperating in a crackdown against the operations of the ring, which authorities said apparently has sold more than 1,000 babies out of the Montreal area in the last 10 years.

The arrested man was identified as Herman Buller.

Buller, 38, was arrested at Montreal's Dorval Airport as he prepared to fly to Israel with his wife and his wife's parents.

Police said information they received led them to believe most of the babies were sold in the United States to childless Jewish couples. Most of the buyers apparently paid from $3,000 to $10,000 for each of the infants, according to this information.

Police said many of the buyers were led to believe that the French-Canadian and other Christian infants were born of parents of the Jewish faith. Ernest Mitler, an assistant New York City district attorney said that several other arrests in connection with the ring's activities will be made in the next few weeks.

The ring was said to have operated by falsifying birth records and apparently involved local lawyers, doctors, nurses, nursing home operators and other social welfare workers. Mitler said some lawyers and doctors apparently were innocent dupes.

Some unwed mothers reportedly were given amounts up to $50 and their confinement expenses paid. Others were said to have had their babies taken away virtually without their consent.

MPA Seeks "Open Meeting" Bill

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—A spokesman for the Eisenhower administration told Maryland newsmen today it has made great strides in its first year to increase the flow of information to citizens.

Harlan L. P. Wendell, special assistant to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, declared:

"A primary governmental responsibility to the individual is freedom of information. Continuous and candid explanation of policies to the people and easy access to public officials is fundamental to the success of a democracy."

Wendell addressed a joint luncheon session of the Maryland Press Association and the Chesapeake Association of the Associated Press, both having their annual meetings.

He reported the President, vice-president and cabinet officers held 170 press conferences in the first year of the Eisenhower administration. They made 400 speeches.

"They have been making superhuman efforts to bring information about their activities and trusteeship of the public business directly to the people," Wendell said.

At an earlier session, the Maryland Press Association had gone on record as "endorsing the principle of and recommending passage" of a bill now before the Maryland General Assembly to require county commissioners, city councils and other boards and commissions throughout the state to meet in open session.

It is expected to come up for final passage in the Senate next week. The press association for several years has been urging some kind of an "open meetings" law.

Norman W. Harrington, editor-manager of the Easton Star-Democrat and president of the association, had warned his group to "be alert to attempts at news suppression and moves toward secrecy in the conduct of the public's affairs.

Harrington was re-elected president of the association.

Edwin P. Young, city editor of the Baltimore Sun, was named vice-president for daily papers, and Charles Gerwig, representing the Ellicott City Times, was elected vice-president for weeklies.

Miss Gertrude Poe of the Laurel News Leader and George Delaplaine of the Frederick News and Post, were reelected secretary and treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were:

C. Neill Baylor of the Hagerstown Herald-Mail, John Coffman of the Takoma Park Journal, J. Stephen Becker of the Baltimore News-Post, Eugene T. Gunning of the Cumberland Times, Edward Hall of the Calvert Independent at Prince Frederick, William Kerbin Jr. of the Democratic Messenger at Snow Hill, Oscar Morris of the Salisbury Times, Richard Worthington of the Bel Air Aegis, Dan Tabler of the Queen Annes Record Observer at Centreville, and R. Hammond Elliott of the Annapolis Capital.

Nixon Backs Ike Stand On Speeches

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon arrived by plane today for a brief visit with his parents and declared he favors omitting "name-calling adjectives" from political speeches.

He told newsmen at the airport that he agrees with sentiment expressed by President Eisenhower and others in Washington that Republicans and Democrats settle down to an honest and traditional political war and added:

"I only interpret the position of the President. He believes people in his official family should avoid the extreme statements which emanate from both sides in political campaigns."

Escaped Maryland Convict Captured

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP) — Otis Johnson, 23-year-old Negro convict, went back to the Maryland Penitentiary today after 36 hours of stolen freedom.

He escaped Wednesday morning by hiding under a truckload of mattresses leaving the prison mattress factory. He was captured last night.

Pat Kennedy, Actor Engaged

BOSTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A source close to the family disclosed today Miss Patricia Kennedy, 26-year-old daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former U. S. ambassador to England, has become engaged to film actor Peter Lawford, 29, of Los Angeles.

Lawford is the son of the late Lt. Gen. Sir Sidney Lawford and Lady Lawford of London.

The formal announcement is expected to be made Sunday. The wedding is set for the week after Easter but no definite date has been arranged.

It will be the second British marriage for an offspring of the wealthy Kennedy. His late daughter, Kathleen, was the wife of Britain's Lord Hartington.

Last summer Patricia's brother, U. S. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) considered one of the country's most eligible bachelors, married Jacqueline Bouvier in a brilliant Newport, R. I., ceremony.

Miss Kennedy was graduated from Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa. Since then she has been employed at NBC television in New York and with Family Theatre in Hollywood.

Lawford is a London native who came to the United States in 1937 and went to Hollywood in 1941.

Young's Railroad Holdings Revealed

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP) — The holdings of Robert R. Young and his associate Allan P. Kirby of New York Central railroad stock were announced tonight for the first time. The total: 200,200 shares.

An announcement from Alleghany Corp., the holding company of which Young is board chairman said that "in addition to these 200,200 shares owned personally, the Alleghany Corp. holds an undisclosed number of shares."

Three Persons Die In Highway Crash

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Three charges of manslaughter and one of reckless driving were lodged today against Harry W. Ruhl, Baltimore truck driver involved in an accident that killed three last night.

Those killed were Mrs. Morgan Tuck, 19, wife of a soldier now in Korea; Miss Virginia Crenshaw, 20, sister of Mrs. Tuck, and Cpl. Ernest C. Ison Jr., 21, of Essex, Md.,, stationed at Ft. Meade.

60-Year-Old Woman Is Held As Communist

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—A 60-year-old mother of two adult sons has been arrested and charged with violating immigration laws by being active in behalf of the Communist party after entry into this country.

John L. Murff, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service said the woman, Mrs. Matrona Gritzuk Karpuk, came to the United States from Russia in 1912.

Corn Is Named Chesapeake Press Group President

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Herbert F. Corn, managing editor of the Washington Star, today was elected president of the Chesapeake Association of the Associated Press at its annual meeting today.

Corn had served a year as vice-president of the organization, which is made up of member Associated Press newspapers in Maryland, the District of Columbia, Delaware and nearby Pennsylvania.

He succeeds former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr., president of the Herald-Mail Co. at Hagerstown.

William F. Schmick Jr., executive vice-president of the Baltimore Sunpapers, was elected vice-president to succeed Corn. Max Fullerton, chief of the Associated Press bureau in Baltimore, was re-elected secretary.

Stalin's Death Raised POW Hope

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sixteen Italian war prisoners en route home after long confinement in Soviet slave labor camps—said today the death of Stalin brought their first hope of repatriation.

The group—6 enlisted men and 10 officers, including a military chaplain—brought to 34 the number of Italian World War II prisoners released by the Russians since last month.

The former captives told newsmen their hardships had decreased after Stalin's death.

"It was then that our repatriation hopes, grown dim during the 12 years in Russian camps, became alive again," said Enrico Reginato of Trevisio.

The men were told they were the last Italian prisoners to be held by the Russians. But the Italian government claims the Russians are still holding hundreds and perhaps thousands in forced labor and prison camps.

Gordon Resigns As Director Of Farm Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Politics and differences of views on future farm policies were credited today with bringing about a big shakeup in the Agriculture Department's multi-billion farm price support and crop control agency—the Commodity Stabilization Service.

Secretary Benson formally announced the resignation of Howard H. Gordon, a North Carolinian generally regarded by Republican critics as a Democrat, as administrator of the service. A New York state Republican farm leader, James A. McConnell, was appointed to succeed Gordon.

Gordon, whom Benson brought into the department a year ago, has not disclosed his politics except to say that he has voted "one way in local elections and another in national elections."

Neither Benson nor Gordon announced the reasons for the change, but officials who asked not to be named, said the shakeup followed a "showdown" conference between representatives of the Republican National Committee and Benson last week.

The GOP leaders were said to have complained bitterly that Gordon had been slow to replace Democrats with Republicans on state Commodity Stabilization Service committees. These committees, made up of farmers, which help administer federal farm programs.

The conference is expected to result in several other changes, including the resignation of Marcus B. Braswell as associate Stabilization Service administrator. Braswell is a holdover from the Truman administration.

Giant Swede Is Held After Melee At Soviet Embassy

BERLIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—A giant Swede was under Communist arrest today after his "peace mission" to Foreign Minister Molotov erupted in a wild battle at the Soviet Embassy. The Swede was beaten into submission after reportedly bowling over five Red policemen.

The Swedish consulate said it was trying to help Albert Hilding Kinberg, 36, a 7-foot exporter of bread and chocolate from Stockholm, but thus far had not been able to see him.

In Stockholm the prisoner's German-born mother, Mrs. Margot Rodatz-Kinberg, said she was certain her son did not plan any attempt on Molotov's life. "He could have only wanted to see Molotov to ask for peace," she said.

The incident occurred on Jan. 26, the day after the Big Four foreign ministers' conference opened in Berlin. The ministers were meeting at the Allied Control Authority Building in the American sector.

Kinberg apparently got no farther than the reception room of the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin. One published account said the embassy guards did not intervene but called East German police. Kinberg knocked down three with a chair, then bowled over two others in a 12-man detail called in as additional reinforcements.

Technical Point Delays Nomination Of Justice Warren

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The nomination of former Gov. Earl Warren of California to be Chief Justice of the United States began its second month before the Senate Judiciary Committee today apparently hung up on a technicality of procedure.

Some members of the committee are reported insisting—for customary procedure sake only—on having an FBI report on the man President Eisenhower appointed to the highest judicial post last fall and then formally nominated Jan. 11.

Other senators and the Justice Department are said to feel an FBI report is not and should not be required in the case of a chief justice as it is in committee consideration of other judicial nominations.

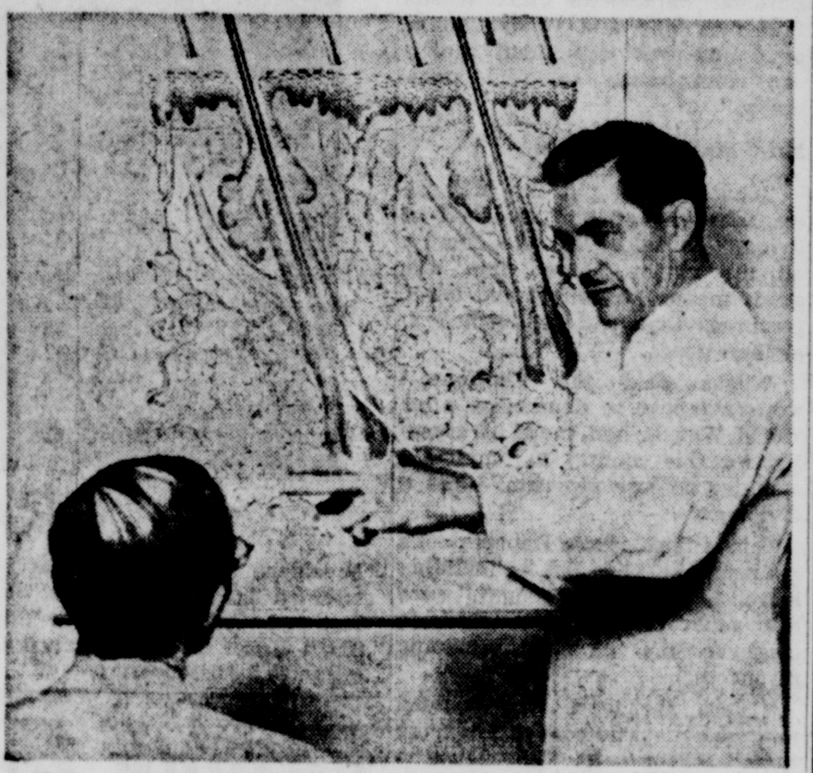
WHY YOU GO BALD DEMONSTRATED BY HAIR EXPERT HERE TOMORROW



One of the most common causes of hair loss, the blocked follicle, is explained to a balding man by trichologist G. S. Bishop. Bishop's organization is sending a specialist here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

Where you're growing fuzz you can usually grow real hair, trichologist says . . .

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 12.—New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair — and preventing baldness—will be demonstrated in Cumberland, Md., this Sunday, February 14.

Trichologist C. O. Brown, of the famous Bishop Hair Experts organization, will be in charge. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Examine You Free

In making the announcement at the home office of Bishop Hair Experts, director G. S. Bishop said:

"I want to make it clear that you incur no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

"Your only obligation is to yourself — to ease your mind of worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching, or other scalp disorders, by learning how to take care of your hair. If your case is beyond the scope of Bishop home treatment, Mr. Brown will tell you so. But less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'hopeless'."

Offers No Cure-All

His method of home treatment, Bishop said, should not be confused with "mail order courses."

"We always make a personal examination before suggesting treatment," he said. "There is no cure-all for every scalp disorder. Each of the 18 disorders that cause most baldness requires a special treatment."

Bishop says that sometimes your treatment must be changed after a few weeks to get best results. "For this reason, you mail regular reports of your hair progress to the nearest Bishop office.

"Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Bishop trichologist at regular intervals."

Satisfy 90%

Does Bishop grow hair? Best evidence that he does is that his organization expanded quickly from one office to 15 affiliated offices in North America: Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Miami, Tampa, Atlanta, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, San Francisco, Montreal, Mexico City. And in addition to these permanent offices, their staff trichologists regularly do extension work in many other cities.

"Our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim to do," declares Bishop. "We satisfy more than 90 per cent of our clients.

"But overcoming the average man's initial skepticism is really hard. He's usually quite desperate — and definitely baldish — by the time he nerves himself to consult a Bishop trichologist. All the time he's losing hair, he justifies his neglect with one of the old superstitions about hair: That baldness is hereditary; that men naturally lose hair as they get along in years; that nothing can be done to stop hair loss.

"What's worse, all the time he's losing hair, he keeps right on with the bad habits of hair care that cause him to lose hair.

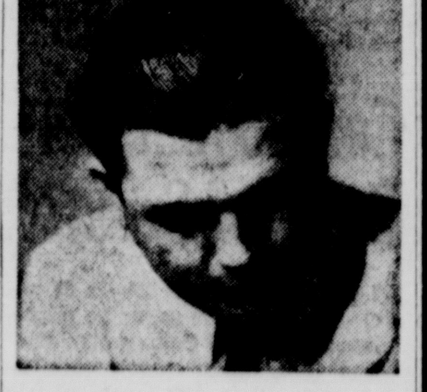
BELOW: Floyd after treatment, April 30, 1951.



Guarantee Satisfaction

"To overcome the average man's skepticism, we now offer a 30-DAY GUARANTEE," Bishop says. "You must be satisfied with results by the end of 30 days or your money will be refunded."

If you're worried about your hair, call the Fort Cumberland Hotel tomorrow for Mr. Brown's suite number, then come see him between 2 and 9 p.m. for a free examination.

You don't need an appointment. You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. —Adv.

MPA Seeks "Open Meeting" Bill

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—A spokesman for the Eisenhower administration told Maryland newsmen today it has made great strides in its first year to increase the flow of information to citizens.

Harlan L. P. Wendell, special assistant to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, declared:

"A primary governmental responsibility to the individual is freedom of information. Continuous and candid explanation of policies to the people and easy access to public officials is fundamental to the success of a democracy."

Wendell addressed a joint luncheon session of the Maryland Press Association and the Chesapeake Association of the Associated Press, both having their annual meetings.

He reported the President, vice-president and cabinet officers held 170 press conferences in the first year of the Eisenhower administration. They made 400 speeches.

"They have been making superhuman efforts to bring information about their activities and trusteeship of the public business directly to the people," Wendell said.

At an earlier session, the Maryland Press Association had gone on record as "endorsing the principle of and recommending passage" of a bill now before the Maryland General Assembly to require county commissioners, city councils and other boards and commissions throughout the state to meet in open session.

It is expected to come up for final passage in the Senate next week. The press association for several years has been urging some kind of an "open meetings" law.

Norman W. Harrington, editor-manager of the Easton Star-Democrat and president of the association, had warned his group to "be alert to attempts at news suppression and moves toward secrecy in the conduct of the public's affairs.

Harrington was re-elected president of the association.

Edwin P. Young, city editor of the Baltimore Sun, was named vice-president for daily papers, and Charles Gerwig, representing the Ellicott City Times, was elected vice-president for weeklies.

Miss Gertrude Poe of the Laurel News Leader and George Delaplaine of the Frederick News and Post, were reelected secretary and treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were:

C. Neill Baylor of the Hagerstown Herald-Mail, John Coffman of the Takoma Park Journal, J. Stephen Becker of the Baltimore News-Post, Eugene T. Gunning of the Cumberland Times, Edward Hall of the Calvert Independent at Prince Frederick, William Kerbin Jr. of the Democratic Messenger at Snow Hill, Oscar Morris of the Salisbury Times, Richard Worthington of the Bel Air Aegis, Dan Tabler of the Queen Annes Record Observer at Centreville, and R. Hammond Elliott of the Annapolis Capital.

Nixon Backs Ike Stand On Speeches

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon arrived by plane today for a brief visit with his parents and declared he favors omitting "name-calling adjectives" from political speeches.

He told newsmen at the airport that he agrees with sentiment expressed by President Eisenhower and others in Washington that Republicans and Democrats settle down to an honest and traditional political war and added:

"I only interpret the position of the President. He believes people in his official family should avoid the extreme statements which emanate from both sides in political campaigns."

Escaped Maryland Convict Captured

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP) — Otis Johnson, 23-year-old Negro convict, went back to the Maryland Penitentiary today after 36 hours of stolen freedom.

He escaped Wednesday morning by hiding under a truckload of mattresses leaving the prison mattress factory. He was captured last night.

Pat Kennedy, Actor Engaged

BOSTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—A source close to the family disclosed today Miss Patricia Kennedy, 26-year-old daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former U. S. ambassador to England, has become engaged to film actor Peter Lawford, 29, of Los Angeles.

Lawford is the son of the late Lt. Gen. Sir Sidney Lawford and Lady Lawford of London.

The formal announcement is expected to be made Sunday. The wedding is set for the week after Easter but no definite date has been arranged.

It will be the second British marriage for an offspring of the wealthy Kennedy. His late daughter, Kathleen, was the wife of Britain's Lord Hartington.

Last summer Patricia's brother, U. S. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) considered one of the country's most eligible bachelors, married Jacqueline Bouvier in a brilliant Newport, R. I., ceremony.

Miss Kennedy was graduated from Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa. Since then she has been employed at NBC television in New York and with Family Theatre in Hollywood.

Lawford is a London native who came to the United States in 1937 and went to Hollywood in 1941.

Young's Railroad Holdings Revealed

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP) — The holdings of Robert R. Young and his associate Allan P. Kirby of New York Central railroad stock were announced tonight for the first time. The total: 200,200 shares.

An announcement from Alleghany Corp., the holding company of which Young is board chairman said that "in addition to these 200,200 shares owned personally, the Alleghany Corp. holds an undisclosed number of shares."

Three Persons Die In Highway Crash

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Three charges of manslaughter and one of reckless driving were lodged today against Harry W. Ruhl, Baltimore truck driver involved in an accident that killed three last night.

Those killed were Mrs. Morgan Tuck, 19, wife of a soldier now in Korea; Miss Virginia Crenshaw, 20, sister of Mrs. Tuck, and Cpl. Ernest C. Ison Jr., 21, of Essex, Md., stationed at Ft. Meade.

60-Year-Old Woman Is Held As Communist

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—A 60-year-old mother of two adult sons has been arrested and charged with violating immigration laws by being active in behalf of the Communist party after entry into this country.

John L. Murff, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service said the woman, Mrs. Matrona Gritzuk Karpuk, came to the United States from Russia in 1912.

Corn Is Named Chesapeake Press Group President

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Herbert F. Corn, managing editor of the Washington Star, today was elected president of the Chesapeake Association of the Associated Press at its annual meeting today.

Corn had served a year as vice-president of the organization, which is made up of member Associated Press newspapers in Maryland, the District of Columbia, Delaware and nearby Pennsylvania.

He succeeds former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr., president of the Herald-Mail Co. at Hagerstown.

William F. Schmick Jr., executive vice-president of the Baltimore Sunpapers, was elected vice-president to succeed Corn. Max Fullerton, chief of the Associated Press bureau in Baltimore, was re-elected secretary.

Stalin's Death Raised POW Hope

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sixteen Italian war prisoners en route home after long confinement in Soviet slave labor camps—said today the death of Stalin brought their first hope of repatriation.

The group—6 enlisted men and 10 officers, including a military chaplain—brought to 34 the number of Italian World War II prisoners released by the Russians since last month.

The former captives told newsmen their hardships had decreased after Stalin's death.

"It was then that our repatriation hopes, grown dim during the 12 years in Russian camps, became alive again," said Enrico Reginato of Trevisio.

The men were told they were the last Italian prisoners to be held by the Russians. But the Italian government claims the Russians are still holding hundreds and perhaps thousands in forced labor and prison camps.

Gordon Resigns As Director Of Farm Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Politics and differences of views on future farm policies were credited today with bringing about a big shakeup in the Agriculture Department's multi-billion farm price support and crop control agency—the Commodity Stabilization Service.

Secretary Benson formally announced the resignation of Howard H. Gordon, a North Carolinian generally regarded by Republican critics as a Democrat, as administrator of the service. A New York state Republican farm leader, James A. McConnell, was appointed to succeed Gordon.

Gordon, whom Benson brought into the department a year ago, has not disclosed his politics except to say that he has voted "one way in local elections and another in national elections."

Neither Benson nor Gordon announced the reasons for the change, but officials who asked not to be named, said the shakeup followed a "showdown" conference between representatives of the Republican National Committee and Benson last week.

The GOP leaders were said to have complained bitterly that Gordon had been slow to replace Democrats with Republicans on state Commodity Stabilization Service committees. These committees, made up of farmers, which help administer federal farm programs.

The conference is expected to result in several other changes, including the resignation of Marcus B. Braswell as associate Stabilization Service administrator. Braswell is a holdover from the Truman administration.

Giant Swede Is Held After Melee At Soviet Embassy

BERLIN, Feb. 12 (AP)—A giant Swede was under Communist arrest today after his "peace mission" to Foreign Minister Molotov erupted in a wild battle at the Soviet Embassy. The Swede was beaten into submission after reportedly bowling over five Red policemen.

The Swedish consulate said it was trying to help Albert Hilding Kinberg, 36, a 7-foot exporter of bread and chocolate from Stockholm, but thus far had not been able to see him.

In Stockholm the prisoner's German-born mother, Mrs. Margot Rodatz-Kinberg, said she was certain her son did not plan any attempt on Molotov's life. "He could have only wanted to see Molotov to ask for peace," she said.

The incident occurred on Jan. 26, the day after the Big Four foreign ministers' conference opened in Berlin. The ministers were meeting at the Allied Control Authority Building in the American sector.

Kinberg apparently got no farther than the reception room of the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin. One published account said the embassy guards did not intervene but called East German police. Kinberg knocked down three with a chair, then bowled over two others in a 12-man detail called in as additional reinforcements.

Technical Point Delays Nomination Of Justice Warren

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The nomination of former Gov. Earl Warren of California to be Chief Justice of the United States began its second month before the Senate Judiciary Committee today apparently hung up on a technicality of procedure.

Some members of the committee are reported insisting—for customary procedure sake only—on having an FBI report on the man President Eisenhower appointed to the highest judicial post last fall and then formally nominated Jan. 11.

Other senators and the Justice Department are said to feel an FBI report is not and should not be required in the case of a chief justice as it is in committee consideration of other judicial nominations.

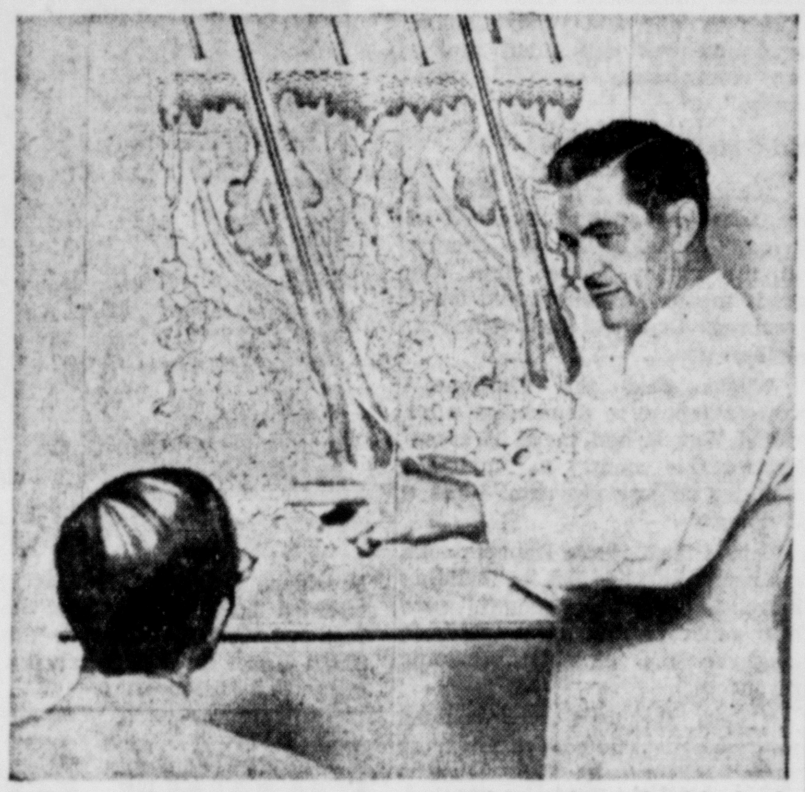
WHY YOU GO BALD DEMONSTRATED BY HAIR EXPERT HERE TOMORROW



One of the most common causes of hair loss, the blocked follicle, is explained to a balding man by trichologist G. S. Bishop. Bishop's organization is sending a specialist here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

Where you're growing fuzz you can usually grow real hair, trichologist says . . .

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 12.—New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair — and preventing baldness—will be demonstrated in Cumberland, Md., this Sunday, February 14.

Trichologist C. O. Brown, of the famous Bishop Hair Experts organization, will be in charge. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Examine You Free

In making the announcement at the home office of Bishop Hair Experts, director G. S. Bishop said:

"I want to make it clear that you incur no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

"Your only obligation is to yourself — to ease your mind of worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching, or other scalp disorders, by learning how to take care of your hair. If your case is beyond the scope of Bishop home treatment, Mr. Brown will tell you so. But less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'hopeless'."

Offers No Cure-All

His method of home treatment, Bishop said, should not be confused with "mail order courses."

"We always make a personal examination before suggesting treatment," he said. "There is no cure-all for every scalp disorder. Each of the 18 disorders that cause most baldness requires a special treatment."

Bishop says that sometimes your treatment must be changed after a few weeks to get best results. "For this reason, you mail regular reports of your hair progress to the nearest Bishop office.

"Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Bishop trichologist at regular intervals."

Satisfy 90%

Does Bishop grow hair? Best evidence that he does is that his organization expanded quickly from one office to 15 affiliated offices in North America: Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Miami, Tampa, Atlanta, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, San Francisco, Montreal, Mexico City. And in addition to these permanent offices, their staff trichologists regularly do extension work in many other cities.

"Our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim to do," declares Bishop. "We satisfy more than 90 per cent of our clients.

"But overcoming the average man's initial skepticism is really hard. He's usually quite desperate — and definitely baldish — by the time he nerves himself to consult a Bishop trichologist. All the time he's losing hair, he justifies his neglect with one of the old superstitions about hair: That baldness is hereditary; that men naturally lose hair as they get along in years; that nothing can be done to stop hair loss.

"What's worse, all the time he's losing hair, he keeps right on with the bad habits of hair care that cause him to lose hair.

Guarantee Satisfaction

"To overcome the average man's skepticism, we now offer a 30-DAY GUARANTEE," Bishop says. "You must be satisfied with results by the end of 30 days or your money will be refunded."

If you're worried about your hair, call the Fort Cumberland Hotel tomorrow for Mr. Brown's suite number, then come see him between 2 and 9 p.m. for a free examination.

You don't need an appointment. You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. —Adv.

Local Soldier's Death From Starvation Disclosed

Another Cumberland soldier died in a Korean prison camp from malnutrition, according to a letter received by his parents from the Department of Army.

The victim of Red treatment is Cpl. James R. Hare, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hare, 1 Elizabeth Street.

Hare's parents received notice Thursday from the government that he had died in a Korean POW camp from malnutrition. He was reported missing in action on February 13, 1951 and the government has set April 30, 1953 as the date of his death.

Cpl. Hare was born on January 19, 1932 and is survived by his parents, six brothers and five sisters.

The local soldier enlisted in March 1950 and landed in Korea with the 15th Field Artillery of the Second Army Division in July, 1950. He attended Fort Hill High School prior to his enlistment and completed his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Before enlisting in the Army, he had been a member of the local Marine Reserve company.

Utility Tax Measure 'Used'

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Baltimore's deputy city solicitor today charged a large utility tried to use a General Assembly bill that would cut the city's revenues some $1,200,000 to force withdrawal of the city's opposition to higher rates for the utility.

Edwin Harlan told an emergency meeting of the Baltimore House delegation that a representative of the utility "told us when the bill went in that if we would desist in our opposition to the rate cases before the Public Service Commission, they would do what they could to help us" beat the bill.

He did not identify the company.

The bill in question, introduced by Del. Whitworth (R-Allegany), would have taxes on installations of public utilities paid to the subdivisions in which the installations are located.

They now are paid to the subdivision in which the home offices of the utilities are located. Many of these are in Baltimore, thus a larger take for the city.

The bill would take taxes away from Baltimore and three counties and redistribute them to the 20 others.

Meetings Planned On Taxi Contract

Two meetings are planned this weekend in connection with efforts to negotiate a new contract between Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Astor and Yellow Top taxicab companies.

A company-union meeting is planned today, and the 50 drivers represented by the union are to meet Sunday afternoon, informed sources said.

Lepley Transported To State Penitentiary

Eugene Lepley, 30-year-old local man who was sentenced Thursday afternoon to 10 years in the State Penitentiary, yesterday was transported to the penitentiary in Baltimore by Deputy Sheriffs William J. Chappell and Louis T. Helman.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris sentenced Lepley following his conviction by a jury Tuesday on a charge of assaulting Joseph A. Ryan, Ellerslie with intent to rob him of three raccoons. Lepley had been in the County Jail since November 30.

Three Churches Man Heads Fruit Growers

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—A. Tom Machemer of Three Churches, Hampshire County, W. Va., was elected president of the West Virginia Horticultural Society today as the group wound up the apple section of its 61st annual convention.

Peach and cherry growers meet tomorrow for informal sessions. A total of about 350 persons have registered.

Machemer, former vice president, succeeds Clifford Gordon of Paw Paw, W. Va.

Douglas W. Miller of Berkeley County, was elected vice president, and Carroll R. Miller and Malcolm Brown, who have been secretary and treasurer respectively for the past 20 years, were renamed to those posts.

4-H Tractor Group Will Start Course

Members of the Allegany County Boys 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club will begin a course in tractor maintenance Thursday, February 25, Assistant County Agent Josepn M. Steger said last night.

An organizational meeting was held at the Court House where Steger and some of the boys made tentative plans for the coming program.

The boys will be divided into two groups, one for beginners and the other for advanced youngsters. It is expected that about four sessions will be held, about 10 days apart, so that the program probably will extend until the end of March.

Emmanuel Church Plans Conference

Emmanuel Episcopal Church will start a Parish Alive conference in the parish house at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

In early January a three-day Parishes Alive conference was held at Emmanuel Church for all of the Episcopal churches in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, church rector, said that after that conference last month, some members of the parish here suggested a followup conference to consider the best ways to carry the ideas into effect on the local parish level.

Intruder Chases Paw Paw Woman From Her Home

A Paw Paw, W. Va., housewife last night managed to slip away from an unidentified man who broke down the door of her house and grabbed her as she telephoned for police.

Mrs. Alden Gordon told police she was alone in the house when someone started to break down the back door. Terrified, she rushed to the telephone and told the operator to notify police. Then she ran from the house as the intruder grabbed her. Her assailant also fled.

Police Chief C. R. Roby and Mayor Eldridge [illegible]erns led a search party through the town but had not located M Gordon's assailant late last night. West Virginia State Police broadcast a pickup for the man.

Roby said the only description of the intruder was that he was a Negro.

Stockyard Group Re-elects Directors

Three directors were re-elected for three-year terms at the annual meeting of the stockholders of Cumberland Stockyards, Inc., last night at the LaVale Fire Hall.

The re-elected directors are A. P. Hoffa, Barton; Marshall Porter, Eckhart, and William Shumaker, Rawlings.

After the stockholders' meeting, the directors convened and re-elected all officers, who are Harry J. Barton, Pinto, president; G. R. Stonestreet, Flintstone, vice president; Arthur P. Hoffa, Barton, secretary, and Wilbur Perrin, Flintstone, treasurer. The director also reappointed Charles J. Blue of Springfield, W. Va., as general manager and again named James W. Bishop, this city, office manager.

Prysock Addresses Circle K Club At Potomac State College

KEYSER—Considerable business was transacted at the weekly meeting of Circle K Club, of Potomac State College Wednesday and committees of the club were activated for completion of several projects planned for the present semester.

The speaker of the evening was Ross W. Prysock, representative of the Cumberland Times and News, in Keyser, who was asked to talk on news reporting today and yesterday. In his talk he reviewed the newspaper reporting over a period of years in several communities, and made references to unusual happenings in his field over the years, both serious and humorous.

J. N. Shobe Removed To University Hospital

KEYSER — Joseph Neil Shobe, 33, who suffered a fractured skull, possible brain concussion and other injuries in an automobile accident near Danville on McMullen Highway, January 31, has been removed to University Hospital, Baltimore. He was taken to the Maryland city from the Potomac Valley Hospital in Rogers' Ambulance.

He is still unconscious, having remained unconscious ever since the accident occured. He was accompanied on the trip by Miss Bernice Burns, R. N. The local hospital received a report that the patient made the trip without any apparent trouble. His case will be reviewed and handled by a neurologist.

Delegates to the coming TWUA convention will be nominated and elected at a regular membership meeting of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

Members who cannot attend the night meeting may cast ballots on Thursday from 10 a. m. to noon in the union hall, according to Neil Toey, president.

Prospective candidates must be at the Wednesday night meeting or notify the recording secretary of their intentions to accept nomination.

Halbert Returns For Short Visit

Vincent A. Halbert, former principal of Beall High School in Frostburg, returned to Allegany County Thursday night with his family for a weekend visit with friends here.

Halbert is now principal of the Trenton (N.J.) High School. He was able to spend a long weekend here because his school was closed yesterday for Lincoln's birthday. While here the Halberts lived at 604 Ridgewood Avenue.

Spring Gap 4-H Boys Club Holds Meeting

The Spring Gap 4-H Boys Club met Thursday at the Community Center, laid plans for a "Fun Nite" party at Fort Hill April 2 and decided to give electrical demonstrations as the project for next month's meeting.

Among other plans made was an ice skating party on the C&O Canal if another freeze hits the area. Two new members, James Twigg and John Boyd were accepted for membership bringing the total to 14 in the club.

Plans also are progressing for planting the club's game reserve on Warrior Mountain.

CPL. JAMES R. HARE

Another Cumberland soldier died in a Korean prison camp from malnutrition, according to a letter received by his parents from the Department of Army.

The victim of Red treatment is Cpl. James R. Hare, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hare, 1 Elizabeth Street.

Hare's parents received notice Thursday from the government that he had died in a Korean POW camp from malnutrition. He was reported missing in action on February 13, 1951 and the government has set April 30, 1953 as the date of his death.

Cpl. Hare was born on January 19, 1932 and is survived by his parents, six brothers and five sisters.

The local soldier enlisted in March 1950 and landed in Korea with the 15th Field Artillery of the Second Army Division in July, 1950. He attended Fort Hill High School prior to his enlistment and completed his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Before enlisting in the Army, he had been a member of the local Marine Reserve company.

Utility Tax Measure 'Used'

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Baltimore's deputy city solicitor today charged a large utility tried to use a General Assembly bill that would cut the city's revenues some $1,200,000 to force withdrawal of the city's opposition to higher rates for the utility.

Edwin Harlan told an emergency meeting of the Baltimore House delegation that a representative of the utility "told us when the bill went in that if we would desist in our opposition to the rate cases before the Public Service Commission, they would do what they could to help us" beat the bill.

He did not identify the company.

The bill in question, introduced by Del. Whitworth (R-Allegany), would have taxes on installations of public utilities paid to the subdivisions in which the installations are located.

They now are paid to the subdivision in which the home offices of the utilities are located. Many of these are in Baltimore, thus a larger take for the city.

The bill would take taxes away from Baltimore and three counties and redistribute them to the 20 others.

Meetings Planned On Taxi Contract

Two meetings are planned this weekend in connection with efforts to negotiate a new contract between Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Astor and Yellow Top taxicab companies.

A company-union meeting is planned today, and the 50 drivers represented by the union are to meet Sunday afternoon, informed sources said.

Lepley Transported To State Penitentiary

Eugene Lepley, 30-year-old local man who was sentenced Thursday afternoon to 10 years in the State Penitentiary, yesterday was transported to the penitentiary in Baltimore by Deputy Sheriffs William J. Chappell and Louis T. Helman.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris sentenced Lepley following his conviction by a jury Tuesday on a charge of assaulting Joseph A. Ryan, Ellerslie with intent to rob him of three raccoons. Lepley had been in the County Jail since November 30.

Three Churches Man Heads Fruit Growers

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—A. Tom Machemer of Three Churches, Hampshire County, W. Va., was elected president of the West Virginia Horticultural Society today as the group wound up the apple section of its 61st annual convention.

Peach and cherry growers meet tomorrow for informal sessions. A total of about 350 persons have registered.

Machemer, former vice president, succeeds Clifford Gordon of Paw Paw, W. Va.

Douglas W. Miller of Berkeley County, was elected vice president, and Carroll R. Miller and Malcolm Brown, who have been secretary and treasurer respectively for the past 20 years, were renamed to those posts.

4-H Tractor Group Will Start Course

Members of the Allegany County Boys 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club will begin a course in tractor maintenance Thursday, February 25, Assistant County Agent Josepn M. Steger said last night.

An organizational meeting was held at the Court House where Steger and some of the boys made tentative plans for the coming program.

The boys will be divided into two groups, one for beginners and the other for advanced youngsters. It is expected that about four sessions will be held, about 10 days apart, so that the program probably will extend until the end of March.

Emmanuel Church Plans Conference

Emmanuel Episcopal Church will start a Parish Alive conference in the parish house at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

In early January a three-day Parishes Alive conference was held at Emmanuel Church for all of the Episcopal churches in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, church rector, said that after that conference last month, some members of the parish here suggested a followup conference to consider the best ways to carry the ideas into effect on the local parish level.

Both barley and millet were staple foods in Egypt as early as 6000 B. C.

Intruder Chases Paw Paw Woman From Her Home

A Paw Paw, W. Va., housewife last night managed to slip away from an unidentified man who broke down the door of her house and grabbed her as she telephoned for police.

Mrs. Alden Gordon told police she was alone in the house when someone started to break down the back door. Terrified, she rushed to the telephone and told the operator to notify police. Then she ran from the house as the intruder grabbed her. Her assailant also fled.

Police Chief C. R. Roby and Mayor Eldridge Herns led a search party through the town but had not located Mrs. Gordon's assailant late last night. West Virginia State Police broadcast a pickup for the man.

Roby said the only description of the intruder was that he was a Negro.

Stockyard Group Re-elects Directors

Three directors were re-elected for three-year terms at the annual meeting of the stockholders of Cumberland Stockyards, Inc., last night at the LaVale Fire Hall.

The re-elected directors are A. P. Hoffa, Barton; Marshall Porter, Eckhart, and William Shumaker, Rawlings.

After the stockholders' meeting, the directors convened and re-elected all officers, who are Harry J. Barton, Pinto, president; G. R. Stonestreet, Flintstone, vice president; Arthur P. Hoffa, Barton, secretary, and Wilbur Perrin, Flintstone, treasurer. The director also reappointed Charles J. Blue of Springfield, W. Va., as general manager and again named James W. Bishop, this city, office manager.

Valentine Day

For ages St. Valentine has been regarded as the patron saint of those in love, and the custom of sending valentines containing sweet sentiments has not lessened in the hustle and bustle of life in these strenuous times. It is estimated that 300,000,000 valentines were mailed this year.

Present-day valentines are quaint and whimsical, sweet and funny, but sweetheart cards are still in the greatest demand as they were in the days when Roman youths and maidens drew names from an urn set up in a public square to see who would be their "blind date" for the coming year.

There are several legends concerning the origin of Valentine Day. Some say St. Valentine—patron of love—was a young Roman priest, who was put to death for performing secret marriages in defiance of an edict from Emperor Claudius. Others claim the patron saint was Valentine Valentia, a monk who wrote letters for illiterate people of his village, often decorating them with artistic designs.

But perhaps the most popular theory is that St. Valentine was a young Roman priest who was beheaded February 14, 270 A.D., for refusing to renounce Christianity. While in prison he is supposed to have written a farewell message to his new friend, the jailer's blind daughter, signing it "From your Valentine."

Prior to 1840 all valentines dispatched in this country were homemade. About the turn of the century valentines reached the peak of elaborateness. Huge affairs concocted of lace and celluloid, in layers upon ornate layers to the depth of six or eight inches, were considered the perfect love messages.

Tank Water Wings

There was one point in World War II when the Army owned nearly as many vessels of various types and descriptions as the Navy. The bulk of the tonnage was represented by huge troop transports, which were converted peace-time passenger liners. But the Army's navy also consisted of a great many tugs, barges and utility craft.

Time and the Unification Act of 1947 did away with much of the Army's floating property. The Navy, for example, now runs the whole port security program, which reduced the Army's armada by hundreds of tugs and net tenders. But every now and then the Army, because of its peculiar mission, reverts to the amphibious.

Such a switchback is the new "water wings" attachment which makes it possible for 48-ton tanks to ford streams and rivers, and presumably amble ashore from tank landing ships. A foam plastic is shaped in two sections and surrounds the tank in such manner that it provides both buoyancy and the vestige of a hull.

Pictures released by the Army leave no doubt that the temporarily amphibious tank would be a potent weapon on semi-liquid battlefronts. Under way, the tank presents practically no silhouette and little or nothing to shoot at. It can fire its 90 mm gun and machine guns while under way.

It appears the Army has done a good job of extending the tank's usefulness. It appears, too—by implication—that the Army doesn't consider the atom bomb or the atom cannon absolute weapons as yet.

Coaching Hazards

Backs and tackles are not, it seems, the only casualties of intercollegiate football. The coaching profession, like other high-speed occupations, has developed its own occupational hazards. Thus Mr. Leahy, the eminently successful coach of Notre Dame, immune though he may have been to charley horse, was nevertheless as vulnerable to tension as any executive vice president.

At 45, unable to endure the stress of modern competition, Mr. Leahy retires. He will be succeeded by Mr. Brennan, a young man himself only a few years away from the business end of a line buck. It's impossible to predict, of course, whether the new head coach will be able to duplicate his predecessor's astonishing record of the gridiron, but at 25 he ought to be more durable.

This clinical aspect of coaching rather mystifies old-timers who thought the perils of football were braved solely by large young men wearing numbers. It prompts a question almost as old as football; What's happening to sports? There was the collateral business of a group of American boys going off to play tennis with some young amateurs in Australia. It wasn't quite necessary to dispatch a gunboat to Sydney, but the tournament did threaten to become an international incident.

Happily, football is not involved in international complications. But that's about the only hazard missing. A long time ago there was a rather common notion in the United States that football was a game, that it was to be played for fun, and that only the alumni required medical or psychiatric treatment at the end of a losing season. But that was a long time ago.

Cleo Was No Beauty

Cleopatra was no outstanding beauty, announces the National Geographic Society. She had a powerful personality, the society reports, and could talk a blue streak. She was "persuasive, adept at flattery, at times eloquent."

As looks go, she wasn't so hot, judging by a recently discovered piece of sculpture which a French scientist says is an authentic portrait. The statue has a long nose, a mouth remarkably small for so gabby a gal, and great big eyes. But she was "probably less comely," says the Geographic, than Marc Anthony's wife Octavia.

But Marc fell hard for Cleo. Well, looks aren't everything. A girl who isn't physically repulsive, knows her own mind, and has the knack of seeming friendly and understanding doesn't need to fear competition from inarticulate beauties. But how does the National Geographic Society know Cleopatra wasn't beautiful, too?

Standards vary. In certain Moslem countries women with the most avoirdupois are considered the most beautiful. One need only visit an art gallery to realize that tastes vary with time and geography.

Cleopatra had a long, "Roman" nose which Antony and Caesar may have thought beautiful. Big soulful eyes and a tiny rosebud mouth have often been considered attributes of beauty. She used plenty of makeup, too, and didn't dress too warmly. In her day, she may have been considered a knockout.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Scattered Plaques In The Spinal Cord

Multiple sclerosis is an unsolved neurological disease that was relatively rare in the United States 25 years ago. Since then it has crossed the Atlantic and today, in this country alone, there are an estimated 100,000 cases.

The disease has a tendency to come and go; and since months or years may elapse between bouts, many sufferers are not too severely incapacitated. The periods of relative comfort pose a difficulty in treatment, however, because no one knows whether improvement has occurred spontaneously or is the result of medication.

What is multiple sclerosis? "Sclerosis" refers to the basic lesion or scarlike plaque anywhere in the brain or spinal cord; and since more than one is the rule, the designation "multiple" is apropos. Symptoms are noted only when plaques are developing. As a rule, 12 to 72 hours are required to create a maximum disturbance. This is followed by a period of one to six weeks when distress remains at a standstill.

The sclerotic regions heal gradually so that within three months, symptoms subside. These lesions usually are near blood vessels and represent areas of disturbed circulation. They vary in size and the severity of the attack and the nature of the discomfort depend upon their location and how many are present. The most common symptoms are weakness of a limb, double vision, transient blurring or blindness, and odd sensations or irritations of the skin. Later manifestations include tremor of the hands, difficulty in walking, bladder disturbances, and flickering eyelids.

One man, for example, had walked three miles when his left leg gave out; the muscles were so weak he had to be carried home. In another instance, the initial abnormality produced numbness along the side of the face, which was described as a sensation of cobwebs. Another victim experienced temporary blindness and weakness in one foot. These cases demonstrate the bizarre nature of the manifestations, which means that diagnosis rarely can be made on the basis of a single attack.

Modern treatment is geared toward prevention of periodic recurrences through following the rules of good health; ample sleep, good food, and the avoidance of strain. Colds and other infections must be minimized by staying away from those who are ill. Injuries, overexertion, chilling, and emotional upsets are hazardous from the same viewpoint. The disease may flare up during pregnancy, hence women with multiple sclerosis are advised to avoid this state if possible. When symptoms appear, heat and massage are beneficial as well as drugs such as myanesin to relieve muscular stiffness and spasticity. Cortisone or ACTH is of value now and then when new lesions are forming. Pyromen is being investigated because of the encouraging reports on a small series of cases.

STOMACH WORM

J. L. writes: My mother complains of excessive stomach motion and insists she has a worm which becomes active when she eats. The doctors she has seen cannot convince her otherwise.

REPLY

This is a nervous sensation and when the family physician cannot convince the sufferer of the true nature of the condition, it may be necessary to call in a psychiatrist to do the de-worming. This type of complaint was more common 100 years ago when individuals were convinced that certain internal sensations were due to frogs, toads, worms, and bugs. Nowadays we use the figurative term, "butterflies in the stomach" to denote a jittery state.

IN-LAW'S TONGUE

Mrs. T. writes: My mother-in-law has the brightest red tongue I ever saw. Do you think this indicates an illness?

REPLY

Anemia, inflammation, and vitamin deficiencies are the most common causes of red tongue. Other origins include sucking on hard red candies or medicated disks and overexertion of the organ. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on inflamed and burning tongue.

GIVES UP CIGARS

C. D. writes: As a starter toward quitting smoking I destroyed two expensive cigars. I have been feeling weak since then and wonder if weakness results from giving up the habit.

REPLY

If you honestly want to quit, stop looking for excuses. However, the mind plays strange tricks on the body when a person is attempting to eliminate old habits.

DIFFERENT GERMS

Mrs. Y. writes: If a young person is unusually susceptible to colds, would this indicate a tubercular tendency?

REPLY

No. Susceptibility to the common cold virus does not mean that the individual is susceptible to the tubercular bacillus.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Segregation Issue And California Politics Behind Opposition To Warren; Sen. Burke Quotes Fitting Lincoln Lore; Dan Reed Throttles Tax Debate.

WASHINGTON — Inside reason for the request for an FBI report on ex-Gov. Earl Warren of California before he is confirmed as Chief Justice is complaints inspired by the ex-Attorney General of California, Fred Howser, and opposition by Sen. Jim Eastland of Mississippi, who is afraid Warren will vote for ending segregation in schools below the Mason-Dixon Line.

All of this is why Senate Judiciary Chairman "Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota has bluntly notified the Justice Department that his committee will hold up Warren's confirmation until it gets a full FBI report on him.

Meanwhile, Langer has sent his own investigators to the West Coast to check into 97 complaints that the Judiciary Committee has received against the distinguished and much revered ex-governor of California. Many of these complaints appear to be from cranks.

It was at the prodding of Senator Eastland that Langer requested an FBI report several weeks ago. When it failed to arrive, Langer phoned Deputy Attorney General Bill Rogers and repeated his demand.

"But Earl Warren is one of the most distinguished men in this country. He has been elected governor of his state three times," protested Rogers.

"Well, he's going to be treated just like everyone else who comes before our committee," snorted the North Dakotan.

Langer then made it clear that Warren won't be confirmed to the nation's highest judicial post until an FBI investigation has been made.

Chief source of the complaints against Warren, California's ex-Attorney General Howser, who would like to see Warren's confirmation blocked, was overwhelmingly defeated for re-election after this column exposed his friendship with California gamblers. Howser sued for libel but a jury ruled that the charges were true. Howser, incidentally, was elected Attorney General of California, not appointed by Warren, and the two men were at loggerheads most of the time. In fact Warren appointed a special Crime Commission, operated by Warren Olney, now U. S. Assistant Attorney General, which kept an eye on Howser's activities.

A Democrat On Lincoln

Now that all the high-powered oratory commemorating Lincoln's birthday, most of it by Republicans, has died down and Congress is ready to get back to work, it might be interesting to note the speech of a Democrat—Sen. Tom Burke of Ohio.

Mr. Burke, long-time mayor of Cleveland, made a modest little speech about Lincoln the other day which hardly got a line in the newspapers and certainly isn't going to be relished by some of the boys on Capitol Hill.

Among other things, he dug up some pungent quotes from Lincoln.

"Lincoln," said Senator Burke, "was deeply preoccupied with the rights of people, not just the high and mighty, but of all the people. Lincoln was opposed to sacrificing principle for political gain and he was opposed to sacrificing people for political gain.

"Lincoln said: 'Never add the weight of . . . character to a charge against (a) fellow man, without knowing it to be true. . . I believe it is an established maxim in morals that he who makes an assertion without knowing whether it is true or false, is guilty of falsehood, and the accidental truth of the assertion does not justify or excuse him. This maxim ought to be particularly held in view when we contemplate an attack upon the reputation of our neighbor.'

"Recently Postmaster General Summerfield," continued Burke, "said in a prepared speech that the Government had rid itself of 2,200 security risks and added this calculated phrase, 'somehow I do not feel too amiably inclined toward people who make treason a preoccupation.'

"Lincoln said: 'I believe we need nothing so much as to get rid of unjust suspicion of one another.'

"The president's legal counsel, Bernard Shanley," continued Burke, "recently asserted that '1,456 subversives have been kicked out of the Government since the President took office.'

"Lincoln said: 'Persisting in a charge which one does not know to be true is simply malicious slander.'

"The Administration," continued Senator Burke, "has said that it is not feasible to break down the categories of the security-risk cases to show how many were suspect of treason and how many were guilty or suspect of misconduct.

"Lincoln said: 'A man cannot prove the negative, but he has the right to claim that when one makes an affirmative charge he must offer some proof to show the truth of what he says.'"

"Czar" Reed

Chairman Dan Reed of the Ways and Means Committee used to be the Congressman who urged plenty of time be taken in writing tax bills. However, now that he is in command, the gentleman from Dunkirk, N. Y., is trying to ram a new tax bill down his colleagues' throats with almost no testimony. Anyone who wants to testify against the bill is told by Reed to appear before the Senate Finance Committee.

Meanwhile Reed has secretly heard the testimony of certain Wall Street tax advisers and won't even make their testimony public.

On top of all this, Uncle Dan is trying to get a special rule through the House of Representatives that no one can amend his bill in Congressional debate. In other words, he wants to make Congress swallow his Wall Street-written bill as he wants it, with nobody else having anything else to say.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Self-Employed

A large element in the American population is self-employed. Grocers, butchers, musicians, writers, lecturers, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, clergymen, manicurists—the list is long of Americans honorably engaged in numerous services and arts who manage their own affairs on a comparatively small scale.

This country was built by such self-employed citizens. Practically all of our great corporations are the product of their genius and success. Many of them remain small businessmen. Many of them continue to engage in efforts at smaller or larger fees. This, in some countries, is called the petite bourgeoisie, the lower middle-class, the economic and social backbone of any country.

Now such men and women have a partner, the Government of the United States. Naturally, they have to pay income taxes and have to keep books and records just like a large corporation. The cost of such records, by inexperienced people, involves lots of time, which is tough on self-employed people who cannot afford to work only 40 hours a week. There is no living in that. Many have to hire an accountant (also a self-employed person), who charges for his time.

The income tax is squeezing the self-employed person to the wall. But nothing is harder on him than to have a field man from the Internal Revenue Bureau show up two years later to challenge his judgment as to business deductions. The self-employed person, using small capital, often operating his business out of current earnings, needs as much elbow room, if he is to be successful, as a large corporation.

A very distinguished lady, whose name is known to most, very often lectures before large audiences. This is an excruciating business, often requiring many hours of travel. Each engagement is physically and mentally trying. Often it involves pleasant but exhausting social engagements which are essential to the business. (This is also true of concert artists who travel.) The lady arrives at the train very tired but she has a room on the train, a bedroom or a compartment or a drawing room, whichever is available. She requires a room often because she has to do some writing on the train.

Two years later, a field man showed up and questioned her judgment as to the use of drawing rooms, costing extra fares. She asked me about it and I told her that her judgment ought to prevail, that she was as much entitled to keep herself in shape for the next engagement, so that she looked fresh and spoke ably, as a cigarette company was entitled to spend money to advertise its wares.

Some traveling salesmen work on commission, being allowed a drawing account. An important element in their selling ability is a capacity for good-fellowship. That often comes to a considerable expenditure for entertainment.

Larger corporations can absorb these expenditures in their stride. The self-employed take it out of their own income. In their record of deductions, such items stand out like sore thumbs, often seeming large for the volume of business they do, because a fellow figures that if he does not get the account this year, good-fellowship may bring it to him next year. It is as much as investment as buying shares in General Motors. Two years later, the field man shows up and insists on disallowing the entertainment costs. There is a prolonged argument in which neither side convinces the other.

I am not criticizing the field men or even the Internal Revenue Bureau. The system needs revision if self-employed citizens are to continue to exist. Those who can afford to hire accountants are advised as to best procedure, but no one can really know because it becomes a matter of judgment, not of rule.

Meanwhile, savings become difficult and the self-employed person finds that he is setting nothing aside for a prolonged illness, for his wife and children, should he die. For ten months of the year, he hypnotizes himself into believing that he is doing well. On January 15, he makes his estimate and knows that he is in difficulties; on March 15, he is in trouble. The tax may leave him without sufficient working capital. He is reduced to the proletariat, to being a man who works for another.

This is a serious problem that requires serious attention. It is altering our social system.

Here And Now

Advertising

Everybody knows of the ruckus that is on all over the country about the zooming price of coffee. Prices have shot up 22 cents a pound in four weeks, we are told, with every prospect that it will remain at that high level for some time.

Various causes have contributed to the upping of the prices to a dollar a pound and more, and 15 cents a cup in coffee shops: drought and frost in Brazil, which country produces more than half the world supply, increased consumption due to the increase of population and the number of coffee drinkers, market manipulation, the rate of exchange between the American dollar and the Brazilian cruzeiro.

Whatever the cause or causes, a lot of advertising will have to be done to overcome the sales resistance that has been created. Provident housewives are not easily sold on dollar-a-pound coffee when they can buy tea for a 3-to-1 ratio, especially since the thein of tea and the caffeine of coffee are chemically identical.

If the men folks are sticklers for their coffee, the good wife may easily slip in a dash of chickory or other adulterant, unbeknownst to her beloved spouse, and thus pare down the food budget at that point.

If President Eisenhower can afford to drink as much coffee per day as they say he does, I see no reason why the rest of us should not have the same privilege; we voted for him, and he's going to lower our taxes.

Ads And Stunts

This writing is about advertising, as announced above, and the coffee situation is the springboard from which we dive into a brief discussion of what advertising essays to do, and the varied methods employed for the accomplishment of its purpose.

Hundreds of millions of dollars in the aggregate are spent every year through the media of newspapers, magazines, radio, television, billboards, illuminated and other signs, posters, et cetera, the object being to publicize the merits of a person, a commodity, or a service in order to promote sales.

All sorts of advertising schemes are employed to capture the attention of the public and thus secure their patronage.

A flash from New York tells of a long established restaurant selling coffee at one cent a cup, the 14-cent reduction from the regular price being, in effect, chargeable to advertising, in this case amounting to an estimated $180 a day, to spot the bad price situation.

A popular drawing card is the one cent sale. You buy a dozen cookies for the regular price, 35 cents. For one cent more you can get a second dozen. The second dozen is for the customer to "bite" on, and he does, and gets a good bargain at that.

A counterpart to the one cent sale, but more rare, is the dollar clothing sale. You pay $75 for a suit, and for an additional dollar you get a second pair of pants.

Simplicity The Key

If I were buying for a friend I would ask the obliging dealer to substitute a hat for the extra trousers. Then my friend would be clothed and in his right mind. (Mark 5:15).

An advertisement should be briefly stated and easily understood. The head of the advertising department of a big soap manufacturing company gave over to his young assistant the job of writing a sales blurb to introduce a new product to the public. In due time the understudy laid on his desk the copy for approval or revision. It read:

"The saponaceous and oleaginous quality of this product are so mingled as not only to produce the highest degree of saponification, but also to save the bather from the annoyance of having to fish around in the bathtub for the elusive soap-bar in the performance of his daily ablutions."

The boss blue-penciled the whole works, and substituted: "It floats."

An ad, to be effective, should be brief, incisive and clear; otherwise it may cause a laugh, or trouble.

A funny slip-up was made in a large church gathering where a circulation promoter offered "The World" with a "Methodist Woman" for three dollars. The first cost was cheap enough, but the "upkeep" could prove expensive.

A forlorn bachelor ran an ad in a matrimonial paper: "Wanted: to correspond with a marriageable woman who owns a tractor; object, matrimony."

He received an immediate reply, but the correspondence didn't last, for in his first letter he wrote: "Send me a picture of the tractor."

The Bible is very frank on the subject of advertising the greatest commodity in the world. In Numbers 24:14, we read "Come, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do."

Biblical Sales Talk

A No. 1 "sales talk" is found in Isaiah 55:1-2—"Come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

In ancient Biblical times there lived a man who had the hereditary right to obtain a valuable piece of real estate and other emoluments by the payments of a "redemption" price. He was about to take over the manorial possession to which he had prior claim, when he discovered that a beautiful woman was involved in the transfer. Then he reneged.

Marriage was not for men, but for women. What a clod!

The astute Boaz was then free to marry the beautiful Moabitess widow, and what a lucky find was she!

BROTHER BARNABAS

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Out of the gracious speech in the Senate of Senator Frank Carlson, Republican, of Kansas may grow a "Be-Kind-To-The-Democrats" movement applicable especially to the period of Lincoln Day dinners, but it will be of little avail unless the speakers of the Democratic Party at Jefferson-Jackson Day banquets will reciprocate with a "Be-Kind-To-The-Republicans" attitude.

The Kansas Senator thinks the Republicans at least have a right to criticize "extravagances" in Government and "the fact that there was an effort to shield Communists."

Governor Dewey of New York, Republican, however, sees no good in attempting to gag the members of his party and charges that the Democrats in Congress who are trying to silence Republican critics cannot by such tactics "lessen the responsibility of the last Administration for having bungled us into a war in Korea and for the ammunition shortage that caused the tragic, needless loss of many American lives."

Brownell Misquoted

On the other side of the political arena, Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic National Chairman, doesn't seem to have taken too kindly to President Eisenhower's plea for more restraint and less extremism in political speech-making. For Mr. Mitchell through his publication "The Democratic Digest," has just declared that Attorney General Brownell accused former President Truman of "treasonable conduct."

A careful examination of what Mr. Brownell said at Chicago and his statements before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee reveals that the Attorney General merely accused Mr. Truman of laxity in administration and of having misjudged the evidence about Harry Dexter White. But if Mr. Mitchell keeps on repeating his own sensational mis-statement as a means of diverting attention from the real charge, must the Republicans remain silent? Or will they now be justified in reopening the publicity on the White case in order to set the record straight? That's the kind of dilemma that has been produced by President Eisenhower's effort to apply conciliatory measures to political combat.

McLeod Misunderstood

Incidentally, some of the Trumanite reporters are out to get the Eisenhower Administration with as bad a press as they can muster. If the Eisenhower staff are not quick on the comeback, they will lose ground for the Republican Party.

A notable example of the partisanship evident in the news dispatches is the way some of the Trumanite reporters handled the political journey of Scott McLeod of the State Department.

Mr. McLeod happens to be tough on Communists and Communist sympathizers and, though he has said a dozen times his appointment was in no way brought about by Senator McCarthy, scarcely a press dispatch goes out that doesn't attempt to link him somehow with the Wisconsin Senator. When the fact that Mr. McLeod had accepted the invitation of the Republican National Committee to make a few speeches in South Dakota became known, the State Department was bombarded with requests from the reporters as to whether Mr. McLeod had obtained "leave of absence" without pay. It turned out that he did take leave of absence.

Curiously enough, when other State Department officials under the Truman Administration made political speeches for the Democrats, no such fuss was raised and, of course, none was on "leave of absence." Here are a few of those Trumanite speaking engagements:

1. Assistant Secretary of State George McGhee addressed the Young Democrat National Convention at Chattanooga in November 1949.

2. Undersecretary of State James E. Webb addressed the Southern Democratic Party Conference at Raleigh, N. C., in January 1950, and also spoke at the National Democratic Party Conference at Chicago in May 1950.

3. Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., addressed a meeting in June 1950 under the auspices of the New York State Democratic Committee.

4. W. Averell Harriman, special assistant to President Truman, addressed the Midwest Democratic Conference at Denver, Colo., in May 1951, at which he was substituting for Secretary of State Acheson.

5. Adrian Fisher, legal adviser to the State Department, was the principal speaker at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Charleston, W. Va., on March [illegible], 1951.

6. Deputy Undersecretary of State Rusk, Assistant Secretary of State Barrett, and Assistant Secretary of State Thorp addressed meetings of the Women's National Democratic Club at Washington on various dates.

Valentine Day

For ages St. Valentine has been regarded as the patron saint of those in love, and the custom of sending valentines containing sweet sentiments has not lessened in the hustle and bustle of life in these strenuous times. It is estimated that 300,000,000 valentines were mailed this year.

Present-day valentines are quaint and whimsical, sweet and funny, but sweetheart cards are still in the greatest demand as they were in the days when Roman youths and maidens drew names from an urn set up in a public square to see who would be their "blind date" for the coming year.

There are several legends concerning the origin of Valentine Day. Some say St. Valentine—patron of love—was a young Roman priest, who was put to death for performing secret marriages in defiance of an edict from Emperor Claudius. Others claim the patron saint was Valentine Valentia, a monk who wrote letters for illiterate people of his village, often decorating them with artistic designs.

But perhaps the most popular theory is that St. Valentine was a young Roman priest who was beheaded February 14, 270 A.D., for refusing to renounce Christianity. While in prison he is supposed to have written a farewell message to his new friend, the jailer's blind daughter, signing it "From your Valentine."

Prior to 1840 all valentines dispatched in this country were homemade. About the turn of the century valentines reached the peak of elaborateness. Huge affairs concocted of lace and celluloid, in layers upon ornate layers to the depth of six or eight inches, were considered the perfect love messages.

Tank Water Wings

There was one point in World War II when the Army owned nearly as many vessels of various types and descriptions as the Navy. The bulk of the tonnage was represented by huge troop transports, which were converted peace-time passenger liners. But the Army's navy also consisted of a great many tugs, barges and utility craft.

Time and the Unification Act of 1947 did away with much of the Army's floating property. The Navy, for example, now runs the whole port security program, which reduced the Army's armada by hundreds of tugs and net tenders. But every now and then the Army, because of its peculiar mission, reverts to the amphibious.

Such a switchback is the new "water wings" attachment which makes it possible for 48-ton tanks to ford streams and rivers, and presumably amble ashore from tank landing ships. A foam plastic is shaped in two sections and surrounds the tank in such manner that it provides both buoyancy and the vestige of a hull.

Pictures released by the Army leave no doubt that the temporarily amphibious tank would be a potent weapon on semi-liquid battlefronts. Under way, the tank presents practically no silhouette and little or nothing to shoot at. It can fire its 90 mm gun and machine guns while under way.

It appears the Army has done a good job of extending the tank's usefulness. It appears, too—by implication—that the Army doesn't consider the atom bomb or the atom cannon absolute weapons as yet.

Coaching Hazards

Backs and tackles are not, it seems, the only casualties of intercollegiate football. The coaching profession, like other high-speed occupations, has developed its own occupational hazards. Thus Mr. Leahy, the eminently successful coach of Notre Dame, immune though he may have been to charley horse, was nevertheless as vulnerable to tension as any executive vice president.

At 45, unable to endure the stress of modern competition, Mr. Leahy retires. He will be succeeded by Mr. Brennan, a young man himself only a few years away from the business end of a line buck. It's impossible to predict, of course, whether the new head coach will be able to duplicate his predecessor's astonishing record of the gridiron, but at 25 he ought to be more durable.

This clinical aspect of coaching rather mystifies old-timers who thought the perils of football were braved solely by large young men wearing numbers. It prompts a question almost as old as football; What's happening to sports? There was the collateral business of a group of American boys going off to play tennis with some young amateurs in Australia. It wasn't quite necessary to dispatch a gunboat to Sydney, but the tournament did threaten to become an international incident.

Happily, football is not involved in international complications. But that's about the only hazard missing. A long time ago there was a rather common notion in the United States that football was a game, that it was to be played for fun, and that only the alumni required medical or psychiatric treatment at the end of a losing season. But that was a long time ago.

Cleo Was No Beauty

Cleopatra was no outstanding beauty, announces the National Geographic Society. She had a powerful personality, the society reports, and could talk a blue streak. She was "persuasive, adept at flattery, at times eloquent."

As looks go, she wasn't so hot, judging by a recently discovered piece of sculpture which a French scientist says is an authentic portrait. The statue has a long nose, a mouth remarkably small for so gabby a gal, and great big eyes. But she was "probably less comely," says the Geographic, than Marc Anthony's wife Octavia.

But Marc fell hard for Cleo. Well, looks aren't everything. A girl who isn't physically repulsive, knows her own mind, and has the knack of seeming friendly and understanding doesn't need to fear competition from inarticulate beauties. But how does the National Geographic Society know Cleopatra wasn't beautiful, too?

Standards vary. In certain Moslem countries women with the most avoirdupois are considered the most beautiful. One need only visit an art gallery to realize that tastes vary with time and geography.

Cleopatra had a long, "Roman" nose which Antony and Caesar may have thought beautiful. Big soulful eyes and a tiny rosebud mouth have often been considered attributes of beauty. She used plenty of makeup, too, and didn't dress too warmly. In her day, she may have been considered a knockout.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Scattered Plaques In The Spinal Cord

Multiple sclerosis is an unsolved neurological disease that was relatively rare in the United States 25 years ago. Since then it has crossed the Atlantic and today, in this country alone, there are an estimated 100,000 cases.

The disease has a tendency to come and go; and since months or years may elapse between bouts, many sufferers are not too severely incapacitated. The periods of relative comfort pose a difficulty in treatment, however, because no one knows whether improvement has occurred spontaneously or is the result of medication.

What is multiple sclerosis? "Sclerosis" refers to the basic lesion or scarlike plaque anywhere in the brain or spinal cord; and since more than one is the rule, the designation "multiple" is apropos. Symptoms are noted only when plaques are developing. As a rule, 12 to 72 hours are required to create a maximum disturbance. This is followed by a period of one to six weeks when distress remains at a standstill.

The sclerotic regions heal gradually so that within three months, symptoms subside. These lesions usually are near blood vessels and represent areas of disturbed circulation. They vary in size and the severity of the attack and the nature of the discomfort depend upon their location and how many are present. The most common symptoms are weakness of a limb, double vision, transient blurring or blindness, and odd sensations or irritations of the skin. Later manifestations include tremor of the hands, difficulty in walking, bladder disturbances, and flickering eyelids.

One man, for example, had walked three miles when his left leg gave out; the muscles were so weak he had to be carried home. In another instance, the initial abnormality produced numbness along the side of the face, which was described as a sensation of cobwebs. Another victim experienced temporary blindness and weakness in one foot. These cases demonstrate the bizarre nature of the manifestations, which means that diagnosis rarely can be made on the basis of a single attack.

Modern treatment is geared toward prevention of periodic recurrences through following the rules of good health; ample sleep, good food, and the avoidance of strain. Colds and other infections must be minimized by staying away from those who are ill. Injuries, overexertion, chilling, and emotional upsets are hazardous from the same viewpoint. The disease may flare up during pregnancy, hence women with multiple sclerosis are advised to avoid this state if possible. When symptoms appear, heat and massage are beneficial as well as drugs such as myanesin to relieve muscular stiffness and spasticity. Cortisone or ACTH is of value now and then when new lesions are forming. Pyromen is being investigated because of the encouraging reports on a small series of cases.

STOMACH WORM

J. L. writes: My mother complains of excessive stomach motion and insists she has a worm which becomes active when she eats. The doctors she has seen cannot convince her otherwise.

REPLY

This is a nervous sensation and when the family physician cannot convince the sufferer of the true nature of the condition, it may be necessary to call in a psychiatrist to do the de-worming. This type of complaint was more common 100 years ago when individuals were convinced that certain internal sensations were due to frogs, toads, worms, and bugs. Nowadays we use the figurative term, "butterflies in the stomach" to denote a jittery state.

IN-LAW'S TONGUE

Mrs. T. writes: My mother-in-law has the brightest red tongue I ever saw. Do you think this indicates an illness?

REPLY

Anemia, inflammation, and vitamin deficiencies are the most common causes of red tongue. Other origins include sucking on hard red candles or medicated disks and overexertion of the organ. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on inflamed and burning tongue.

GIVES UP CIGARS

C. D. writes: As a starter toward quitting smoking I destroyed two expensive cigars. I have been feeling weak since then and wonder if weakness results from giving up the habit.

REPLY

If you honestly want to quit, stop looking for excuses. However, the mind plays strange tricks on the body when a person is attempting to eliminate old habits.

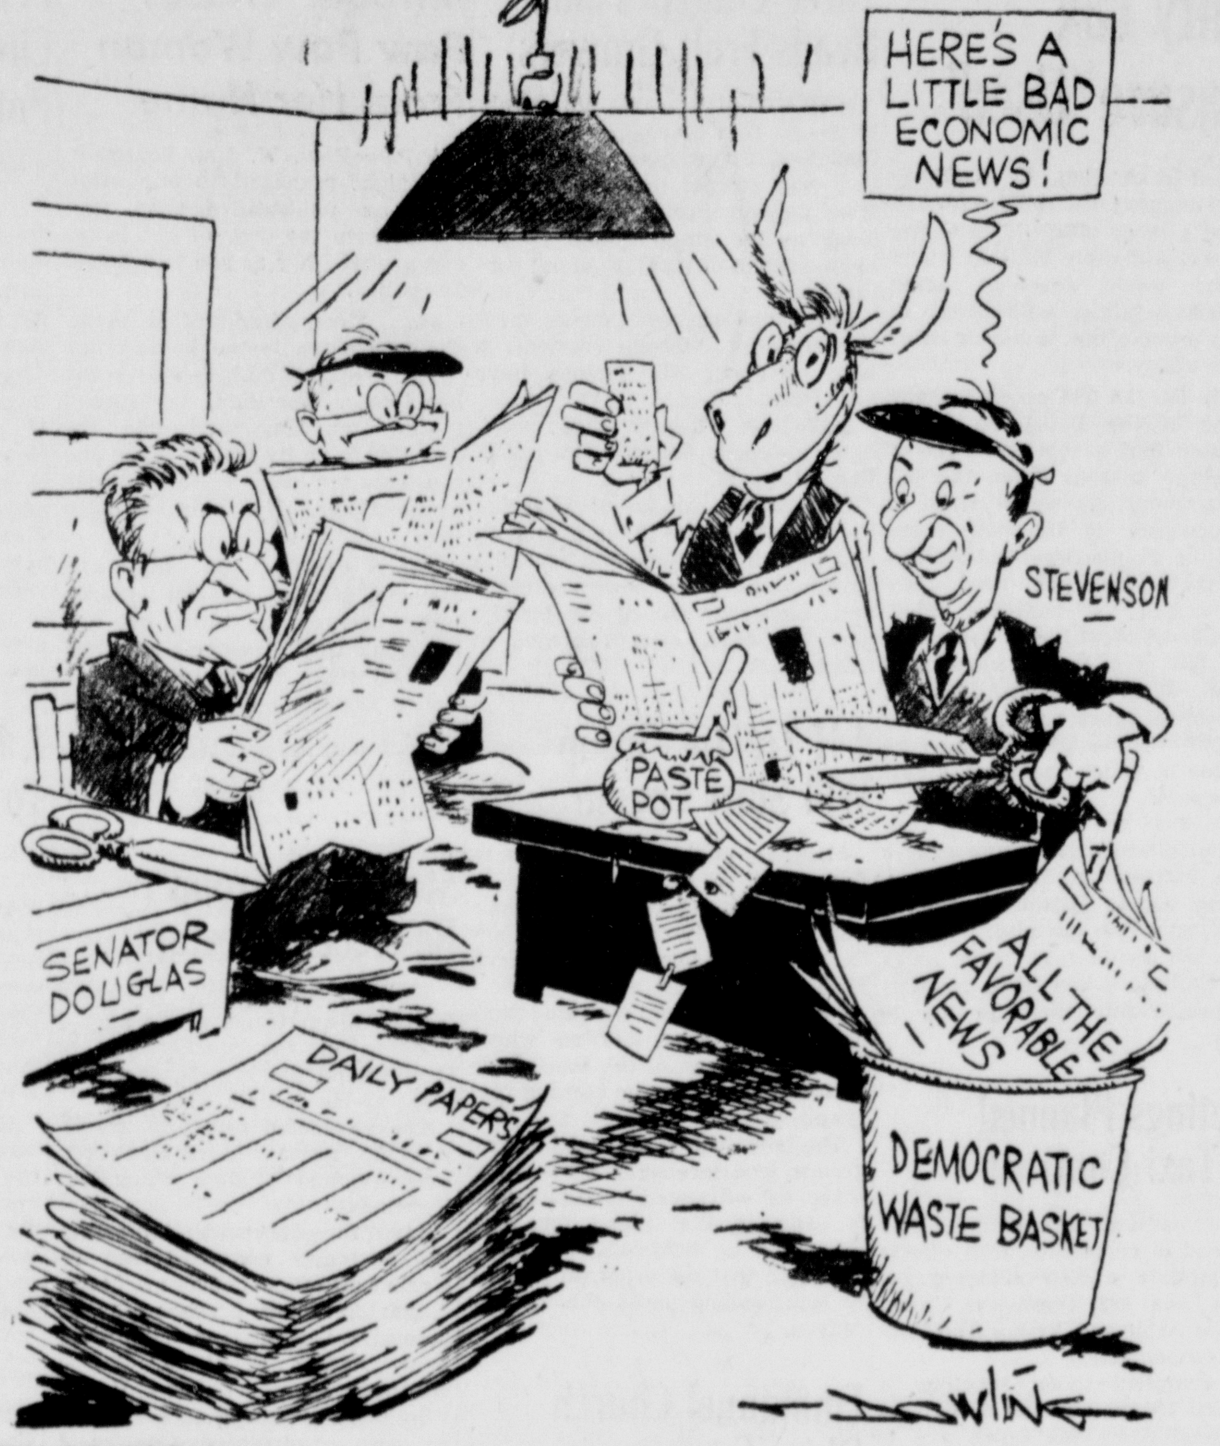
DIFFERENT GERMS

Mrs. Y. writes: If a young person is unusually susceptible to colds, would this indicate a tubercular tendency?

REPLY

No. Susceptibility to the common cold virus does not mean that the individual is susceptible to the tubercular bacillus.

Busy Days At The Clipping Bureau



DREW PEARSON on

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Segregation Issue And California Politics Behind Opposition To Warren; Sen. Burke Quotes Fitting Lincoln Lore; Dan Reed Throttles Tax Debate.

WASHINGTON — Inside reason for the request for an FBI report on ex-Gov. Earl Warren of California before he is confirmed as Chief Justice is complaints inspired by the ex-Attorney General of California, Fred Howser, and opposition by Sen. Jim Eastland of Mississippi, who is afraid Warren will vote for ending segregation in schools below the Mason-Dixon Line.

All of this is why Senate Judiciary Chairman "Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota has bluntly notified the Justice Department that his committee will hold up Warren's confirmation until it gets a full FBI report on him.

Meanwhile, Langer has sent his own investigators to the West Coast to check into 97 complaints that the Judiciary Committee has received against the distinguished and much revered ex-governor of California. Many of these complaints appear to be from cranks.

It was at the prodding of Senator Eastland that Langer requested an FBI report several weeks ago. When it failed to arrive, Langer phoned Deputy Attorney General Bill Rogers and repeated his demand.

"But Earl Warren is one of the most distinguished men in this country. He has been elected governor of his state three times," protested Rogers.

"Well, he's going to be treated just like everyone else who comes before our committee," snorted the North Dakotan.

Langer then made it clear that Warren won't be confirmed to the nation's highest judicial post until an FBI investigation has been made.

Chief source of the complaints against Warren, California's ex-Attorney General Howser, who would like to see Warren's confirmation blocked, was overwhelmingly defeated for re-election after this column exposed his friendship with California gamblers. Howser sued for libel but a jury ruled that the charges were true. Howser, incidentally, was elected Attorney General of California, not appointed by Warren, and the two men were at loggerheads most of the time. In fact Warren appointed a special Crime Commission, operated by Warren Olney, now U. S. Assistant Attorney General, which kept an eye on Howser's activities.

A Democrat On Lincoln

Now that all the high-powered oratory commemorating Lincoln's birthday, most of it by Republicans, has died down and Congress is ready to get back to work, it might be interesting to note the speech of a Democrat—Sen. Tom Burke of Ohio.

Mr. Burke, long-time mayor of Cleveland, made a modest little speech about Lincoln the other day which hardly got a line in the newspapers and certainly isn't going to be relished by some of the boys on Capitol Hill.

Among other things, he dug up some pungent quotes from Lincoln.

"Lincoln," said Senator Burke, "was deeply preoccupied with the rights of people, not just the high and mighty, but of all the people. Lincoln was opposed to sacrificing principle for political gain and he was opposed to sacrificing people for political gain.

"Lincoln said: 'Never add the weight of . . . character to a charge against (a) fellow man, without knowing it to be true. . . I believe it is an established maxim in morals that he who makes an assertion without knowing whether it is true or false, is guilty of falsehood, and the accidental truth of the assertion does not justify or excuse him. This maxim ought to be particularly held in view when we contemplate an attack upon the reputation of our neighbor.'

"Recently Postmaster General Summerfield," continued Burke, "said in a prepared speech that the Government had rid itself of 2,200 security risks and added this calculated phrase, 'somehow I do not feel too amiably inclined toward people who make treason a preoccupation.'

"Lincoln said: 'I believe we need nothing so much as to get rid of unjust suspicion of one another.'

"The president's legal counsel, Bernard Shanley," continued Burke, "recently asserted that '1,456 subversives have been kicked out of the Government since the President took office.'

"Lincoln said: 'Persisting in a charge which one does not know to be true is simply malicious slander.'

"The Administration," continued Senator Burke, "has said that it is not feasible to break down the categories of the security-risk cases to show how many were suspect of treason and how many were guilty or suspect of misconduct.

"Lincoln said: 'A man cannot prove the negative, but he has the right to claim that when one makes an affirmative charge he must offer some proof to show the truth of what he says.' "

"Czar" Reed

Chairman Dan Reed of the Ways and Means Committee used to be the Congressman who urged plenty of time be taken in writing tax bills. However, now that he is in command, the gentleman from Dunkirk, N. Y., is trying to ram a new tax bill down his colleagues' throats with almost no testimony. Anyone who wants to testify against the bill is told by Reed to appear before the Senate Finance Committee.

Meanwhile Reed has secretly heard the testimony of certain Wall Street tax advisers and won't even make their testimony public.

On top of all this, Uncle Dan is trying to get a special rule through the House of Representatives that no one can amend his bill in Congressional debate. In other words, he wants to make Congress swallow his Wall Street-written bill as he wants it, with nobody else having anything else to say.

The Self-Employed

A large element in the American population is self-employed. Grocers, butchers, musicians, writers, lecturers, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, clergymen, manicurists—the list is long of Americans honorably engaged in numerous services and arts who manage their own affairs on a comparatively small scale.

This country was built by such self-employed citizens. Practically all of our great corporations are the product of their genius and success. Many of them remain small businessmen. Many of them continue to engage in efforts at smaller or larger fees. This, in some countries, is called the petite bourgeoisie, the lower middle-class, the economic and social backbone of any country.

Now such men and women have a partner, the Government of the United States. Naturally, they have to pay income taxes and have to keep books and records just like a large corporation. The cost of such records, by inexperienced people, involves lots of time, which is tough on self-employed people who cannot afford to work only 40 hours a week. There is no living in that. Many have to hire an accountant (also a self-employed person), who charges for his time.

The income tax is squeezing the self-employed person to the wall. But nothing is harder on him than to have a field man from the Internal Revenue Bureau show up two years later to challenge his judgment as to business deductions. The self-employed person, using small capital, often operating his business out of current earnings, needs as much elbow room, if he is to be successful, as a large corporation.

A very distinguished lady, whose name is known to most, very often lectures before large audiences. This is an excruciating business, often requiring many hours of travel. Each engagement is physically and mentally trying. Often it involves pleasant but exhausting social engagements which are essential to the business. (This is also true of concert artists who travel.) The lady arrives at the train very tired but she has a room on the train, a bedroom or a compartment or a drawing room, whichever is available. She requires a room often because she has to do some writing on the train.

Two years later, a field man showed up and questioned her judgment as to the use of drawing rooms, costing extra fares. She asked me about it and I told her that her judgment ought to prevail, that she was as much entitled to keep herself in shape for the next engagement, so that she looked fresh and spoke ably, as a cigarette company was entitled to spend money to advertise its wares.

Some traveling salesmen work on commission, being allowed a drawing account. An important element in their selling ability is a capacity for good-fellowship. That often comes to a considerable expenditure for entertainment.

Larger corporations can absorb these expenditures in their stride. The self-employed take it out of their own income. In their record of deductions, such items stand out like sore thumbs, often seeming large for the volume of business they do, because a fellow figures that if he does not get the account this year, good-fellowship may bring it to him next year. It is as much as investment as buying shares in General Motors. Two years later, the field man shows up and insists on disallowing the entertainment costs. There is a prolonged argument in which neither side convinces the other.

I am not criticizing the field men or even the Internal Revenue Bureau. The system needs revision if self-employed citizens are to continue to exist. Those who can afford to hire accountants are advised as to best procedure, but no one can really know because it becomes a matter of judgment, not of rule.

Meanwhile, savings become difficult and the self-employed person finds that he is setting nothing aside for a prolonged illness, for his wife and children, should he die. For ten months of the year, he hypnotizes himself into believing that he is doing well. On January 15, he makes his estimate and knows that he is in difficulties; on March 15, he is in trouble. The tax may leave him without sufficient working capital. He is reduced to the proletariat, to being a man who works for another.

This is a serious problem that requires serious attention. It is altering our social system.

Here And Now

Advertising

Everybody knows of the ruckus that is on all over the country about the zooming price of coffee. Prices have shot up 22 cents a pound in four weeks, we are told, with every prospect that it will remain at that high level for some time.

Various causes have contributed to the upping of the prices to a dollar a pound and more, and 15 cents a cup in coffee shops: drought and frost in Brazil, which country produces more than half the world supply, increased consumption due to the increase of population and the number of coffee drinkers, market manipulation, the rate of exchange between the American dollar and the Brazilian cruzeiro.

Whatever the cause or causes, a lot of advertising will have to be done to overcome the sales resistance that has been created. Provident housewives are not easily sold on dollar-a-pound coffee when they can buy tea for a 3-to-1 ratio, especially since the thein of tea and the caffeine of coffee are chemically identical.

If the men folks are sticklers for their coffee, the good wife may easily slip in a dash of chickory or other adulterant, unbeknownst to her beloved spouse, and thus pare down the food budget at that point.

If President Eisenhower can afford to drink as much coffee per day as they say he does, I see no reason why the rest of us should not have the same privilege; we voted for him, and he's going to lower our taxes.

Ads And Stunts

This writing is about advertising, as announced above, and the coffee situation is the springboard from which we dive into a brief discussion of what advertising essays to do, and the varied methods employed for the accomplishment of its purpose.

Hundreds of millions of dollars in the aggregate are spent every year through the media of newspapers, magazines, radio, television, billboards, illuminated and other signs, posters, et cetera, the object being to publicize the merits of a person, a commodity, or a service in order to promote sales.

All sorts of advertising schemes are employed to capture the attention of the public and thus secure their patronage.

A flash from New York tells of a long established restaurant selling coffee at one cent a cup, the 14-cent reduction from the regular price being, in effect, chargeable to advertising, in this case amounting to an estimated $180 a day, to spot the bad price situation.

A popular drawing card is the one cent sale. You buy a dozen cookies for the regular price, 35 cents. For one cent more you can get a second dozen. The second dozen is for the customer to "bite" on, and he does, and gets a good bargain at that.

A counterpart to the one cent sale, but more rare, is the dollar clothing sale. You pay $75 for a suit, and for an additional dollar you get a second pair of pants.

Simplicity The Key

If I were buying for a friend I would ask the obliging dealer to substitute a hat for the extra trousers. Then my friend would be clothed and in his right mind. (Mark 5:15).

An advertisement should be briefly stated and easily understood. The head of the advertising department of a big soap manufacturing company gave over to his young assistant the job of writing a sales blurb to introduce a new product to the public. In due time the understudy laid on his desk the copy for approval or revision. It read:

"The saponaceous and oleaginous quality of this product are so mingled as not only to produce the highest degree of saponification, but also to save the bather from the annoyance of having to fish around in the bathtub for the elusive soap-bar in the performance of his daily ablutions."

The boss blue-penciled the whole works, and substituted: "It floats."

An ad, to be effective, should be brief, incisive and clear; otherwise it may cause a laugh, or trouble.

A funny slip-up was made in a large church gathering where a circulation promoter offered "The World" with a "Methodist Woman" for three dollars. The first cost was cheap enough, but the "upkeep" could prove expensive.

A forlorn bachelor ran an ad in a matrimonial paper: "Wanted: to correspond with a marriageable woman who owns a tractor; object, matrimony."

He received an immediate reply, but the correspondence didn't last, for in his first letter he wrote: "Send me a picture of the tractor."

The Bible is very frank on the subject of advertising the greatest commodity in the world. In Numbers 24:14, we read "Come, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do."

Biblical Sales Talk

A No. 1 "sales talk" is found in Isaiah 55:1-2—"Come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

In ancient Biblical times there lived a man who had the hereditary right to obtain a valuable piece of real estate and other emoluments by the payments of a "redemption" price. He was about to take over the manorial possession to which he had prior claim, when he discovered that a beautiful woman was involved in the transfer. Then he reneged.

Marriage was not for men, but for women. What a clod!

The astute Boaz was then free to marry the beautiful Moabitess widow, and what a lucky find was she!

BROTHER BARNABAS

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Out of the gracious speech in the Senate of Senator Frank Carlson, Republican, of Kansas may grow a "Be-Kind-To-The-Democrats" movement applicable especially to the period of Lincoln Day dinners, but it will be of little avail unless the speakers of the Democratic Party at Jefferson-Jackson Day banquets will reciprocate with a "Be-Kind-To-The-Republicans" attitude.

The Kansas Senator thinks the Republicans at least have a right to criticize "extravagances" in Government and "the fact that there was an effort to shield Communists."

Governor Dewey of New York, Republican, however, sees no good in attempting to gag the members of his party and charges that the Democrats in Congress who are trying to silence Republican critics cannot by such tactics "lessen the responsibility of the last Administration for having bungled us into a war in Korea and for the ammunition shortage that caused the tragic, needless loss of many American lives."

Brownell Misquoted

On the other side of the political arena, Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic National Chairman, doesn't seem to have taken too kindly to President Eisenhower's plea for more restraint and less extremism in political speech-making. For Mr. Mitchell through his publication "The Democratic Digest," has just declared that Attorney General Brownell accused former President Truman of "treasonable conduct."

A careful examination of what Mr. Brownell said at Chicago and his statements before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee reveals that the Attorney General merely accused Mr. Truman of laxity in administration and of having misjudged the evidence about Harry Dexter White. But if Mr. Mitchell keeps on repeating his own sensational mis-statement as a means of diverting attention from the real charge, must the Republicans remain silent? Or will they now be justified in reopening the publicity on the White case in order to set the record straight? That's the kind of dilemma that has been produced by President Eisenhower's effort to apply conciliatory measures to political combat.

McLeod Misunderstood

Incidentally, some of the Trumanite reporters are out to get the Eisenhower Administration with as bad a press as they can muster. If the Eisenhower staff are not quick on the comeback, they will lose ground for the Republican Party.

A notable example of the partisanship evident in the news dispatches is the way some of the Trumanite reporters handled the political journey of Scott McLeod of the State Department.

Mr. McLeod happens to be tough on Communists and Communist sympathizers and, though he has said a dozen times his appointment was in no way brought about by Senator McCarthy, scarcely a press dispatch goes out that doesn't attempt to link him somehow with the Wisconsin Senator. When the fact that Mr. McLeod had accepted the invitation of the Republican National Committee to make a few speeches in South Dakota became known, the State Department was bombarded with requests from the reporters as to whether Mr. McLeod had obtained "leave of absence" without pay. It turned out that he did take leave of absence.

Curiously enough, when other State Department officials under the Truman Administration made political speeches for the Democrats, no such fuss was raised and, of course, none was on "leave of absence." Here are a few of those Trumanite speaking engagements:

1. Assistant Secretary of State George McGhee addressed the Young Democrat National Convention at Chattanooga in November 1949.
2. Undersecretary of State James E. Webb addressed the Southern Democratic Party Conference at Raleigh, N. C., in January 1950, and also spoke at the National Democratic Party Conference at Chicago in May 1950.
3. Assistant Secretary of State Edward G. Miller, Jr., addressed a meeting in June 1950 under the auspices of the New York State Democratic Committee.
4. W. Averell Harriman, special assistant to President Truman, addressed the Midwest Democratic Conference at Denver, Colo., in May 1951, at which he was substituting for Secretary of State Acheson.
5. Adrian Fisher, legal adviser to the State Department, was the principal speaker at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Charleston, W. Va., on March 30, 1951.
6. Deputy Undersecretary of State Rusk, Assistant Secretary of State Barrett, and Assistant Secretary of State Thorp addressed meetings of the Women's National Democratic Club at Washington on various dates.

The Kings believe "Carnival Story" is their best, and Anne's too—and RKO is equally enthusiastic.

There's another "Francis" movie coming up for Donald O'Connor, the last on his contract at U-I. Looking like a cute toy cowboy, replete with cowboy regalia, Don discussed with U-I heads "Francis And The WAC," which will bring back another of these popular mule and sergeant comedies.

After "Francis" Donald moves to 20th Century-Fox for "No Business Like Show Business," which he'll make with Ethel Merman, Dan Dailey, Johnnie Ray and Mitzi Gaynor.

I know a way to get Clark Gable in a picture. When I talked with him a few days ago he asked if anyone had bought James Michener's new book "Sayonara."

"I just finished reading it and I think it would make a great picture, providing, of course, it has the right director. The right director," Clark said, "is highly important to any picture."

On Clark's recommendation I bought "Sayonara," and I read it from cover to cover—that's how fascinating I found it. There are some situations that will indeed require fine direction.

I don't see how Sheree North can lose. She'll be tested on Monday for both Marilyn Monroe's role in "Pink Tights" and for a part in "No Business Like Show Business."

It was William Paley who suggested Sheree to Darryl Zanuck when Mr. and Mrs. Paley were the Zanuck's house guests in Palm Springs.

Sheree made her first appearance with Bing Crosby on his TV show as Jack Benny's dumb girl friend.

"Pink Tights" is dependent upon Frank Sinatra, who couldn't wait any longer for the picture to start because of previous commitments, so this may be out.

Lorraine Chanel, Mexico City model, so beautiful, had all the Ciro's customers winging when she walked in with Bert Friedlob. She's the girl Gary Cooper escorted so often when he was south of the border.

Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger will have much to talk about when he returns this weekend. He'll be off for South America next month.

If you ever heard Norman Brooks on the radio you would swear that you were hearing Al Jolson. He sounds so much like Al. That's the reason he'll open at the Mocambo next Tuesday.

Mrs. Darryl Zanuck is home from Cedars of Lebanon and feeling fine again. Darryl took the room next to hers.

Apparently very happy, Elaine Stewart and Johnny Grant together again at the Famous.

Tallulah Bankhead gets herself a straight five-year contract at the Sands in Las Vegas, to appear once a year for the next five years. She brought down the house when she said a lot of people felt that Marlene Dietrich was out of her mind to pay $6,000 for her gown. Said Tallu: "I heard she was just out of her gown."

Edgar Bergen will be honored by the Swedish Club at a dinner next Tuesday night. He'll be presented with a gold and silver plaque.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

MAKE HIM WASTE THEM

THERE is only one way to shut out a string of more trumps, in the hand of a particular defender, than you have in either of your holdings, the dummy and the closed hand. If you have four in each of your hands, and he has five, it would seem offhand that he is bound to take at least one trick with them. That, however, is not necessarily so. Suppose you can finish the hand with a cross-ruff, in which each trump you play is bigger than his largest. In that case, you may make him waste his by putting a smaller one on each of the last several tricks.

North:
♠ Q 3
♥ J 10 9 5
♦ K 10 5 2
♣ K Q 2

West:
♥ 7 6 4 3 2
♦ J 6
♣ J 6 4 3

East:
♠ A 9 2
♥ None
♦ A 9 8 3

South:
♠ K J 10 8 6 5
♥ A K Q 8
♦ Q 7 4
♣ None

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	5 ♥

North put the weight on South with that 5-Hearts slam invitation. The latter was wise not to accept it, especially since his showing of hearts and North's of diamonds had advertised the cross-ruff lineup and he therefore expected a trump lead. It came all right, when West led the heart 2, his fifth-best, which he thought South might misread as a fourth-best. After dummy played low, however, East's discard of the club 10 told him the whole story.

Preparing the ground for a big cross-ruff, he first led the spade 5 to the Q, which East won with the A. Desiring to set the contract in a hurry, that defender also scored the diamond A and laid down the club A, being chagrined to see it ruffed.

Thereupon began the final readying, with the spade K, diamond 7 to the K, club K and Q for discards of the diamond Q and a spade. The last five tricks then were cross-ruffed, a first diamond, a first spade, a second diamond, a second spade and finally a laying down of the dummy's heart 10. The last five tricks had been taken by the heart K, 9, A, J and 10, with West putting a lower trump on each of the last four.

Most players can describe the play known as the "Grand Coup." Do you also understand what is a "Triple Grand Coup"? Can you give an example of one, either from actual play or from careful synthetic construction?

DRAW ONE

Some folks believe we will never retract that oldtime prosperity when the butcher threw in a piece of liver for the cat.

They're pessimists who claim he will soon be throwing the cat in for the liver.

We concede after mature ignorance that we will never have twenty cent coffee, thirty cent butter and, for five cents, pumpernickel. But we still insist the high cost of living is worth it.

Now that we're being fined one-twenty of the realm for coffee we owe George the Third an apology.

Georgie, porgie, we're sorry we heaved that tea into Boston harbor, we never never thought coffee would ever rocket to one-twenty. How about the cup and saucer that rah rahs?

Today's smart woman makes certain that the mid years are an extension of her youth!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Nowadays a woman of forty has about a twenty per cent longer life expectancy than at the turn of the century. What is she doing with it—just adding it on to her old age?

Not the smart ones! They are slipping those extra years right into the best part of their lives where they can be most enjoyed and most productive as well.

Not so long ago a woman's life was divided into two parts: There was the girlish, youthful period before marriage—and the resigned, matronly period after marriage. But today's smart matron has extended the youthful part of her life, giving herself a glamorous number of middle years that keep her still young long past forty

Intelligent Approach

Partly through more exercise and partly through intelligent eating, she keeps her figure and the clothes size that were hers at the age of twenty-five. If anything, her style improves so that she has a more sophisticated look. Her taste has matured to give her a keener appreciation of the simple line and the adroit use of color. She is less tempted to make impulsive purchases; now she chooses her wardrobe to get the most wearability and flattery for her money.

Realizing that the slightest slip in grooming is a sign that her age is showing, she gives herself and her wardrobe the kind of care that defies flaws and presents to her public the sleekness that always accompanies chic.

Since by this time in her life her children have reached the age where her companionship counts more than her constant care, she keeps abreast of the times and enters into a significant period of mental growth and development that refreshes her personality and brings her to the fullest flower of her potential.

A Second Career

Now she finds that she has the time and the desire for the special interests that she could only yearn for during the years when her babies were young. So she starts a new career with zest. It may be in club work local politics or charity. She may go back to school or continue her education through a correspondence course. Music or the arts may beckon her, or business or one of the professions.

Not for her is idle resignation to age! She makes the mid-years of her life rich and rewarding by packing them with pursuits that yield keen enjoyment.

What a woman! And how attractive!

Lorraine Chanel, Mexico City model, so beautiful, had all the Ciro's customers winging when she walked in with Bert Friedlob. She's the girl Gary Cooper escorted so often when he was south of the border.

Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger will have much to talk about when he returns this weekend. He'll be off for South America next month.

If you ever heard Norman Brooks on the radio you would swear that you were hearing Al Jolson. He sounds so much like Al. That's the reason he'll open at the Mocambo next Tuesday.

Mrs. Darryl Zanuck is home from Cedars of Lebanon and feeling fine again. Darryl took the room next to hers.

Apparently very happy, Elaine Stewart and Johnny Grant together again at the Famous.

Tallulah Bankhead gets herself a straight five-year contract at the Sands in Las Vegas, to appear once a year for the next five years. She brought down the house when she said a lot of people felt that Marlene Dietrich was out of her mind to pay $6,000 for her gown. Said Tallu: "I heard she was just out of her gown."

Edgar Bergen will be honored by the Swedish Club at a dinner next Tuesday night. He'll be presented with a gold and silver plaque.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

MAKE HIM WASTE THEM

THERE is only one way to shut out a string of more trumps, in the hand of a particular defender, than you have in either of your holdings, the dummy and the closed hand. If you have four in each of your hands, and he has five, it would seem offhand that he is bound to take at least one trick with them. That, however, is not necessarily so. Suppose you can finish the hand with a cross-ruff, in which each trump you play is bigger than his largest. In that case, you may make him waste his by putting a smaller one on each of the last several tricks.

	North
	♠Q 3 ♥J 10 9 5 ♦K 10 5 2 ♣K Q 2
West ♠7 4 ♥7 6 4 3 2 ♦J 6 ♣J 6 4 3	N W E S	East ♠A 9 2 ♥None ♦A 9 8 3 ♣A 10 9 8 7 5
	♠K J 10 8 6 5 ♥A K Q 8 ♦Q 7 4 ♣None

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	5 ♥

North put the weight on South with that 5-Hearts slam invitation. The latter was wise not to accept it, especially since his showing of hearts and North's of diamonds had advertised the cross-ruff lineup and he therefore expected a trump lead. It came all right, when West led the heart 2, his fifth-best, which he thought South might misread as a fourth-best. After dummy played low, however, East's discard of the club 10 told him the whole story.

Preparing the ground for a big cross-ruff, he first led the spade 5 to the Q, which East won with the A. Desiring to set the contract in a hurry, that defender also scored the diamond A and laid down the club A, being chagrined to see it ruffed.

Thereupon began the final readying, with the spade K, diamond 7 to the K, club K and Q for discards of the diamond Q and a spade. The last five tricks then were cross-ruffed, a first diamond, a first spade, a second diamond, a second spade and finally a laying down of the dummy's heart 10. The last five tricks had been taken by the heart K, 9, A, J and 10, with West putting a lower trump on each of the last four.

Most players can describe the play known as the "Grand Coup." Do you also understand what is a "Triple Grand Coup"? Can you give an example of one, either from actual play or from careful synthetic construction?

Some folks believe we will never retract that oldtime prosperity when the butcher threw in a piece of liver for the cat.

They're pessimists who claim he will soon be throwing the cat in for the liver.

We concede after mature ignorance that we will never have twenty cent coffee, thirty cent butter and, for five cents, pumpernickel. But we still insist the high cost of living is worth it.

Now that we're being fined one-twenty of the realm for coffee we owe George the Third an apology.

Georgie, porgie, we're sorry we heaved that tea into Boston harbor, we never never thought coffee would ever rocket to one-twenty. How about the cup and saucer that rah rahs?

Today's smart woman makes certain that the mid years are an extension of her youth!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Nowadays a woman of forty has about a twenty per cent longer life expectancy than at the turn of the century. What is she doing with it—just adding it on to her old age?

Not the smart ones! They are slipping those extra years right into the best part of their lives where they can be most enjoyed and most productive as well.

Not so long ago a woman's life was divided into two parts: There was the girlish, youthful period before marriage—and the resigned, matronly period after marriage. But today's smart matron has extended the youthful part of her life, giving herself a glamorous number of middle years that keep her still young long past forty

Partly through more exercise and partly through intelligent eating, she keeps her figure and the clothes size that were hers at the age of twenty-five. If anything, her style improves so that she has a more sophisticated look. Her taste has matured to give her a keener appreciation of the simple line and the adroit use of color. She is less tempted to make impulsive purchases; now she chooses her wardrobe to get the most wearability and flattery for her money.

Realizing that the slightest slip in grooming is a sign that her age is showing, she gives herself and her wardrobe the kind of care that defies flaws and presents to her public the sleekness that always accompanies chic.

Since by this time in her life her children have reached the age where her companionship counts more than her constant care, she keeps abreast of the times and enters into a significant period of mental growth and development that refreshes her personality and brings her to the fullest flower of her potential.

A Second Career

Now she finds that she has the time and the desire for the special interests that she could only yearn for during the years when her babies were young. So she starts a new career with zest. It may be in club work local politics or charity. She may go back to school or continue her education through a correspondence course. Music or the arts may beckon her, or business or one of the professions.

Not for her is idle resignation to age! She makes the mid-years of her life rich and rewarding by packing them with pursuits that yield keen enjoyment.

What a woman! And how attractive!

YOUR STEPS TO A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

A worthwhile investment in charm for every girl starting a business career — every girl or woman now in business who is eager to reach top-light success. It tells you how to make that important "good impression" to get your job . reveals secrets on how to hold your job. See how easy it is to choose a suitable wardrobe. Save time — uncertainty — needless worry through these short cut steps in charm that lead to YOUR SUCCESS. The Cumberland Duplicate Bridge Club will have a Full Master Point game today at 1 p. m. at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

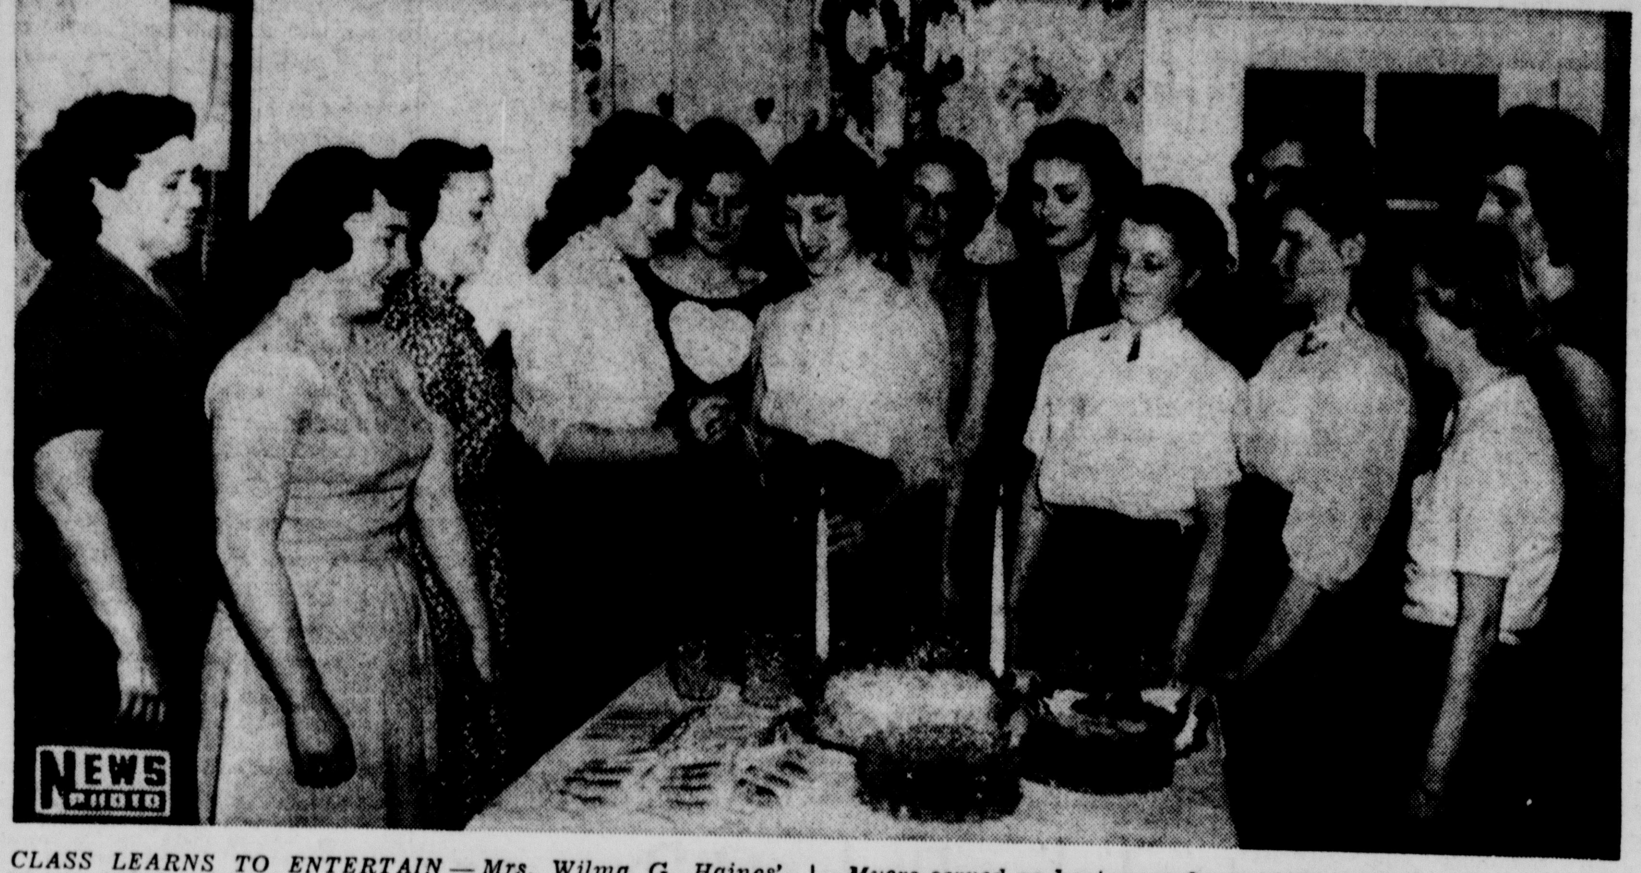
Mr. Heacox reports the first edition of the Western Maryland Bridge Association news publication, "The Bulletin" has been issued. Anyone may obtain a copy from Miss Julia Jackson, phone 4611.



CLASS LEARNS TO ENTERTAIN — Mrs. Wilma G. Haines' home economics class at Allegany High School gave a Valentine party as part of the course teaching how to entertain. It was held at Allegany House Wednesday. Hearts featured the decorations and Valentine games were played. Darlene Myers served as hostess and presided at the punch bowl. Left to right are Mrs. Anna Judy, Margaret Judy, Juanita Heavner, Darlene Myers, Shirley Winters, Patricia Hines, Mrs. Haines, Emma Jenkins, Mildred Keel, Barbara Adams, Anna Melvin, Janis Twigg and Barbara Kelly.

Rehearsals To Be At Fort Hill

Beginning Monday, all rehearsals of the Cumberland Choral Society for "The Pirates of Penzance" will be held at Fort Hill High School, at 8 o'clock. For those needing transportation, cars will leave Central YMCA at 7:30.

The Gilbert and Sullivan production is being given March 2.

The Cumberland Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of S. Lua Syckes, will play for the special rehearsal February 28, the dress rehearsal, March 1, and the performance, March 2.

Principal characters will be portrayed by Mrs. Alan Macy, Miss Mary Robb, Mrs. Gladys Daniels, Mrs. Margaret Hoffman, Mrs. Francis Vedery, Nelson Zapf, Robert Moreland, Bert Ways, Monroe Harris, and Francis Vedery.

There will be no reserved seats. Tickets may be obtained at the Syckes Music Shop, Vandegrift Music Shop, Vandegrift Piano Shop, and Warhaft's, North Centre Street, or from any member of the chorus. Student tickets may be secured from the music teachers at the schools.

A spaghetti supper will be served at St. Mary's Church hall from 4 until 7 tomorrow evening.

Girl Scout Leaders To Hold Workshop On Arts Feb. 17

The next few meetings of the Girl Scout Leaders Association are being held in the form of workshops.

"Adventuring in Arts" is the theme for the leaders' workshop which will be held February 17 at the Girl Scout house, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

Two workshops are to be held simultaneously. One will be working on music and dance under the direction of Mrs. Loren Morey; and the other, dramatics, with Miss Olive Hurlburt directing.

Each group will present a demonstration on their subject at the close of the workshop.

During a buzz ceremony, which will precede the workshop, Brownie troop leaders will meet with Mrs. Patrick Hogan to select songs and dances which the Brownie Troops will do at the Parent-Daughter dinner, March 23.

Another group will demonstrate "Fun in Fund Raising," with Mrs. Mary Logsdon in charge. Mrs. William Frey will conduct a ceremony which will include presentation of World pins.

Original Program To Be Given

An original Gay Nineties Review will feature the entertainment at the annual Donor dinner at Beth Jacob Synagogue tomorrow. The dinner is to be served at 6:30 in the vestry room.

Mr., Mrs. Walter Guy Kraus To Celebrate Anniversary

Daughters Are Entertaining Sunday

Miss Edwena Kraus and her sister, Mrs. William S. Leyhe, Morgantown, W. Va., are entertaining in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guy Kraus, 111 North Allegany Street, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary.

They will be hostesses at a reception tomorrow at the Ali Ghan Country Club from 2 until 5 o'clock. The golden color scheme is being carried out in the candles and flowers and the tiered wedding cake is centered with a wedding bell.

The former Miss Lula Fazenbaker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Fazenbaker, Piedmont, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Kraus, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gotlieb Kraus, Cumberland, February 16, 1904. The late Rev. Edward M. Jeffries officiated at the ceremony in Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kraus are the parents of the two daughters. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kraus are members of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, and the latter is directress of the Altar Guild. Mr. Kraus retired five years ago from the position of general foreman of motive power for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

G. Franklin Martens Enters Frostburg Council Contest

McCulloh St. Man Is First To File

FROSTBURG—G. Franklin Martens, 164 McCulloh Street, has announced his candidacy for the office of city councilman subject to the vote of the people at the coming municipal primary.

Martens is employed by the Cumberland Undergarment Company as foreman of their stock room. He is president of the Eastend Playground Association and is assistant Sunday School superintendent at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church. Other civic activities in which he is interested includes the Boy Scouts. As a neighborhood Boy Scout leader, he gives much of his spare time to advancing the interest of the Scout movement here.

Martens who was an unsuccessful candidate for council in the 1952 election received strong support and polled the highest vote of the four unsuccessful candidates.

He is a member of the Masonic Fraternity, the Young Men's Republican Club, and Vice Councilor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics of Maryland. He has served for 25 years as recording secretary of Freedom Council 123, Jr. OUAM, of Frostburg. He is the husband of the former Miss Eleanor Thomas of Frostburg and the father of two daughters, Lorraine and Leannah Martens.

Martens is the first aspirant for a position in the city council, to announce his candidacy.

G. Franklin Martens Enters Frostburg Council Contest

McCulloh St. Man Is First To File

FROSTBURG—G. Franklin Martens, 164 McCulloh Street, has announced his candidacy for the office of city councilman subject to the vote of the people at the coming municipal primary.

Martens is employed by the Cumberland Undergarment Company as foreman of their stock room. He is president of the Eastend Playground Association and is assistant Sunday School superintendent at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church. Other civic activities in which he is interested includes the Boy Scouts. As a neighborhood Boy Scout leader, he gives much of his spare time to advancing the interest of the Scout movement here.

Martens who was an unsuccessful candidate for council in the 1952 election received strong support and polled the highest vote of the four unsuccessful candidates.

He is a member of the Masonic Fraternity, the Young Men's Republican Club, and Vice Councilor of the Junior Order United American Mechanics of Maryland. He has served for 25 years as recording secretary of Freedom Council 123, Jr. OUAM, of Frostburg. He is the husband of the former Miss Eleanor Thomas of Frostburg and the father of two daughters, Lorraine and Leannah Martens.

Martens is the first aspirant for a position in the city council, to announce his candidacy.

LISTEN...

Someone told him you could hear the sounds of the sea by listening to the shell. And he believes it. His youthful imagination and impressionable mind work along with the sound waves of the shell to recall quite vividly the rolling of the waves and the pounding of the surf.

The alert mind of youth is always susceptible to suggestion and experimentation. That is why education is begun so early in life when new ideas are grasped more readily by eager minds. This is the time of life when character and personality are molded.

Why then do we hesitate so often to grasp this opportunity? Why do we let Sunday after Sunday roll by without bringing our children to the services of the Church? Here the most wonderful ideas and plans for living are passed on to receptive young minds. Not idle notions, but thoughts of love, understanding, and brotherhood are implanted.

Enable your child and encourage the children of others to receive these priceless benefits. It will mean much to them now . . . even more later.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Someone told him you could hear the sounds of the sea by listening to the shell. And he believes it. His youthful imagination and impressionable mind work along with the sound waves of the shell to recall quite vividly the rolling of the waves and the pounding of the surf.

The alert mind of youth is always susceptible to suggestion and experimentation. That is why education is begun so early in life when new ideas are grasped more readily by eager minds. This is the time of life when character and personality are molded.

Why then do we hesitate so often to grasp this opportunity? Why do we let Sunday after Sunday roll by without bringing our children to the services of the Church? Here the most wonderful ideas and plans for living are passed on to receptive young minds. Not idle notions, but thoughts of love, understanding, and brotherhood are implanted.

Enable your child and encourage the children of others to receive these priceless benefits. It will mean much to them now . . . even more later.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lions Cop 12th Victory In Row At Petersburg

Bag West Virginia Loop Crown Second Year In Row, 48-45

PETERSBURG, Feb. 12—Piedmont High School's basketeers captured the Potomac Valley Conference championship for the second straight season by defeating a scrappy Petersburg High quint here tonight by the score of 48-45 before a gathering of 500 spectators.

The victory was the 12th straight for Coach William "Huck" Miers' Lions in the West Virginia circuit. It also was the Mineral Countians' 17th triumph against two losses this season.

Petersburg led at the close of the first period, 13-0, also at halftime, 24-22, and at the close of the third stanza, 38-37. Midway in the final quarter George Campbell's foul goal knotted the count at 40-40, Charley Miller picked up a lose ball and drove in for the goal that sent the Lions to the fore at 42-40 with 4:15 left to play. The visitors held the lead to the final whistle.

Three players made their exit via personal fouls in the final period. They were Campbell, of Piedmont, and Kessel and Brill of Petersburg.

Kessel was the game's high scorer with 16 points. Glenn Smith and Campbell headed the Lions point-makers with 13 and 12 markers. Lineups:

PIEDMONT HIGH SCHOOL CAGERS REPEAT—Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont High School floormen retained the Potomac Valley Conference basketball championship by scoring their 12th consecutive win in the 14-school circuit at the expense of Petersburg High School last night by the score of 48-45. The victory was the Lions' 17th in 19 starts this season. Piedmont has only two more games on its PVC schedule and has an opportunity to extend its string to 14 straight. The Lions have won both the PVC and Mineral County League titles two years in a row. Members of the championship squad, left to right, are: Robert Bateson, Robert Niland, Paul Amtower, Clay Smith, George Campbell, Eddie Orndorff, John Lupis, Kemper Kline, John Jackson, Glenn Smith, Charles Miller and Harry Taylor. The Piedmont quint has won seven straight in the Mineral County League and winds up its campaign in that loop with Fort Ashby.

ROBERT "Sparky" Chisholm, the Cumberlander who has umpired in the Appalachian, Evangeline and Piedmont leagues during the past three seasons, is now in North Carolina, helping set up the facilities for the Carolinas' Baseball and Umpires' School which convenes March 8 and continues through April 3.

"Sparky" has not made any connections in regards to umpiring in the minors this year but there is still a chance that he will windup in the Texas or Western International League.

Jimmy Foxx, Hall of Fame player from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, who starred for many years with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, is the chief supervisor of the school in North Carolina.

Among the scouts who will be on hand to lecture the students are Bill Harris, Yankees; Wes Livengood, Phillies; Frank Scalzie, Giants; Neil Mallard, Reds; Hal "Rube" Wilson, Cubs, and Pud Mackie, Cleveland Indians.

The school is located at Newton, N. C. just 40 miles west of Charlotte.

Chisholm doesn't believe there is a better school nor a less expensive school than the one in North Carolina for a boy wanting to get into baseball.

THE DEATH of Mrs. Nelle C. Keegan, wife of William V. Keegan, city finance commissioner, following an illness of several months, was saddening news to the many friends of a very fine lady.

After having known Mrs. Keegan for 30 years I was terribly grieved to learn of her death and wish to express my deepest sympathy to her husband and members of her family.

Mrs. Keegan's memory will always be treasured by those who had the privilege of knowing her sunny disposition, her fine mind and her affectionate heart.

VINNIE FARRELL, internationally known basketball official, from Newark, N. J., has been named to referee the Seventh Central American Olympic Games to be held in Mexico City, March 6 to 20.

This will be Vinnie's seventh trip to Latin America where he is known as "Uncle Sam's Whistling Ambassador."

Farrell, who is a teacher in the Newark school system, has officiated here in past years and has many friends in Cumberland.

"CHUCK" TAYLOR, who professes to be a national basketball expert, says Rod Hundley of the West Virginia University Freshmen quint, is the "best basketball player in the United States."

Hundley plays with the Mountaineer yearlings at Potomac State College, Keyser, next Thursday night.

There should be a lot of "judges" on hand to hand down an opinion on Hundley, who was supposed to be in such great demand after he was graduated from high school that several college coaches were almost killed in the rush.

THE HARLEM Globe Trotters, scheduled to appear here Saturday, March 13, are now on a tour of Japan. There are 32 members in the party, including the Boston Whirlwinds, who are participating in the games with the Trotters.

A twelve-game schedule has been arranged in the Orient. It is the Trotters' second visit to Japan in as many years.

ARONE DIUBALDO, former Bruce High School soccer ace, who led the scorers of the W.M.I. League in 1929, 1930 and 1931 and hung up the league record of 47 points in the latter year, is now a topnotch bowler.

Last week he established a season record in the Westvaco League by toppling 623 pins in three games. Included was a single game of 262.

LITTLE MUSSELMAN High School of Berkeley county is now the only undefeated scholastic quint in West Virginia with a 10-0 record. The school is located halfway between Martinsburg and Winchester. The team is known as the "Applemen" because the Musselman apple butter cannery is located there.

CHARLES TOWN'S 25-day race meeting gets under way just one week from today. Post time for the opener each day is 1 p. m.

Carlyle Johnson is publicity director for the West Virginia track and he certainly knows how to sling the ink.

Johnson worked several jobs at Fairgo in bygone days. He first came here as chartmaker for Triangle Publications and later worked in the pari-mutuel department.

THE CHARLES TOWN American Legion quint, sparked by the sharpshooting of "Skippy" Hill, who racked up 11 field goals, whipped the Hagerstown Cabineers last Sunday by the score of 85-74.

Hagerstown beat the Old Germans twice this season and Charles Town trimmed the Old Germans last year by the score of 90-78.

Don Moran scored only seven points against the Legion team last Sunday afternoon. He collected 26 last Sunday night as the Old Germans defeated the Fort Meade Generals.

McGowan Will Scout For Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Frank McGowan, former major league outfielder and onetime manager of the International League Orioles was signed today as a scout for the new American League Orioles.

McGowan, who is 52, will seek new talent for the Birds from the Connecticut area.

He played for the Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns and Boston Braves with occasional returns to Triple-A ball from 1922 to 1937.

McGowan managed the Orioles to a third place finish in 1933.

SS. Peter And Paul Shoots For 14th Win

SS. Peter and Paul's undefeated quint will go after its 14th victory of the CYO Basketball League season Sunday when it faces St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage at 3 p. m. on SS. Peter and Paul court.

In the opener of the twin bill at 2 o'clock, St. Mary's will play St. Patrick's of Cumberland.

St. Peter's, Westernport, invades Frostburg tomorrow to play St. Michael's at 2:30 o'clock.

Explorer Cagers Top Hornets For 13th Win, 69-63

Bruce May Scores 23 Points For Hyndman

LaSalle High's Explorers squared accounts with the Hyndman Hornets last night, as they staved off a late rally, to down the Pennsylvanians, 69-63, on the SS. Peter and Paul floor.

The Hornets had taken an earlier season contest from the LaSalle quint, when Bruce May paced them to a 55-52 upset victory, on the Hyndman floor.

It was May who led the visitors' second half rally last night, as the high scoring center, after being held to seven points in the first half, scored 16 points before fouling out, with 4:12 remaining in the game.

At one point in the final period, Chris Stoner's Pennsy five pulled to within four points of the locals, when a jump shot by May brought the score up to 57-53, but Phil Geatz, "Rickey" Harris, and Hugh Nolan flipped in three quick field goals, to spread the margin to 10 points, 63-53.

Shortly after this, May committed his fifth personal of the game, with the score standing 67-55, LaSalle. The Hornets were not to be denied, however, as they held the Explorers to two points, while tallying eight themselves, in the final moments of play.

Three other players followed May to the showers via the foul route. Harris left with 3:58 showing on the clock, Don May made his exit with 1:58 remaining to be played, and Geatz departed with 1:19 left.

Geatz and Bill Dove paced the winner's attack, with 18 points each, while Bruce May headed the scorers from both clubs, with 23 markers, to bring his season's total to 491 points.

For the Explorers, it was their 13th win in 19 games, while the loss left the Hornets with a record of 14 wins and eight losses for the season.

FROSTBURG, Md., Feb. 12 — Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Beall High Mountaineers topped the Fort Hill Sentinels here tonight, 65-58, in a game which could very well throw a different light on the district Class "A" title picture.

The win gave the Frostburgers a 2-2 mark in Class A play, while it was Fort Hill's second loss against one win, in the race for the right to represent this county in the district playoffs next month. A Sentinel win over Allegany next week would throw the race into a three-way tie between the trio of teams involved.

Jim Sigler, Beall forward, led both teams in scoring, as he collected 11 field goals and one foul, for a grand total of 23 points. Bob Brant, with five field goals, and 11-15 at the charity stripe, headed the losers with 21 tallies.

Pinkney Holmes, other Mountaineer forward, was the only player to leave the game on personal fouls, making his exit in the fourth quarter.

The win was the tenth of the season for Finzel's crew, in 16 starts, while for the Sentinels, it marked their 10th loss, against eight wins.

Lions Cop 12th Victory In Row At Petersburg

Bag West Virginia Loop Crown Second Year In Row, 48-45

PETERSBURG, Feb. 12—Piedmont High School's basketeers captured the Potomac Valley Conference championship for the second straight season by defeating a scrappy Petersburg High quint here tonight by the score of 48-45 before a gathering of 500 spectators.

The victory was the 12th straight for Coach William "Huck" Miers' Lions in the West Virginia circuit. It also was the Mineral Countians' 17th triumph against two losses this season.

Petersburg led at the close of the first period, 13-0, also at halftime, 24-22, and at the close of the third stanza, 38-37. Midway in the final quarter George Campbell's foul goal knotted the count at 40-40, Charley Miller picked up a lose ball and drove in for the goal that sent the Lions to the fore at 42-40 with 4:15 left to play. The visitors held the lead to the final whistle.

Three players made their exit via personal fouls in the final period. They were Campbell, of Piedmont, and Kessel and Brill of Petersburg.

Kessel was the game's high scorer with 16 points. Glenn Smith and Campbell headed the Lions point-makers with 13 and 12 markers. Lineups:

PIEDMONT HIGH SCHOOL CAGERS REPEAT—Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont High School floormen retained the Potomac Valley Conference basketball championship by scoring their 12th consecutive win in the 14-school circuit at the expense of Petersburg High School last night by the score of 48-45. The victory was the Lions' 17th in 19 starts this season. Piedmont has only two more games on its PVC schedule and has an opportunity to extend its string to 14 straight. The Lions have won both the PVC and Mineral County League titles two years in a row. Members of the championship squad, left to right, are: Robert Bateson, Robert Niland, Paul Amtower, Clay Smith, George Campbell, Eddie Orndorff, John Lupis, Kemper Kline, John Jackson, Glenn Smith, Charles Miller and Harry Taylor. The Piedmont quint has won seven straight in the Mineral County League and winds up its campaign in that loop with Fort Ashby.

ROBERT "Sparky" Chisholm, the Cumberlander who has umpired in the Appalachian, Evangeline and Piedmont leagues during the past three seasons, is now in North Carolina, helping set up the facilities for the Carolinas' Baseball and Umpires' School which convenes March 8 and continues through April 3.

"Sparky" has not made any connections in regards to umpiring in the minors this year but there is still a chance that he will windup in the Texas or Western International League.

Jimmy Foxx, Hall of Fame player from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, who starred for many years with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, is the chief supervisor of the school in North Carolina.

Among the scouts who will be on hand to lecture the students are Bill Harris, Yankees; Wes Livengood, Phillies; Frank Scalzie, Giants; Neil Mallard, Reds; Hal "Rube" Wilson, Cubs, and Pud Mackie, Cleveland Indians.

The school is located at Newton, N. C. just 40 miles west of Charlotte.

Chisholm doesn't believe there is a better school nor a less expensive school than the one in North Carolina for a boy wanting to get into baseball.

THE DEATH of Mrs. Nelle C. Keegan, wife of William V. Keegan, city finance commissioner, following an illness of several months, was saddening news to the many friends of a very fine lady.

After having known Mrs. Keegan for 30 years I was terribly grieved to learn of her death and wish to express my deepest sympathy to her husband and members of her family.

Mrs. Keegan's memory will always be treasured by those who had the privilege of knowing her sunny disposition, her fine mind and her affectionate heart.

VINNIE FARRELL, internationally known basketball official, from Newark, N. J., has been named to referee the Seventh Central American Olympic Games to be held in Mexico City, March 6 to 20.

This will be Vinnie's seventh trip to Latin America where he is known as "Uncle Sam's Whistling Ambassador."

Farrell, who is a teacher in the Newark school system, has officiated here in past years and has many friends in Cumberland.

"CHUCK" TAYLOR, who professes to be a national basketball expert, says Rod Hundley of the West Virginia University Freshmen quint, is the "best basketball player in the United States."

Hundley plays with the Mountaineer yearlings at Potomac State College, Keyser, next Thursday night.

There should be a lot of "judges" on hand to hand down an opinion on Hundley, who was supposed to be in such great demand after he was graduated from high school that several college coaches were almost killed in the rush.

THE HARLEM Globe Trotters, scheduled to appear here Saturday, March 13, are now on a tour of Japan. There are 32 members in the party, including the Boston Whirlwinds, who are participating in the games with the Trotters.

A twelve-game schedule has been arranged in the Orient. It is the Trotters' second visit to Japan in as many years.

ARONE DIUBALDO, former Bruce High School soccer ace, who led the scorers of the W.M.I. League in 1929, 1930 and 1931 and hung up the league record of 47 points in the latter year, is now a topnotch bowler.

Last week he established a season record in the Westvaco League by toppling 623 pins in three games. Included was a single game of 262.

LITTLE MUSSELMAN High School of Berkeley county is now the only undefeated scholastic quint in West Virginia with a 10-0 record. The school is located halfway between Martinsburg and Winchester. The team is known as the "Applemen" because the Musselman apple butter cannery is located there.

CHARLES TOWN'S 25-day race meeting gets under way just one week from today. Post time for the opener each day is 1 p. m.

Carlyle Johnson is publicity director for the West Virginia track and he certainly knows how to sling the ink.

Johnson worked several jobs at Fairgo in bygone days. He first came here as chartmaker for Triangle Publications and later worked in the pari-mutuel department.

THE CHARLES TOWN American Legion quint, sparked by the sharpshooting of "Skippy" Hill, who racked up 11 field goals, whipped the Hagerstown Cabineers last Sunday by the score of 85-74.

Hagerstown beat the Old Germans twice this season and Charles Town trimmed the Old Germans last year by the score of 90-78.

Don Moran scored only seven points against the Legion team last Sunday afternoon. He collected 26 last Sunday night as the Old Germans defeated the Fort Meade Generals.

McGowan Will Scout For Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Frank McGowan, former major league outfielder and onetime manager of the International League Orioles was signed today as a scout for the new American League Orioles.

McGowan, who is 52, will seek new talent for the Birds from the Connecticut area.

He played for the Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns and Boston Braves with occasional returns to Triple-A ball from 1922 to 1937.

McGowan managed the Orioles to a third place finish in 1933.

SS. Peter And Paul Shoots For 14th Win

SS. Peter and Paul's undefeated quint will go after its 14th victory of the CYO Basketball League season Sunday when it faces St. Patrick's of Mt. Savage at 3 p. m. on SS. Peter and Paul court.

Explorer Cagers Top Hornets For 13th Win, 69-63

Bruce May Scores 23 Points For Hyndman

LaSalle High's Explorers squared accounts with the Hyndman Hornets last night, as they staved off a late rally, to down the Pennsylvanians, 69-63, on the SS. Peter and Paul floor.

The Hornets had taken an earlier season contest from the LaSalle quint, when Bruce May paced them to a 55-52 upset victory, on the Hyndman floor.

It was May who led the visitors' second half rally last night, as the high scoring center, after being held to seven points in the first half, scored 16 points before fouling out, with 4:12 remaining in the game.

At one point in the final period, Chris Stoner's Pennsy five pulled to within four points of the locals, when a jump shot by May brought the score up to 57-53, but Phil Geatz, "Rickey" Harris, and Hugh Nolan flipped in three quick field goals, to spread the margin to 10 points, 63-53.

Shortly after this, May committed his fifth personal of the game, with the score standing 67-55, LaSalle. The Hornets were not to be denied, however, as they held the Explorers to two points, while tallying eight themselves, in the final moments of play.

Three other players followed May to the showers via the foul route. Harris left with 3:58 showing on the clock, Don May made his exit with 1:58 remaining to be played, and Geatz departed with 1:19 left.

Geatz and Bill Dove paced the winner's attack, with 18 points each, while Bruce May headed the scorers from both clubs, with 23 markers, to bring his season's total to 491 points.

For the Explorers, it was their 13th win in 19 games, while the loss left the Hornets with a record of 14 wins and eight losses for the season.

FROSTBURG, Md., Feb. 12 — Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Beall High Mountaineers topped the Fort Hill Sentinels here tonight, 65-58, in a game which could very well throw a different light on the district Class "A" title picture.

The win gave the Frostburgers a 2-2 mark in Class A play, while it was Fort Hill's second loss against one win, in the race for the right to represent this county in the district playoffs next month. A Sentinel win over Allegany next week would throw the race into a three-way tie between the trio of teams involved.

Jim Sigler, Beall forward, led both teams in scoring, as he collected 11 field goals and one foul, for a grand total of 23 points. Bob Brant, with five field goals, and 11-15 at the charity stripe, headed the losers with 21 tallies.

Pinkney Holmes, other Mountaineer forward, was the only player to leave the game on personal fouls, making his exit in the fourth quarter.

The win was the tenth of the season for Finzel's crew, in 16 starts, while for the Sentinels, it marked their 10th loss, against eight wins.

Potomac State Scores 95-93 Over Wesleyan

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—Potomac State doubled the score on a surprised West Virginia Wesleyan crew here tonight and then upset the Bobcats, 95-93, in a West Virginia Collegiate Conference basketball feature.

Wesleyan led only once in the contest, at 4-2 early in the opening period. Ralph Holder's three points then sent Potomac ahead to stay and the Catamounts were in front at 28-14 at the end of the period.

Wesleyan whittled at the Potomac lead throughout the second half, but never could close the gap. Lee Sisselberger with 30 points and Marv Kessler with 23 led Potomac to its third loop victory in 14 games.

Wesleyan, dropping its 12th league decision as against six triumphs, was sparked by Ed Hood's 25 points.

Jack Spinks, Steeler Star, Plays With Hoboes Sunday

Old Germans Arrange Valentine Program For Ladies' Night

Tomorrow will be observed as "Ladies Night" as Cumberland's Old Germans meet the Harlem Hoboes, America's talented clowning basketball team on SS. Peter and Paul court at 9 o'clock.

According to Bob Pence, player-manager of the locals, the Hoboes roster includes two of the tallest men in the independent pro cage business.

"Shorty" is big Jack Spinks, 240 pounds, 6 feet, 3 inches, who was a standout in football for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals, who handles a basketball with the ease of a man plucking grapes and "Tiny" is Ralph Brunette, who is 6 feet, 8½ inches tall and tips the beam at 195 pounds. One of the other "midgets" on the team is 6-foot-3 Glenn Bullard.

Pretty, talented Janet Ridgeley will bring 30 young, baton-twirling majorettes to enliven the Valentine Ladies' Night program at halftime. These youngsters put on an enjoyable routine of precision marching and maneuvering, including colorful sahker and baton acts. This will be an added treat for the ladies who will be admitted free if accompanied by an escort.

Tomorrow's game will be the twelfth of the season for the Old Germans who have won seven and lost four.

Spot Confectionery and 4050 Cabs will play in the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Colts Name Coach

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Frank "Red" Cumiskey has been named offensive line coach of the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League.

For the past three years the Youngstown, O., native has been working for the state of Ohio and doubling as a scout and advisory coach for professional and collegiate teams in the mid-west.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (INS)—Any fighter who can get on the card in Madison Square Garden can make twice as much today under Promoter Jim Norris as he could under the late Mike Jacobs in the so-called golden age of boxing.

It costs Norris twice as much for the preliminary bouts for any ordinary card as it did Jacobs.

The break-down may interest you. Each man in a semi-final bout gets a minimum of $1,500. Four six round bouts cost a minimum of $2,000. Two four-rounders cost $600 and an emergency four rounder costs another $100 whether it is staged or not.

That's a total of $5,700 minimum and it can and does sometimes run much higher.

Now for the main event. That bout averages about 55 percent of the net receipts for the fighters to split between them. In addition they are each assured of $4,000 TV money.

Thus you will note that the main eventers' earnings are limited only by their own drawing power. But even if they played to an empty house each fighter is assured of that $4,000 TV money.

Of course, for a title fight, the TV money may run up as high as the $300,000 paid for the Louis-Walcott fight in Chicago, with the fighters usually drawing the same percentage of TV that they draw on the gate receipts.

You will readily understand that Norris doesn't make as much from his Garden promotions as Jacobs made. One reason he doesn't is that he doesn't speculate with his own tickets as Jacobs did.

The mugs in the fight racket like to talk about the "good old days under Jacobs" and bemoan some of the small gates in the Garden these days.

But the fact is there were a great many puny gates under Jacobs as well as Norris and some of those Jacobs fights were hot numbers at the time they were staged.

For instance, two outstanding heavyweights of the time — Lou Nova and Gunnar Barland—drew only $12,000. And that was gross, mind you, not net. And the late Al (Bummy) Davis, a slugger with a large personal following, drew only $8,600 gross with Bernie Friedkin.

The mugs will say: "Yeh, but what about all those big fights Jacobs used to put on with Joe Louis in one corner?"

Okay. What about them? Last year Norris drew $167,000 in the Garden with Randy Turpin and Bobo Olson. How many Garden fights drew better in the last 20 years? Just two! Louis-Walcott and Servo-Graziano.

So the boys who can get on a Garden card are doing all right. But the trick is to get on the card and to do that the chances are 100 to 1 a fighter will have to have a manager who is either a member of or stands well with the International Fight Managers Guild.

Ted Williams Court Action Is Canceled

MIAMI, Feb. 12 (AP)—A hearing in the separate maintenance action against Ted Williams, 35-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder, was suddenly canceled today.

The baseball player is being sued by his wife for separate maintenance on grounds he "mistreated and abused" her and used "profane, abusive and obscene" language.

L. Early Curry, attorney for Mrs. Williams, had no comment when asked the reason for the cancelation.

Davis Loses, 63-62, To Tygarts Valley

DAVIS, W. Va., Feb. 12 — Tygarts Valley High School nosed out Davis High School's Wildcats in the final second of play tonight when Chandler stole the ball and meshed a layup shot to give the visitors a 63-62 triumph. The loss was the 10th straight for the locals.

Currence, center of Tygarts Valley, was the game's top scorer with 27 points. Don Shure, Davis pivot man, banged in ten fielders and 23 points. Lineups:

Schoendienst, Haddix Get Increases In Pay

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12 (AP) — Red Schoendienst and pitcher Harvey Haddix, both unhappy over early St. Louis Cardinal offers, signed today for substantial pay raises with the Redbirds.

The redheaded second baseman, who just missed the National League batting crown last year, reportedly moved close to the $50,000 class. He was paid about $35,000 last season.

Also brought into the fold was the Redbirds' prize rookie of 1953, third baseman Ray Jablonski.

The switch-hitting Schoendienst, with a .342 average last season, told newsmen he was "well satisfied" with the salary increase.

Haddix, the Redbirds' top hurler with a 20-7 record last season, is believed to have doubled his $7,000 salary of last year in the new agreement.

Davis Woman Sails To Germany

Protocol Troubles Irk Dinner Guests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 12 (AP)—There were protocol troubles last night at a dinner here for President Celal Bayar of Turkey.

Original preparations had Mayor C. D. Baker of Las Vegas sitting next to the President. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev) objected, saying he believed he, as the United States senator who issued the invitation to the President, should sit next to him.

Baker moved down one seat and McCarran took the one next to Bayar. Later the master of ceremonies failed to follow protocol as he called on the mayor first, the governor second and the senator third.

Teachers Host Gallaudet Quint At Frostburg

Frostburg State Teachers basketball team entertains the floormen of Gallaudet College of Washington, D. C., today at 2 o'clock on the Beall High School court. Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby will officiate.

Coach Kenneth Babcock's quint defeated the deaf aggregation earlier in the season by the score of 70-58 and is hopeful of sweeping the series.

In intercollegiate tests tonight, Potomac State opposes Alderson-Broaddus College at Phillippi and Roanoke (Va.) College faces the Shepherd Rams at Shepherdstown.

In a pair of high school games, West Virginia School for the Deaf plays the Virginia School for the Deaf in Virginia while Sanders High of Moorefield meets Carver High School here.

Keyser Service Clubs Observe West Virginia University Day

KEYSER—The founding of West Virginia University was observed by Keyser Kiwanis Club at its regular dinner-meeting Wednesday in the dining room of the First Methodist Church, North Davis Street. West Virginia day is observed annually by the service clubs of West Virginia, the anniversary date being February 7.

Participating on the program, were Attorney Charles Smith, moderator, a member of Kiwanis Club; Kenneth Haines, Rotarian, and John Catlett, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of Keyser Kiwanis, who arranged the program and represented the Keyser Lions Club, whose representative was unable to be present.

Calvin Kibler, member of Martinsburg Club; Robert W. Twigg, Cumberland, and William Wallace, Pine Grove, members of Circle K Club of Potomac State College, were guests.

A group of club members attended an Eastern Panhandle inter-club meeting in Martinsburg last night.

Lonaconing Rotary Hears Music Program

LONACONING—A popular music program was presented at the Lonaconing Rotary Club dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the VFW home by Felix Foote, saxophonist, who was program chairman for the evening, and three Valley High school students

Marlene Castle, vocalist; Johann Rennie, vocalist and pianist; and Bill Patton, at the drums; presented the program of popular melodies.

"Stranger in Paradise" was sung by Marlene Castle. The ensemble presented "Honey," "I Cried For You" and "Josephine." Johann Rennie sang "Say It Isn't So."

The entire group sang "Heart of My Heart"; Marlene Castle sang "Rags to Riches"; and the closing number was "I'll See You In My Dreams"

Conrad Hohing is appointed program chairman for the Rotary club meeting for next Thursday.

Cameramen Fail To Bring Cameras

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 12 (AP)—There are plenty of red faces in the recently formed Dallas Professional Photographers Assn.

Over 60 photographers attended the organization meeting and elected Sylvan Garonzik president.

Navy And Terps To Clash Today

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Maryland and Navy square off in a basketball battle here tomorrow which has all the earmarks of giving the turn-away crowd more than its money's worth.

Both teams are sporting fine records—Maryland 18-4, Navy 15-4—and both play different styles of ball.

The game already is a sellout for Dahlgren Hall, which holds 3,600.

The Middies, hold a wide 22-7 margin in the Maryland series, dating back to 1917-18 when the Middies trimmed the Terps by an unbelievable score of 58-1, the lowest any Navy opponent ever has scored.

Potomac State Scores 95-93 Over Wesleyan

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., Feb. 12 (AP)—Potomac State doubled the score on a surprised West Virginia Wesleyan crew here tonight and then upset the Bobcats, 95-93, in a West Virginia Collegiate Conference basketball feature.

Wesleyan led only once in the contest, at 4-2 early in the opening period. Ralph Holder's three points then sent Potomac ahead to stay and the Catamounts were in front at 28-14 at the end of the period.

Wesleyan whittled at the Potomac lead throughout the second half, but never could close the gap. Lee Sisselberger with 30 points and Marv Kessler with 23 led Potomac to its third loop victory in 14 games.

Wesleyan, dropping its 12th league decision as against six triumphs, was sparked by Ed Hood's 25 points.

Moorefield Wins At Romney, 60-41

ROMNEY, W. Va., Feb. 12 — Billy Bauserman dumped in 23 points tonight as the Moorefield High Yellow Jackets took Romney High's Pioneers into camp in a P.V.C. game by the score of 60-41.

The Moorefield forward scored nine field goals and meshed 5 of 7 free throws to head the point-getters of both teams. Deahl and Calhoun tossed in 14 points each.

Jack Spinks, Steeler Star, Plays With Hoboes Sunday

Old Germans Arrange Valentine Program For Ladies' Night

Tomorrow will be observed as "Ladies Night" as Cumberland's Old Germans meet the Harlem Hoboes, America's talented clowning basketball team on SS. Peter and Paul court at 9 o'clock.

According to Bob Pence, player-manager of the locals, the Hoboes roster includes two of the tallest men in the independent pro cage business.

"Shorty" is big Jack Spinks, 240 pounds, 6 feet, 3 inches, who was a standout in football for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals, who handles a basketball with the ease of a man plucking grapes and "Tiny" is Ralph Brunette, who is 6 feet, 8½ inches tall and tips the beam at 195 pounds. One of the other "midgets" on the team is 6-foot-3 Glenn Bullard.

Pretty, talented Janet Ridgeley will bring 30 young, baton-twirling majorettes to enliven the Valentine Ladies' Night program at halftime. These youngsters put on an enjoyable routine of precision marching and maneuvering, including colorful sahker and baton acts. This will be an added treat for the ladies who will be admitted free if accompanied by an escort.

Tomorrow's game will be the twelfth of the season for the Old Germans who have won seven and lost four.

Spot Confectionery and 4050 Cabs will play in the preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

Colts Name Coach

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP)—Frank "Red" Cumiskey has been named offensive line coach of the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League.

For the past three years the Youngstown, O., native has been working for the state of Ohio and doubling as a scout and advisory coach for professional and collegiate teams in the mid-west.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (INS)—Any fighter who can get on the card in Madison Square Garden can make twice as much today under Promoter Jim Norris as he could under the late Mike Jacobs in the so-called golden age of boxing.

It costs Norris twice as much for the preliminary bouts for any ordinary card as it did Jacobs.

The break-down may interest you. Each man in a semi-final bout gets a minimum of $1,500. Four six round bouts cost a minimum of $2,000. Two four-rounders cost $600 and an emergency four rounder costs another $100 whether it is staged or not.

That's a total of $5,700 minimum and it can and does sometimes run much higher.

Now for the main event. That bout averages about 55 percent of the net receipts for the fighters to split between them. In addition they are each assured of $4,000 TV money.

Thus you will note that the main eventers' earnings are limited only by their own drawing power. But even if they played to an empty house each fighter is assured of that $4,000 TV money.

Of course, for a title fight, the TV money may run up as high as the $300,000 paid for the Louis-Walcott fight in Chicago, with the fighters usually drawing the same percentage of TV that they draw on the gate receipts.

You will readily understand that Norris doesn't make as much from his Garden promotions as Jacobs made. One reason he doesn't is that he doesn't speculate with his own tickets as Jacobs did.

The mugs in the fight racket like to talk about the "good old days under Jacobs" and bemoan some of the small gates in the Garden these days.

But the fact is there were a great many puny gates under Jacobs as well as Norris and some of those Jacobs fights were hot numbers at the time they were staged.

For instance, two outstanding heavyweights of the time — Lou Nova and Gunnar Barland—drew only $12,000. And that was gross, mind you, not net. And the late Al (Bummy) Davis, a slugger with a large personal following, drew only $8,600 gross with Bernie Friedkin.

The mugs will say: "Yeh, but what about all those big fights Jacobs used to put on with Joe Louis in one corner?"

Okay. What about them? Last year Norris drew $167,000 in the Garden with Randy Turpin and Bobo Olson. How many Garden fights drew better in the last 20 years? Just two! Louis-Walcott and Servo-Graziano.

So the boys who can get on a Garden card are doing all right. But the trick is to get on the card and to do that the chances are 100 to 1 a fighter will have to have a manager who is either a member of or stands well with the International Fight Managers Guild.

Ted Williams Court Action Is Canceled

MIAMI, Feb. 12 (AP)—A hearing in the separate maintenance action against Ted Williams, 35-year-old Boston Red Sox outfielder, was suddenly canceled today.

The baseball player is being sued by his wife for separate maintenance on grounds he "mistreated and abused" her and used "profane, abusive and obscene" language.

L. Early Curry, attorney for Mrs. Williams, had no comment when asked the reason for the cancelation.

Davis Loses, 63-62, To Tygarts Valley

DAVIS, W. Va., Feb. 12 — Tygarts Valley High School nosed out Davis High School's Wildcats in the final second of play tonight when Chandler stole the ball and meshed a layup shot to give the visitors a 63-62 triumph. The loss was the 10th straight for the locals.

Currence, center of Tygarts Valley, was the game's top scorer with 27 points. Don Shure, Davis pivot man, banged in ten fielders and 23 points. Lineups:

Asks For Repeal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 12 (AP)—A Birmingham attorney today said he will ask the City Commission to repeal a two-week-old ordinance that permits Negroes and whites to compete in football and baseball.

Locke also notified the commissioners that a petition may be sought to force the athletic segregation issue to a vote of the people. Such a petition would require signatures of about 5,000 qualified voters.

Schoendienst, Haddix Get Increases In Pay

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 12 (AP) — Red Schoendienst and pitcher Harvey Haddix, both unhappy over early St. Louis Cardinal offers, signed today for substantial pay raises with the Redbirds.

The redheaded second baseman, who just missed the National League batting crown last year, reportedly moved close to the $50,000 class. He was paid about $35,000 last season.

Also brought into the fold was the Redbirds' prize rookie of 1953, third baseman Ray Jablonski.

The switch-hitting Schoendienst, with a .342 average last season, told newsmen he was "well satisfied" with the salary increase.

Davis Woman Sails To Germany

DAVIS — Mrs. George McKinnon and daughter, Karen Ann left New York recently on the USS America for Germany to join her husband, Lieut. George E. McKinnon who is stationed with the Fifth Army Hospital at Stuttgart, Germany.

Mrs. McKinnon, the former Margaret Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Grace Crawford of Davis and the late Dr. A. R. Crawford is a former supervisor and instructor in Premature Nursing at Harriet Lane of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Protocol Troubles Irk Dinner Guests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 12 (AP)—There were protocol troubles last night at a dinner here for President Celal Bayar of Turkey.

Original preparations had Mayor C. D. Baker of Las Vegas sitting next to the President. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev) objected, saying he believed he, as the United States senator who issued the invitation to the President, should sit next to him.

Baker moved down one seat and McCarran took the one next to Bayar. Later the master of ceremonies failed to follow protocol as he called on the mayor first, the governor second and the senator third.

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Mercy Coffee, a great-great-grandmother who smoked a pipe, died today aged 101.

Lindell Signs Pact

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies today received by mail the signed contract of righthander Johnny Lindell, obtained from Pittsburgh last season.

The Phillies also signed Dick Young, infielder who batted .236 while on option with Charleston, S.C., in the Sally League last year.

382 Colts Eligible

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12 (AP) — The operators of Pimlico race track said today a total of 382 colts have been kept eligible for the 1954 Pimlico Futurity by payments of $35 each.

It was estimated the futurity will have a gross value of $65,000 for its renewal this year.

Teachers Host Gallaudet Quint At Frostburg

Frostburg State Teachers basketball team entertains the floormen of Gallaudet College of Washington, D. C., today at 2 o'clock on the Beall High School court. Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby will officiate.

Coach Kenneth Babcock's quint defeated the deaf aggregation earlier in the season by the score of 70-58 and is hopeful of sweeping the series.

In intercollegiate tests tonight, Potomac State opposes Alderson-Broaddus College at Phillippi and Roanoke (Va.) College faces the Shepherd Rams at Shepherdstown.

In a pair of high school games, West Virginia School for the Deaf plays the Virginia School for the Deaf in Virginia while Sanders High of Moorefield meets Carver High School here.

Keyser Service Clubs Observe West Virginia University Day

KEYSER—The founding of West Virginia University was observed by Keyser Kiwanis Club at its regular dinner-meeting Wednesday in the dining room of the First Methodist Church, North Davis Street. West Virginia day is observed annually by the service clubs of West Virginia, the anniversary date being February 7.

Participating on the program, were Attorney Charles Smith, moderator, a member of Kiwanis Club; Kenneth Haines, Rotarian, and John Catlett, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of Keyser Kiwanis, who arranged the program and represented the Keyser Lions Club, whose representative was unable to be present.

Calvin Kibler, member of Martinsburg Club; Robert W. Twigg, Cumberland, and William Wallace, Pine Grove, members of Circle K Club of Potomac State College, were guests.

A group of club members attended an Eastern Panhandle inter-club meeting in Martinsburg last night.

Lonaconing Rotary Hears Music Program

LONACONING—A popular music program was presented at the Lonaconing Rotary Club dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the VFW home by Felix Foote, saxophonist, who was program chairman for the evening, and three Valley High school students

Marlene Castle, vocalist; Johann Rennie, vocalist and pianist; and Bill Patton, at the drums; presented the program of popular melodies.

"Stranger in Paradise" was sung by Marlene Castle. The ensemble presented "Honey," "I Cried For You" and "Josephine." Johann Rennie sang "Say It Isn't So."

The entire group sang "Heart of My Heart"; Marlene Castle sang "Rags to Riches"; and the closing number was "I'll See You In My Dreams"

Cameramen Fail To Bring Cameras

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 12 (AP)—There are plenty of red faces in the recently formed Dallas Professional Photographers Assn.

Over 60 photographers attended the organization meeting and elected Sylvan Garonzik president.

Navy And Terps To Clash Today

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 12 (AP)—Maryland and Navy square off in a basketball battle here tomorrow which has all the earmarks of giving the turn-away crowd more than its money's worth.

Both teams are sporting fine records—Maryland 18-4, Navy 15-4—and both play different styles of ball.

The game already is a sellout for Dahlgren Hall, which holds 3,600.

The Middies, hold a wide 22-7 margin in the Maryland series, dating back to 1917-18 when the Middies trimmed the Terps by an unbelievable score of 58-1, the lowest any Navy opponent ever has scored.

Fort Hill Girls Top Beall, 42-18

Frostburg Limited To Four Baskets

Fort Hill High School's girls registered their fifth win in six starts yesterday by downing the Beall High sextet at Frostburg by the score of 42-18.

Nine members of Coach Henrietta Snyder's squad broke into the scoring column and Dickel set the pace with 11 tallies on four baskets and three free throws.

Pos.	Fort Hill (42)	Beall (18)
F.	A. Leatherman	Carter
F.	Thompson	Morgan

Giambra Is Victor

NEW YORK, feb. 12 (AP) — Joey Giambra, a 4 to 1 favorite from Buffalo, scored an unpopular split decision over little Italo Scortichini, from Rome, Italy, tonight in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Giambra weighed 155¼, Scortichini 153¾ pound.

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

Hard Round Pebbles

Well, radio had Tony Wons and survived. I confidently predict that television will survive Liberace, too. These are just growing pains, kiddies. Sometimes, a man wonders, though, whether the women of this fair land are people or whether some other designation ought to be given them — say, plips — to distinguish them from the rest of us.

John Crosby

The things women go nuts over resist rational interpretation and way up on the head of the list—strenuously resisting any form of explanation — is Liberace. Still, there's no arguing that the dames go for this guy. His audience is two-thirds female. (I don't know how the one-third males got in there. Dragged, I expect. You notice it took two gals to drag each man in.)

If women vote for Liberace as a piano player—and they sure do—it raises grave questions about their competence to vote for anything. I'm not suggesting that we repeal the 19th Amendment, exactly, just that maybe we think about it a little bit.

Liberace—his dimples, his flowing curls, his flashing teeth, and (only incidentally) his piano—are now on 134 television stations, delighting heaven knows how many elderly and teen-age plips and infuriating heaven knows how many men. The program opens with Liberace, bathed in illumination liks a minor revelation. If you think he can play the piano any better with the lights on than with them off, you're kidding yourself, chum. He does just as well in the dark as he does in the daylight which is to say not very well.

The Liberace repertoire deserves special mention of its own. It isn't true, as an embittered friend of mine once said, that Liberace just plays "Lady of Spain" over and over again in different keys. He has lots of other numbers, most of them "The Warsaw Concerto." He plays them heavily with little

Hard Round Pebbles

Well, radio had Tony Wons and survived. I confidently predict that television will survive Liberace, too. These are just growing pains, kiddies. Sometimes, a man wonders, though, whether the women of this fair land are people or whether some other designation ought to be given them — say, plips — to distinguish them from the rest of us.

John Crosby

The things women go nuts over resist rational interpretation and way up on the head of the list—strenuously resisting any form of explanation — is Liberace. Still, there's no arguing that the dames go for this guy. His audience is two-thirds female. (I don't know how the one-third males got in there. Dragged, I expect. You notice it took two gals to drag each man in.)

If women vote for Liberace as a piano player—and they sure do—it raises grave questions about their competence to vote for anything. I'm not suggesting that we repeal the 19th Amendment, exactly, just that maybe we think about it a little bit.

Liberace—his dimples, his flowing curls, his flashing teeth, and (only incidentally) his piano—are now on 134 television stations, delighting heaven knows how many elderly and teen-age plips and infuriating heaven knows how many men. The program opens with Liberace, bathed in illumination liks a minor revelation. If you think he can play the piano any better with the lights on than with them off, you're kidding yourself, chum. He does just as well in the dark as he does in the daylight which is to say not very well.

The Liberace repertoire deserves special mention of its own. It isn't true, as an embittered friend of mine once said, that Liberace just plays "Lady of Spain" over and over again in different keys. He has lots of other numbers, most of them "The Warsaw Concerto." He plays them heavily with little

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Lewis G. Yaider, who passed away 1 year ago today, Feb. 13, 1953.

Dearest father, thou hast left us, and your loss we deeply feel. But twas God who called you from us, to a Home of peace and rest.
Your chair is vacant, your voice is still,
But someday, Dad, we hope to meet you on that bright and peaceful shore.
His wife, Minnie A. Yaider and Children.

In memory of Shannon Lee Jones who passed away February 13th, 1953.
Do not ask me if I miss him;
There's such a vacant place.
Often I think I hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come over me,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near me,
Though he left me one year ago.
His wife, Margaret Jones.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Lewis G. Yaider, who passed away 1 year ago today, Feb. 13, 1953.

Dearest father, thou hast left us, and your loss we deeply feel. But twas God who called you from us, to a Home of peace and rest.
Your chair is vacant, your voice is still,
But someday, Dad, we hope to meet you on that bright and peaceful shore.
His wife, Minnie A. Yaider and Children.

In memory of Shannon Lee Jones who passed away February 13th, 1953.

Do not ask me if I miss him;
There's such a vacant place,
Often I think I hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come over me,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near me,
Though he left me one year ago.
His wife, Margaret Jones.

North Branch Area Is Swept By Woods Fire

The second major fire in a little more than 48 hours destroyed 20 more acres of woodland Thursday east of North Branch.

Van Malone, chief of District 16 Fire Company, reported that the fire started on the left side and at the edge of the Western Maryland Railway tracks, raced to the top of Irons Mountain and was finally corraled after burning around the edge of the Clark orchard.

Malone reported no injuries. The Clark home was the nearest to the fire but was not threatened. Trees in the orchard also escaped harm.

A powerful wind hampered efforts of North Branch firemen and caused "plenty of trouble," Malone said. The District 16 chief summoned Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company to assist.

About 15 to 20 firemen, Western Maryland and B. & O. workmen finally joined in the fight. The fire broke out at 4 p. m. and was brought under full control about 10 p. m. When he left the scene after 10, Malone said the area was being policed by firemen as a caution against another outbreak.

Cause of the fire is not known, he added.

Malone praised efforts of North Branch, Bowman's Addition and other volunteers in controlling the fire.

Tuesday afternoon a fire, feeding on long, dry grass and fanned by high winds, burned about 25 acres near the Mackereth property at North Branch. Forty firemen and railroad workers fought that blaze.

PTA Group To Meet

The Exchange Council of the LaVale Parent-Teachers Association will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in LaVale Elementary School.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE
OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE KNOWN AS ALL THAT LOT OR PARCEL OF GROUND SITUATED ON THE NATIONAL TURNPIKE AT LAVALE, 3 MILES WESTWARD OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND KNOWN AND DESIGNATED AS LOT NO. 3 IN LONG'S ADDITION, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND IMPROVEMENTS THEREON CONSISTING OF A TWO STORY STONE AND FRAME MODERN DWELLING.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated November 10, 1951 and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland in Liber No. 252, Folio 596 and duly assigned to George W. Legge for the purpose of foreclosure and collection, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions in said mortgage, the undersigned Assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction on South Liberty Street, along side of the Second National Bank in Cumberland, Maryland on

TUESDAY, MARCH 2, 1954
At 10:30 o'clock A. M.

All that lot or parcel of land situate on the National Turnpike at LaVale, 3 miles Westward of the City of Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, and known and designated as Lot No. 3, in Long's Addition and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the Southwest corner of Lot No. 2 of said Addition and running then North 43 degrees West 457 feet with the division line between Lots Nos. 2 and 3; then North 39 degrees 30 minutes East 100 feet; then on the division line between Lots Nos. 4 and 3 South 42 degrees 45 minutes East 495.5 feet; then South 61 degrees 30 minutes West 100 feet, more or less, to the beginning. Said lot fronting on the North side of the National Turnpike opposite the Samuel Eckels House, later owned by Alexander Adams, and a plat of which said Addition is recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, in Liber No. 100, folio 139.

It being the same property which was conveyed unto Lysle R. Everhart and Margaret E. Everhart, his wife, by deed from Amy P. Cowherd, et al, dated the 5th day of October, 1945, and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland in Liber No. 205, folio 595.

Excepting, however, a small section on part of the front of said whole lot which was granted by Lysle R. Everhart and Margaret E. Everhart, his wife, and others to the State Roads Commission of Maryland, by deed dated October 19, 1948, recorded in Liber No. 222, folio 651, which deed refers to State Road Plat No. 6583.

The property was conveyed subject to the covenants contained in the last mentioned deed.

The above described property is improved by a two story stone and frame modern dwelling on National Highway in LaVale, 9 rooms, 2 baths, hot water furnace, full basement and two car frame garage.

State and county taxes and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the date of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash on day of sale and upon the ratification of said sale by the court a good and sufficient deed will be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof.

GEORGE W. LEGGE,
Assignee of Mortgage for the purpose of foreclosure

Late Flurry Of Buying Aids Stock Market To Show Boost

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—New York Central and a handful of strong leaders, together with a late flurry of buying in aircrafts, boosted the stock market ahead today.

New York Central dominated trading with a gain of 2⅛ at 25⅛ with business in that one stock amounting to nearly 11½ per cent of all of the trading done on the New York stock exchange today.

More than 300,000 shares of the stock have changed hands in the past two days since Robert R. Young declared a proxy war on Central's management in an effort to gain control of the road. And its price in that time has gone up 3½ points.

A handful of stocks had gains between 1 and 3 points including Montgomery Ward up 2⅜, Republic Aviation up 1¼, Boeing up 1⅝, United Aircraft up 2, General Electric up 1⅞, and also Celanese up 1⅛, U. S. Gypsum up 2⅜, and Westinghouse Electric up ¾.

Chrysler was another strong feature up ⅝ at 61⅛ in active trading.

Illinois Central was a prominent loser with a drop of 2⅝ at 86 after directors declared the usual dividend. Wall Street evidently expected something much better.

RKO Pictures moved narrowly to close off ⅛ at 5¼ as directors met in Atlanta to consider the offer of Howard Hughes to pay $6 a share for outstanding common.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 40 cents to a new recovery high of $114.90, only $1.40 under the 1953-54 peak established in early January of last year. That top in turn is the highest since mid-1930.

Volume amounted to 1,730,000 shares as compared with 1,860,000 shares traded yesterday.

State Roads Group Will Check Low Tipple At Pekin

The low overhanging tipple at Pekin on State Route 36, the scene of two fatal auto accidents in the past year, will be subject of State Roads Commission scrutiny next week.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble said yesterday in Annapolis he met Thursday with Russell H. Cain, chairman of the SRC, in regards to the elimination of this "dangerous traffic hazard."

McCain arranged to have Albert Grubb, bridge engineer for the SRC, come to Cumberland Wednesday or Thursday to meet with G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC.

The two men will go to the tipple that crosses Georges Creek Boulevard, make a survey and report at an early date to McCain. The latter has promised top priority to the reports.

Youth Will Get Hearing On Motor Law Charges

A hearing is set this morning for a Hyndman, Pa., youth who is being held in City Jail on charges of unauthorized use and operating a vehicle without a license after being arrested here early yesterday morning along with two companions.

Lt. James E. Van identified the prisoner as Robert Allen Logsdon, 18, adding that his companions were released after interrogation revealed they were under the impression Logsdon had been granted permission to use the car.

Lt. Van said Logsdon told him he had been paid a dollar by the owner of the car to drive it to a garage for some repairs. When the work was completed, Logsdon said he was to have returned the car and keys to another person as the owner had been called out of town.

Instead, Logsdon admitted he kept the car for his own use. He told Lt. Van he had picked up the two others and had driven to Cumberland. The trio was arrested by Lt. John E. Sherry and Officer P. C. Jenkins after a complaint had been made by a girl whom Logsdon allegedly had accosted on a local street.

Presented Award

The Cumberland News and the Cumberland Evening and Sunday Times are among eight Maryland newspapers which received Treasury Department awards yesterday for publicizing Savings Bond campaigns.

Gov. McKeldin presented the awards at a meeting of the Maryland Press Association in Baltimore. The award consists of a copy of President Eisenhower's inaugural framed in wood taken from the inaugural platform.

Pastor Receives Assignment Here

Pastor A. D. Wetmore, of Clarksburg, has been assigned to the pastorate of the Cumberland and Frostburg Seventh-Day Adventist churches.

Mr. Wetmore assumed charge of churches in this district last Sabbath (Saturday). He succeeds Elder O. B. Gerhart, now serving in the Southern Conference.

Before coming to the Cumberland district, Pastor Wetmore served churches in Clarksburg and Shinnston. He and his wife are residing in LaVale.

Elder Stephen Paully, home missionary and Sabbath school secretary in the West Virginia Adventist Conference office, Parkersburg, delivered the sermon at the Saturday morning service in the local church.

Presbyterians To Hear Moderator On Sunday

theatrical flourishes and rills and usually ending with one finger scampering the length of the keyboard.

Bless my squl, if it didn't bring back memories of a dear departed aunties of mine who played that way. Auntie had almost as much hair as Liberace but no dimples and she died, unfortunately, before television was invented. Auntie would have loved Liberace.

While he's playing, other dim figures float around him—a girl with a tambourine, or men with violins, or what have you. Liberace's counterpoint to an electric guitar reminds me of a statement Joseph Conrad made about another piano player in "Victory" who, he said, rained notes like hard round pebbles on the defenseless skulls of the onlookers.

Once in awhile, Liberace raises his lungs—he has a voice like an unsuccessful contestant on the Amateur Hour — in song and on these occasions you are thankful that nobody has written words to "The Warsaw Concerto." He does comedy numbers, too, horrible enough to drive Victor Borge right back to serious music and in these he is likely to do great violence to some of the finest music Wagner ever wrote by affixing silly lyrics to them.

Still, he's on 134 television stations as millions of plips swoon from New York to Amarillo. Just after he faded back into the darkness singing that he'd be seeing me when the night is new (Like fudge he will!), I got out some of the records of Buddy Weed, a pianist who has more talent in his index finger than Liberace in all 10, and played them. They were wonderfully soothing.

North Branch Area Is Swept By Woods Fire

The second major fire in a little more than 48 hours destroyed 20 more acres of woodland Thursday east of North Branch.

Van Malone, chief of District 16 Fire Company, reported that the fire started on the left side and at the edge of the Western Maryland Railway tracks, raced to the top of Irons Mountain and was finally corraled after burning around the edge of the Clark orchard.

Malone reported no injuries. The Clark home was the nearest to the fire but was not threatened. Trees in the orchard also escaped harm.

A powerful wind hampered efforts of North Branch firemen and caused "plenty of trouble," Malone said. The District 16 chief summoned Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company to assist.

About 15 to 20 firemen, Western Maryland and B. & O. workmen finally joined in the fight. The fire broke out at 4 p. m. and was brought under full control about 10 p. m. When he left the scene after 10, Malone said the area was being policed by firemen as a caution against another outbreak.

Cause of the fire is not known, he added.

Malone praised efforts of North Branch, Bowman's Addition and other volunteers in controlling the fire.

Tuesday afternoon a fire, feeding on long, dry grass and fanned by high winds, burned about 25 acres near the Mackereth property at North Branch. Forty firemen and railroad workers fought that blaze.

PTA Group To Meet

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE KNOWN AS ALL THAT LOT OR PARCEL OF GROUND SITUATED ON THE NATIONAL TURNPIKE AT LAVALE, 3 MILES WESTWARD OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND KNOWN AND DESIGNATED AS LOT NO. 3 IN LONG'S ADDITION, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND, AND IMPROVEMENTS THEREON CONSISTING OF A TWO STORY STONE AND FRAME MODERN DWELLING.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated November 10, 1951 and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland in Liber No. 252, Folio 596 and duly assigned to George W. Legge for the purpose of foreclosure and collection, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions in said mortgage, the undersigned Assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction on South Liberty Street, along side of the Second National Bank in Cumberland, Maryland on

At 10:30 o'clock A. M.

All that lot or parcel of land situate on the National Turnpike at LaVale, 3 miles Westward of the City of Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, and known and designated as Lot No. 3, in Long's Addition and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the Southwest corner of Lot No. 2 of said Addition and running then North 43 degrees West 457 feet with the division line between Lots Nos. 2 and 3; then North 39 degrees 30 minutes East 100 feet; then on the division line between Lots Nos. 4 and 3 South 42 degrees 45 minutes East 495.5 feet; then South 61 degrees 30 minutes West 100 feet, more or less, to the beginning. Said lot fronting on the North side of the National Turnpike opposite the Samuel Eckels House, later owned by Alexander Adams, and a plat of which said Addition is recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, in Liber No. 100, folio 139.

It being the same property which was conveyed unto Lysle R. Everhart and Margaret E. Everhart, his wife, by deed from Amy P. Cowherd, et al. dated the 5th day of October, 1945, and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland in Liber No. 205, folio 595.

Excepting, however, a small section on part of the front of said whole lot which was granted by Lysle R. Everhart and Margaret E. Everhart, his wife, and others to the State Roads Commission of Maryland, by deed dated October 19, 1948, recorded in Liber No. 222, folio 651, which deed refers to State Road Plat No. 6583.

The property was conveyed subject to the covenants contained in the last mentioned deed.

The above described property is improved by a two story stone and frame modern dwelling on National Highway in LaVale, 9 rooms, 2 baths, hot water furnace, full basement and two car frame garage.

State and county taxes and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the date of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash on day of sale and upon the ratification of said sale by the court a good and sufficient deed will be delivered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof.

GEORGE W. LEGGE,
Assignee of Mortgage for the purpose of foreclosure

Late Flurry Of Buying Aids Stock Market To Show Boost

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—New York Central and a handful of strong leaders, together with a late flurry of buying in aircrafts, boosted the stock market ahead today.

New York Central dominated trading with a gain of 2⅛ at 25⅛ with business in that one stock amounting to nearly 11½ per cent of all of the trading done on the New York stock exchange today.

More than 300,000 shares of the stock have changed hands in the past two days since Robert R. Young declared a proxy war on Central's management in an effort to gain control of the road. And its price in that time has gone up 3½ points.

A handful of stocks had gains between 1 and 3 points including Montgomery Ward up 2⅜, Republic Aviation up 1¼, Boeing up 1⅝, United Aircraft up 2, General Electric up 1⅞, and also Celanese up 1⅛, U. S. Gypsum up 2⅜, and Westinghouse Electric up ¾.

Chrysler was another strong feature up ⅝ at 61⅛ in active trading.

Illinois Central was a prominent loser with a drop of 2⅝ at 86 after directors declared the usual dividend. Wall Street evidently expected something much better.

RKO Pictures moved narrowly to close off ⅛ at 5¼ as directors met in Atlanta to consider the offer of Howard Hughes to pay $6 a share for outstanding common.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 40 cents to a new recovery high of $114.90, only $1.40 under the 1953-54 peak established in early January of last year. That top in turn is the highest since mid-1930.

Volume amounted to 1,730,000 shares as compared with 1,860,000 shares traded yesterday.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Feb. 10:

State Roads Group Will Check Low Tipple At Pekin

The low overhanging tipple at Pekin on State Route 36, the scene of two fatal auto accidents in the past year, will be subject of State Roads Commission scrutiny next week.

State Senator Robert B. Kimble said yesterday in Annapolis he met Thursday with Russell H. Cain, chairman of the SRC, in regards to the elimination of this "dangerous traffic hazard."

McCain arranged to have Albert Grubb, bridge engineer for the SRC, come to Cumberland Wednesday or Thursday to meet with G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC.

The two men will go to the tipple that crosses Georges Creek Boulevard, make a survey and report at an early date to McCain. The latter has promised top priority to the reports.

Youth Will Get Hearing On Motor Law Charges

A hearing is set this morning for a Hyndman, Pa., youth who is being held in City Jail on charges of unauthorized use and operating a vehicle without a license after being arrested here early yesterday morning along with two companions.

Lt. James E. Van identified the prisoner as Robert Allen Logsdon, 18, adding that his companions were released after interrogation revealed they were under the impression Logsdon had been granted permission to use the car.

Lt. Van said Logsdon told him he had been paid a dollar by the owner of the car to drive it to a garage for some repairs. When the work was completed, Logsdon said he was to have returned the car and keys to another person as the owner had been called out of town.

Instead, Logsdon admitted he kept the car for his own use. He told Lt. Van he had picked up the two others and had driven to Cumberland. The trio was arrested by Lt. John E. Sherry and Officer P. C. Jenkins after a complaint had been made by a girl whom Logsdon allegedly had accosted on a local street.

Presented Award

The Cumberland News and the Cumberland Evening and Sunday Times are among eight Maryland newspapers which received Treasury Department awards yesterday for publicizing Savings Bond campaigns.

Gov. McKeldin presented the awards at a meeting of the Maryland Press Association in Baltimore. The award consists of a copy of President Eisenhower's inaugural framed in wood taken from the inaugural platform.

Pastor Receives Assignment Here

Pastor A. D. Wetmore, of Clarksburg, has been assigned to the pastorate of the Cumberland and Frostburg Seventh-Day Adventist churches.

Mr. Wetmore assumed charge of churches in this district last Sabbath (Saturday). He succeeds Elder O. B. Gerhart, now serving in the Southern Conference.

Before coming to the Cumberland district, Pastor Wetmore served churches in Clarksburg and Shinnston. He and his wife are residing in LaVale.

Presbyterians To Hear Moderator On Sunday

Dr. Walter Cremeans, of Baltimore, moderator of the Baltimore Presbytery, will speak at the 11 a. m. service at Southminster Presbyterian Church.

His talk will follow Sunday school which convenes at 10 a. m.

Bless my soul, if it didn't bring back memories of a dear departed aunties of mine who played that way. Auntie had almost as much hair as Liberace but no dimples and she died, unfortunately, before television was invented. Auntie would have loved Liberace.

While he's playing, other dim figures float around him—a girl with a tambourine, or men with violins, or what have you. Liberace's counterpoint to an electric guitar reminds me of a statement Joseph Conrad made about another piano player in "Victory" who, he said, rained notes like hard round pebbles on the defenseless skulls of the onlookers.

Once in awhile, Liberace raises his lungs—he has a voice like an unsuccessful contestant on the Amateur Hour — in song and on these occasions you are thankful that nobody has written words to "The Warsaw Concerto." He does comedy numbers, too, horrible enough to drive Victor Borge right back to serious music and in these he is likely to do great violence to some of the finest music Wagner ever wrote by affixing silly lyrics to them.

Still, he's on 134 television stations as millions of plips swoon from New York to Amarillo. Just after he faded back into the darkness singing that he'd be seeing me when the night is new (Like fudge he will!), I got out some of the records of Buddy Weed, a pianist who has more talent in his index finger than Liberace in all 10, and played them. They were wonderfully soothing.

Million Dollars More Asked For State Building

Would Advance Cost To $11,000,000 Level

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 12 (AP)—The General Assembly was asked today to approve another million dollars for a State office-building center in Baltimore, making the total 11 million.

Ten million had been approved in two earlier authorizations.

The new request, introduced by Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th) in the House and President Della (D-Balto 6th) in the Senate, was made at the suggestion of the Board of Public Works.

The agency felt the previously authorized 10 million was a bit shy of the amount needed to set the project up across from the Fifth Regiment Armory.

In effect, the bills would repeal the 1945 authorization of a two million dollar bond issue and substitute authorization of a three million bond issue. One million would be designed for clearance of slum dwellings on the site.

Budget Headstart

Another joint proposal would call on the governor to submit his budget proposals at least 12 days in advance of the convening of the Legislature during even-number years. That's when the Assembly meets for only 30 days, instead of 90. Present custom is for the governor to present his fiscal program shortly after the session gets under way.

The Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means Committees, whose job it is to scrutinze the budget recommendations, sponsored resolutions urging that the governor present his program to the Legislature by Jan. 20 before short sessions, giving more time for study.

Two more bills were introduced on motor vehicles. One by Del. Smith (R-Carroll) would set a minimum three-day jail sentence for driving while drunk or under the influence of narcotics. The other by Del. Ridout (D-Anne Arundel) would enable prosecutors to use chemical "drunkometer" tests as evidence in drunken driving cases.

Other new proposals would set 10 per cent as the maximum interest rate on the first $500 of a retail installment purchase, and express confidence and appreciation in the state movie censors.

Seek Building Data

Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) and Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) sponsored a Senate resolution aimed at giving legislators a better idea of planned capital improvements. The resolution would ask the governor to include future building enlargements and operating costs in submitting his capital improvements program each year.

Kimble also introduced a bill to clarify when prisoners may be paroled, and Goldstein and Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) proposed that utility rates be based principally on the original cost equipment.

The utility rates bill is a favorite theme of Phoebus. Gas companies and similar firms are allowed by law a minimum rate of return on their investment. Phoebus contends that, in determining how much the firms have invested, the original cost of the equipment should be used. The companies argued that, since prices on equipment might increase, the replacement cost should be used in figuring the investment.

City Protest Filed Against Gas Rate Boost

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, has filed an official protest with the Maryland Public Service Commission in connection with the C & A Gas Company's petition for an increase in gas rates.

Filing of the protest, as authorized by the Mayor and Council Monday, makes the city an intervenor in the rate increase case.

The company is asking for new rates which will provide an overall 24 per cent increase from its customers in Maryland and West Virginia.

Finan will attend a mass meeting scheduled in City Hall Monday at 7:30 p. m. by B & O Federation No. 7 in order to explain details of the city's protest and to tell what can be done to fight the boost in rates.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who has accepted an invitation to sit in on the meeting, said yesterday he has asked the gas company to send one of its representatives to the meeting.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones, Lansdale, Pa., announce the birth of a son on Wednesday. The father is a former resident of Cresaptown.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wolfe, 719 North Mechanic Street, a son Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Everett, Junction, W. Va., a daughter Thursday.

Sacred Heart Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, 159 Polk Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shockey, Lonaconing, a son yesterday.

Prepare Freedom Balloons

The balloons being prepared by Charles Robinette, president and Herman L. Myers, secretary of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Mayor Roy W. Eves were released from City Hall Plaza early yesterday afternoon by the lodge to mark the opening of Freedom Week here. The balloons were similar to those sent by Crusade for Freedom to people behind the Iron Curtain.

Douglas Defers Decision On Bid To Visit Oldtown

Justice William O. Douglas has deferred a decision on an invitation to stop at Oldtown during his trek along the route of the historic C & O Canal.

The Supreme Court justice recently wrote to Ross F. Shaw, Oldtown, expressing thanks for an invitation to stop at Oldtown.

Plans for the trek, he said, have not been formulated as yet, "although we do expect to get under way sometime about mid-March."

He added he would like to defer any decision on the proposed stop until more definite arrangements are made.

Program Planned

Shaw had written to Justice Douglas early this month, asking him to stop at Oldtown, where a program would be planned in Oldtown School in his honor. Shaw has also planned to take Justice Douglas to the Cresap monument there, and to lay a wreath on the grave of the founder of the town.

Justice Douglas recently filed a sharp personal dissent on government plans to construct a two-lane highway over the route of the historic canal, saying the area is a "long stretch of quiet and peace at the Capitol's back door."

Offer Is Accepted

His remarks, made in connection with a Washington Post editorial backing the Parkway plan, included an invitation for the writer to accompany him on a hike over the 185-mile stretch from Washington to Cumberland. The offer was quickly accepted by two of the staff.

Senator J. Glenn Beall has also invited Justice Douglas to visit his home in Frostburg during the visit to Western Maryland.

Justice Douglas might also wish to visit Westernport while on his visit here, since the town gets its name from the fact that it was planned as the western terminal of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Road Sanitation Program Praised By SRC Official

Appreciation for the help of the Allegany County Health Department in eliminating unsanitary conditions on Allegany County highways has been expressed by an area State Roads Commission official.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, told Dr. Winter R. Frantz that 100 of the 199 complaints filed this year by the SRC have already been corrected.

Chaires recently conferred with J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, on the progress being made on the campaign to make highways of the area sanitary.

Most of the complaints, Chaires reported, resulted from the lack of proper septic tank installations or from failure of drainage fields due to soil conditions.

He added the SRC will have other cases to bring up as the program progresses, and that the department appreciated the help being offered by the Health Department.

The drive which began here last year has attracted considerable attention throughout the state. Its success resulted chiefly from full cooperation of the Health Department, the State Roads Commission and the County Commissioners—who issued court orders for corrective measures.

The program will be widened this spring as the County Roads Department joins the health and safety drive.

Wills Creek Ave. Couple Praises Aid Of Firemen

A Wills Creek Avenue couple, whose home was damaged by fire last month, recently wrote a letter to Commissioner John J. Long, citing their appreciation for the aid given by city firemen.

The letter, received from Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rosenmarkle, 107 Wills Creek Avenue, reads as follows:

"We would like to take this means of extending our thanks to the firemen from West Side station and also the men who were here from Central, when our home was on fire two weeks ago.

"We feel they did a wonderful job in keeping the fire from spreading and were very careful with our furniture and really kept the damages to an absolute minimum. We feel very lucky to know we have such thoughtful and well-trained men ready to help us in emergencies."

Poultry Growers Meet At LaVale

Plans are being completed for the annual Allegany County poultry meeting which will be held all day Thursday, March 18, at the LaVale Fire Hall, according to County Agent Ralph F. McHenry.

The county agent is sending letters to all county men and women interested in raising poultry.

"This year again we are especially inviting the ladies who are interested in poultry production to attend this meeting," McHenry said. "On many farms the women folk are the poultry managers and we particularly want them to meet with us," the agent added.

The meeting will start about 10 a. m. and will end at 3:30 p. m.

Allegany Senior Orchestra Plans Concert Feb. 26

The Allegany High School Senior Orchestra will present an all-orchestra concert Friday, February 26, at 7:45 p. m. at the school auditorium, S. Lua Syckes, music director, announces.

The program will be divided into two parts, with the 30-member concert orchestra presenting the first portion, and a 12-member dance orchestra giving the second half. All members of the dance orchestra are selected from the concert body, Syckes said.

Following the concert presentation a students' dance will be held in the high school gymnasium beginning at 9:30 o'clock with the dance orchestra providing music for the hop. Tickets to the concert will be honored at the dance, Syckes added.

A new innovation will be the presentation of special prizes to the audience this year, the orchestra director continued. Three prizes will be presented at intermission.

Tickets go on sale today at the school and any member of the orchestra can secure tickets for the concert. Home room contests will be held at the school with prizes offered to the room which sells the most tickets.

Fourteen numbers will be presented on the concert program, seven by the concert orchestra under the direction of Syckes and seven by the dance group, directed by John Ritchey, student director.

Soloists include Carol Andrews, pianist with the concert orchestra, who will play "Deep Purple," by DeRose, and Richard Ayers, vocalist with the dance band, singing "Oh My Papa," by Burkhard. Both are juniors at Allegany.

Holy Name Sunday

Members of St. Patrick's Holy Name Society will attend Communion in a body at the 7 a. m. mass tomorrow, J. Donald Murray, president, announced last night.

38,972 Citizens Now Registered For County Vote

Number Declines Again In December

Allegany County had 38,972 qualified voters as of January 1, the County Board of Election Supervisors reported yesterday.

The number dropped 13 during December as 27 new registrants were added but 36 were deleted because of death and four others at the voters' request.

Of the new registrants added at the board's office in the Court House basement 21 were Republicans and only six Democrats. The new Republicans included 17 men and four women. The new Democrats are equally divided between men and women.

50 Voters Transfer

Dropped because of death were 15 Democrats (13 men and two women) and 21 Republicans (13 men and eight women). Stricken off the poll books at their own request were two men, both Democrats, and two women, one from each party. During December there also were 50 transfers from one precinct to another, 12 voters notified the board of changed names and 14 others reported changes of address within the same precinct.

December was the last month for voters to change political affiliation before the state-wide primary election set for June 28. Of those who switched parties 30 moved from the Democratic to the Republican party (12 women and 18 men) and only four (two women and two men) from the Republican to the Democratic party.

Republicans Lead

Among the 38,972 registered as of January 1, a total of 38,519 are white and 453 colored. By political parties 22,038 (11,382 men and 10,656 women) are Republicans and 16,674 (8,624 men and 8,050 women) are Democrats. Others on the registered list include 192 (149 men and 43 women) who decline to state political preference, 23 (15 men and eight women) classified as Socialists and 45 (29 men and 16 women) belonging to other parties.

Employes of the Board of Election Supervisors are expecting the number of registered voters to swing upward as the June 28 primary nears. All residents who will be 21 years of age before November 2, 1954, the general election date, or who will have lived in the state for one year before November 2, may register now. Registration may be completed at the Board of Election Supervisors office in the Court House basement Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. until noon or from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. or on Saturday between 9 a. m. and noon.

Registrars also will sit in 19 different communities around the county between April 12 and April 30 and in Westernport, Lonaconing, Frostburg and Mt. Savage May 26, 27, 28 and 29. May 29 is the last day for registration in order to vote in the June 28 primary.

Cabbie Uses Radio To Report Blaze

West Side went to the scene. No damage was reported.

In 'Good' Condition

Leonard Kimble, 32, of Ridgeley, is reported in good condition at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted yesterday morning with an injured right shoulder suffered while unloading sand at the Corriganville batch plant of the E. J. Albrecht Company. He was admitted for observation.

Frigid Weather Keeps Grip On Tri-State Area

Mercury To Rise This Afternoon

Residents of the tri-state area, who have been shivering in the current frigid spell, can expect to remain at the mercy of Old Man Winter and his deep freeze antics.

According to a forecast by the weatherman, the overcoat and heavy clothing will continue to come in handy for outdoor wear.

Highway traffic has not been affetced, althought some icy spots were reported in certain sections of the area. The mercury was expected to dip toward the zero mark in Western Maryland during the early hours of today although by this afternoon the temperature is expected to rise to the mid-30s. Skies should be mostly sunny.

Thomas Is Cold Spot

The coldest spots last night were reported at Thomas, W. Va., four degrees above, and Mt. Lake Park, where the mercury dipped to eight degrees above. A similar reading was noted at Deal, Pa., according to the Western Maryland Railway.

Thomas also was reported to have about an inch of snow while a similar amount was noted in the Altamont and Terra Alta sector along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. At 8 p. m. the mercury stood at 10 degrees in Altamont, with a reading of 12 degrees in Blazer and 14 degrees in Terra Alta. Elkins was shivering in a temperature of 12 degrees.

Roads Are Clear

State Police at LaVale substation said roads in the immediate area were generally clear, although icy spots prevailed in sections of Garrett County.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said U. S. Route 50 was clear, although a few icy spots were reported in the Kingwood-Terra Alta section.

In Cumberland the official high for yesterday was 23 degrees, and the low, 16 degrees. The reading at 8 p. m. yesterday was 17.

In downtown Cumberland the unofficial reading at 9 p. m. was 23 degrees.

CD Siren Test Slated At Noon

Civil Defense officials have scheduled a 90-second test of this city's disaster warning system for today at noon.

Arthur B. Gibson, CD coordinator, said all sirens will be set off simultaneously in order to test relays which have been installed by C & P Telephone Company crews.

The test is planned only to check the operation of the equipment which makes up the air raid warning system.

During World War II, relays installed on sirens here gave some trouble, Gibson said.

Civil Defense officers located in key spots throughout the city will report on the sound coverage during the test. Citizens who wish to report on the test may do so by sending post cards to City Hall.

Local Eagles Backing Social Security Plan

Members of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, this week voted full support of President Eisenhower's proposal for liberalizing Social Security benefits.

Herman L. Myers, secretary, pointed out that "friends of Social Security, including Democrats and Republicans, are supporting the President's proposals." The Eagles, who pioneered in the early campaign for old age pension laws and the Social Security Act, said they view these proposals as a step forward in providing adequate old age security for all Americans.

Police, Firemen To Meet

A regular meeting of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the squad room of the Public Safety Building.

Bills To Change Delegate Strength Differ Widely

BY ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

What is a fair representation for Allegany County in the General Assembly?

That question has been asked since two widely conflicting bills were introduced in the House of Delegates in Annapolis Wednesday. Both would revise the representation in the General Assembly and both are supposed to be based on the 1950 Maryland census.

Analysis of both proposals as they affect Allegany County shows that neither would give an exact representation to this county.

Starting with the census, where both proposals apparently originated, it is found that Allegany County, with a 1950 official population of 89,556, has 3.8 per cent of the state's population of 2,343,001. Ideally, then, this county should have 3.8 per cent of the representation in the State House.

In the House of Delegates Allegany County has six, or 4.8 per cent of the 123 delegates. In the State Senate this county has one out of 29, a percentage of 3.4. The county thus has more than its share in the House of Delegates but is under-represented in the State Senate.

Then, to take a look at the suggested remedies:

Under a bill introduced by Baltimore Delegates Hopkins and Milanicz, Allegany County would become widely under-represented in both branches of the General Assembly.

The measure would cut Allegany County to four of the 123 delegates, a percentage of only 3.2. They also would increase the number of state senators to 40, leaving this county with only one or 2.5 per cent of the whole.

Another bill, introduced by the Montgomery County Delegation, would do much better by Allegany County. This county would continue to have six delegates, but the total number in the lower house would be upped to 133, giving this county 4.5 per cent of the total representation. There would be no change in the number of senators.

Some local observers, also engaging in this mathematical game, have concluded that five members in the House of Delegates with its present strength of 123 would give this county about as close a representation to the county's share of the state population as any arithmetical conclusion.

That would be just four per cent of the representation and the county has 3.8 per cent of the population. Allegany's present one senator out of 29, 3.4 per cent, is about as close as can be arrived upon for a fair representation in the upper chamber.

High Court Upsets Ruling Of Jurist

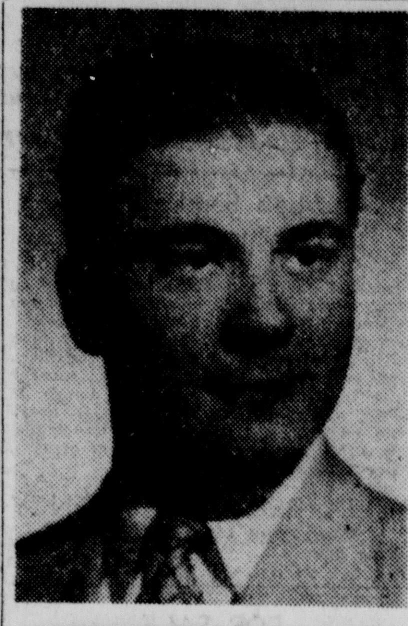
It reversed the Garrett County Circuit Court decision by Associate Judge George Henderson which increased the 23-year-old University of Maryland student's allowance from $200 to $300 a month.

Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff said in the opinion that Offutt's will reflected "caution" in allowing the trust income to come into the youth's hands and "clearly expressed the intention that the trustees were to have absolute power and discretion in fixing the amount."

Young Offutt receives $2,000 a year from $69,000 in life insurance and bonds in addition to the allowance.

When the case was argued before the appeals court last month, William J. Gunter, this city, represented young Offutt and William C. Walsh, also of this city, was attorney for the trustees.

In another appeal from Garrett County, the appeals court in Annapolis upheld a verdict of $430 for James A. Blubaugh, 49, of Eckhart, who was injured when Henry Brumage's truck skidded into the back of his car January 10, 1952, on an icy Route 6 hill.



ACCOUNTANT — Richard C. Dickerhoff, son of Carl L. Dickerhoff, Bedford Road, and Mrs. George C. Fey Sr., Baltimore Pike, recently completed the certified public accountant examination in the District of Columbia. A 1954 graduate of Fort Hill High School, he served in the Army before taking his bachelor's and master's degrees at Benjamin Franklin University. He now works in the General Accounting Office, Washington.

City Collects 89 Per Cent Of 1953-54 Levy

Tax Receipts Hit 97 Mark On Jan. 31

The City of Cumberland had collected 89 per cent of its all-time high levy for 1953-54 on January 31, as the seventh month of the current fiscal year ended, according to a report issued yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The tax levy collections were at the 97 per cent mark, with only $31,460.32 to be collected on a tax levy of $984,900.

Spending by city departments for operating expenses was at the 55 per cent mark, with 58⅓ par for the month.

The report showed that $1,245,682.90 has already been collected from the $1,400,630 levy, leaving $159,400.83 still to come in.

One account, the city's share of state racing revenues, is $4,453.73 over the estimate.

Major amounts still to be collected are some $58,000 expected from general licenses, about $22,000 from general and special income, some $9,000 from police fines, about $11,000 of recreation income and about $12,000 from state gas and auto taxes.

The various city departments had spent by January 31 a total of $644,921.31, or 55 per cent of the funds allotted for operating the city. This is about three per cent under par.

Most departments appeared to be about on schedule in their spending.

Resident Is Charged With Firing Gun Within City Limits

Joe Hartley, 612 Princeton Street, was booked at Police Headquarters at 12:30 a.m. following his arrest by Officers Kenneth W. Morrissey and Charles W. Thompson. Hartley posted $25 bond after his arrest.

Officer Morrissey said Hartley reported he was afraid the dog was going to attack his wife and daughter near the walk in front of the Hartley home. He was reported to have blasted away at the dog with a .30-30 rifle.

A hearing is set for February 17, police said.

Boy Scout Exhibit

Boy Scouts Bruce Crothers and Earl Rinehart of Troop 1 stand by their unit's archery display, which attracted scores of interested visitors last night at the Boy Scout Circus at the State Armory. The exhibit was one of several staged by each of Cumberland's 13 Boy Scout troops to emphasize the opening of Boy Scout Week. Several other activities are planned for next week.

Funeral Today For Child Found Dead In Bathtub

Autopsy Shows Victim Drowned

Four-month-old Karen Gail Rephann, who was found dead in a partially filled bathtub early Thursday morning at her home in Bowman's Addition will be buried at 10 a.m. today in a graveside service in Eckhart Cemetery.

Her mother, Mrs. Shirley Alice (Geary) Rephann, 23, who is being held in the detention ward of the Allegany County Infirmary, will not be present, on the advice of a physician who said she is in a "nervous condition."

Drowning Caused Death

Death of the child, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, was due to drowning. An autopsy, Dr. Deming added, was performed Thursday night at Memorial Hospital by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, pathologist.

Meanwhile, no further developments in the case have been revealed by authorities.

The father of the victim, Donald Earl Rephann, a machinist for the Western Maryland Railway at the Ridgeley shops, found the body of his daughter in the bathtub when he came home from work shortly after 7 a.m. Thursday morning.

Fellow workers said that Rephann was informed he had been placed on the furlough list when he went to work at 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Following the autopsy, the time of death was set at 3:10 a.m. Thursday. Few details have been announced by the office of State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Several Give Statements

Mrs. Rephann was questioned Thursday at the state's attorneys office and the father and several members of the family came in for questioning in the case.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, who is investigating the case for the state's attorneys office, could not be reached last night as he was out of town for the weekend.

Both Fletcher and Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty are attending a meeting in Baltimore of the State's Attorneys Association of Maryland and are expected back today.

The graveside service today will be conducted by Rev. W. H. Grose, pastor of Eckhart Methodist Church.

School Leaders Plan To Attend Convention

Four representatives from the Allegany County public school system will attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators starting this weekend and running until next Thursday in Atlantic City, N. J.

Attending from here will be Kenneth R. Malcolm of Westernport, president of the County Board of Education; Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer, and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools.

Webster said that the convention offers school administrators from throughout America the opportunity to see the latest in equipment for schools, from rooftop to basement. Several floors of the huge Atlantic City auditorium will be filled with exhibits of all types of equipment. They even have whole fleets of school buses.

A year ago, between 16,000 and 17,000 attended the convention. The convention traditionally is held in Atlantic City in the off-season because other cities haven't sufficient space for the affair.

The local representatives plan to return next Thursday.

Blaze Threatens Treading Works

Two blazes were checked by city firemen yesterday morning.

The call came in at 10:45 a. m. and firemen were on the scene for about 45 minutes and used a booster line to quench the flames. Volunteer firemen from Bowling Green also fought the blaze.

City firemen said employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad had been burning brush along the tracks and that it ignited some scrap rubber in the rear of the building. The flames were eating their way up the side of a bank toward the structure as firemen extinguished it. No damage was reported. The building is owned by Paul J. Buchholtz, firemen said.

At 11:26 a. m. South End firemen checked a brush fire along Hawthorne Avenue and were out about 22 minutes. No damage was reported in the blaze.

News In Brief

Bedford Road fire men will hold the weekly square dance from 9 until 11 tonight at the fire hall.

Gephart School PTA will hold a rummage sale at 10 a. m. today at 73 North Centre Street.

Million Dollars More Asked For State Building

Would Advance Cost To $11,000,000 Level

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 12 (AP)—The General Assembly was asked today to approve another million dollars for a State office-building center in Baltimore, making the total 11 million.

Ten million had been approved in two earlier authorizations.

The new request, introduced by Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th) in the House and President Della (D-Balto 6th) in the Senate, was made at the suggestion of the Board of Public Works.

The agency felt the previously authorized 10 million was a bit shy of the amount needed to set the project up across from the Fifth Regiment Armory.

In effect, the bills would repeal the 1945 authorization of a two million dollar bond issue and substitute authorization of a three million bond issue. One million would be designed for clearance of slum dwellings on the site.

Budget Headstart

Another joint proposal would call on the governor to submit his budget proposals at least 12 days in advance of the convening of the Legislature during even-number years. That's when the Assembly meets for only 30 days, instead of 90. Present custom is for the governor to present his fiscal program shortly after the session gets under way.

The Senate Finance and the House Ways and Means Committees, whose job it is to scrutinize the budget recommendations, sponsored resolutions urging that the governor present his program to the Legislature by Jan. 20 before short sessions, giving more time for study.

Two more bills were introduced on motor vehicles. One by Del. Smith (R-Carroll) would set a minimum three-day jail sentence for driving while drunk or under the influence of narcotics. The other by Del. Ridout (D-Anne Arundel) would enable prosecutors to use chemical "drunkometer" tests as evidence in drunken driving cases.

Other new proposals would set 10 per cent as the maximum interest rate on the first $500 of a retail installment purchase, and express confidence and appreciation in the state movie censors.

Seek Building Data

Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) and Majority Leader Goldstein (D-Calvert) sponsored a Senate resolution aimed at giving legislators a better idea of planned capital improvements. The resolution would ask the governor to include future building enlargements and operating costs in submitting his capital improvements program each year.

Kimble also introduced a bill to clarify when prisoners may be paroled, and Goldstein and Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset) proposed that utility rates be based principally on the original cost equipment.

The utility rates bill is a favorite theme of Phoebus. Gas companies and similar firms are allowed by law a minimum rate of return on their investment. Phoebus contends that, in determining how much the firms have invested, the original cost of the equipment should be used. The companies argued that, since prices on equipment might increase, the replacement cost should be used in figuring the investment.

City Protest Filed Against Gas Rate Boost

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, has filed an official protest with the Maryland Public Service Commission in connection with the C & A Gas Company's petition for an increase in gas rates.

Filing of the protest, as authorized by the Mayor and Council Monday, makes the city an intervenor in the rate increase case.

The company is asking for new rates which will provide an overall 24 per cent increase from its customers in Maryland and West Virginia.

Finan will attend a mass meeting scheduled in City Hall Monday at 7:30 p. m. by B & O Federation No. 7 in order to explain details of the city's protest and to tell what can be done to fight the boost in rates.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who has accepted an invitation to sit in on the meeting, said yesterday he has asked the gas company to send one of its representatives to the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones, Lansdale, Pa., announce the birth of a son on Wednesday. The father is a former resident of Cresaptown.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wolfe, 719 North Mechanic Street, a son Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Everett, Junction, W. Va., a daughter Thursday.

Sacred Heart Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, 159 Polk Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shockey, Lonaconing, a son yesterday.

Prepare Freedom Balloons

The balloons being prepared by Charles Robinette, president and Herman L. Myers, secretary of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Mayor Roy W. Eves were released from City Hall Plaza early yesterday afternoon by the lodge to mark the opening of Freedom Week here. The balloons were similar to those sent by Crusade for Freedom to people behind the Iron Curtain.

Douglas Defers Decision On Bid To Visit Oldtown

Justice William O. Douglas has deferred a decision on an invitation to stop at Oldtown during his trek along the route of the historic C & O Canal.

The Supreme Court justice recently wrote to Ross F. Shaw, Oldtown, expressing thanks for an invitation to stop at Oldtown.

Plans for the trek, he said, have not been formulated as yet, "although we do expect to get under way sometime about mid-March."

He added he would like to defer any decision on the proposed stop until more definite arrangements are made.

Program Planned

Shaw had written to Justice Douglas early this month, asking him to stop at Oldtown, where a program would be planned in Oldtown School in his honor. Shaw has also planned to take Justice Douglas to the Cresap monument there, and to lay a wreath on the grave of the founder of the town.

Justice Douglas recently filed a sharp personal dissent on government plans to construct a two-lane highway over the route of the historic canal, saying the area is a "long stretch of quiet and peace at the Capitol's back door."

Offer Is Accepted

His remarks, made in connection with a Washington Post editorial backing the Parkway plan, included an invitation for the writer to accompany him on a hike over the 185-mile stretch from Washington to Cumberland. The offer was quickly accepted by two of the staff.

Senator J. Glenn Beall has also invited Justice Douglas to visit his home in Frostburg during the visit to Western Maryland.

Justice Douglas might also wish to visit Westernport while on his visit here, since the town gets its name from the fact that it was planned as the western terminal of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Road Sanitation Program Praised By SRC Official

Appreciation for the help of the Allegany County Health Department in eliminating unsanitary conditions on Allegany County highways has been expressed by an area State Roads Commission official.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, told Dr. Winter R. Frantz that 100 of the 199 complaints filed this year by the SRC have already been corrected.

Chaires recently conferred with J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, on the progress being made on the campaign to make highways of the area sanitary.

Most of the complaints, Chaires reported, resulted from the lack of proper septic tank installations or from failure of drainage fields due to soil conditions.

He added the SRC will have other cases to bring up as the program progresses, and that the department appreciated the help being offered by the Health Department.

The drive which began here last year has attracted considerable attention throughout the state. Its success resulted chiefly from full cooperation of the Health Department, the State Roads Commission and the County Commissioners—who issued court orders for corrective measures.

The program will be widened this spring as the County Roads Department joins the health and safety drive.

Wills Creek Ave. Couple Praises Aid Of Firemen

A Wills Creek Avenue couple, whose home was damaged by fire last month, recently wrote a letter to Commissioner John J. Long, citing their appreciation for the aid given by city firemen.

The letter, received from Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rosenmarkle, 107 Wills Creek Avenue, reads as follows:

"We would like to take this means of extending our thanks to the firemen from West Side station and also the men who were here from Central, when our home was on fire two weeks ago.

Poultry Growers Meet At LaVale

Plans are being completed for the annual Allegany County poultry meeting which will be held all day Thursday, March 18, at the LaVale Fire Hall, according to County Agent Ralph F. McHenry.

The county agent is sending letters to all county men and women interested in raising poultry.

"This year again we are especially inviting the ladies who are interested in poultry production to attend this meeting," McHenry said. "On many farms the women folk are the poultry managers and we particularly want them to meet with us," the agent added.

The meeting will start about 10 a. m. and will end at 3:30 p. m.

Allegany Senior Orchestra Plans Concert Feb. 26

The Allegany High School Senior Orchestra will present an all-orchestra concert Friday, February 26, at 7:45 p. m. at the school auditorium, S. Lua Syckes, music director, announces.

The program will be divided into two parts, with the 30-member concert orchestra presenting the first portion, and a 12-member dance orchestra giving the second half. All members of the dance orchestra are selected from the concert body, Syckes said.

Following the concert presentation a students' dance will be held in the high school gymnasium beginning at 9:30 o'clock with the dance orchestra providing music for the hop. Tickets to the concert will be honored at the dance, Syckes added.

A new innovation will be the presentation of special prizes to the audience this year, the orchestra director continued. Three prizes will be presented at intermission.

Tickets go on sale today at the school and any member of the orchestra can secure tickets for the concert. Home room contests will be held at the school with prizes offered to the room which sells the most tickets.

Fourteen numbers will be presented on the concert program, seven by the concert orchestra under the direction of Syckes and seven by the dance group, directed by John Ritchey, student director.

Soloists include Carol Andrews, pianist with the concert orchestra, who will play "Deep Purple," by DeRose, and Richard Ayers, vocalist with the dance band, singing "Oh My Papa," by Burkhard. Both are juniors at Allegany.

Holy Name Sunday

Members of St. Patrick's Holy Name Society will attend Communion in a body at the 7 a. m. mass tomorrow, J. Donald Murray, president, announced last night.

38,972 Citizens Now Registered For County Vote

Number Declines Again In December

Allegany County had 38,972 qualified voters as of January 1, the County Board of Election Supervisors reported yesterday.

The number dropped 13 during December as 27 new registrants were added but 36 were deleted because of death and four others at the voters' request.

Of the new registrants added at the board's office in the Court House basement 21 were Republicans and only six Democrats. The new Republicans included 17 men and four women. The new Democrats are equally divided between men and women.

50 Voters Transfer

Dropped because of death were 15 Democrats (13 men and two women) and 21 Republicans (13 men and eight women). Stricken off the poll books at their own request were two men, both Democrats, and two women, one from each party. During December there also were 50 transfers from one precinct to another, 12 voters notified the board of changed names and 14 others reported changes of address within the same precinct.

December was the last month for voters to change political affiliation before the state-wide primary election set for June 28. Of those who switched parties 30 moved from the Democratic to the Republican party (12 women and 18 men) and only four (two women and two men) from the Republican to the Democratic party.

Republicans Lead

Among the 38,972 registered as of January 1, a total of 38,519 are white and 453 colored. By political parties 22,038 (11,382 men and 10,656 women) are Republicans and 16,674 (8,624 men and 8,050 women) are Democrats. Others on the registered list include 192 (149 men and 43 women) who decline to state political preference, 23 (15 men and eight women) classified as Socialists and 45 (29 men and 16 women) belonging to other parties.

Employes of the Board of Election Supervisors are expecting the number of registered voters to swing upward as the June 28 primary nears. All residents who will be 21 years of age before November 2, 1954, the general election date, or who will have lived in the state for one year before November 2, may register now. Registration may be completed at the Board of Election Supervisors office in the Court House basement Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. until noon or from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. or on Saturday between 9 a. m. and noon.

Registrars also will sit in 19 different communities around the county between April 12 and April 30 and in Westernport, Lonaconing, Frostburg and Mt. Savage May 26, 27, 28 and 29. May 29 is the last day for registration in order to vote in the June 28 primary.

Cabbie Uses Radio To Report Blaze

A local cab driver used his two-way radio to advantage last night in reporting a flue fire to city firemen.

Central station got a call at 8:12 p. m. after the driver noticed the flue fire at 120 North Smallwood Street, called the dispatcher who in turn notified firemen.

West Side went to the scene. No damage was reported.

In 'Good' Condition

Leonard Kimble, 32, of Ridgeley, is reported in good condition at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted yesterday morning with an injured right shoulder suffered while unloading sand at the Corriganville batch plant of the E. J. Albrecht Company. He was admitted for observation.

Frigid Weather Keeps Grip On Tri-State Area

Mercury To Rise This Afternoon

Residents of the tri-state area, who have been shivering in the current frigid spell, can expect to remain at the mercy of Old Man Winter and his deep freeze antics.

According to a forecast by the weatherman, the overcoat and heavy clothing will continue to come in handy for outdoor wear.

Highway traffic has not been affetced, althought some icy spots were reported in certain sections of the area. The mercury was expected to dip toward the zero mark in Western Maryland during the early hours of today although by this afternoon the temperature is expected to rise to the mid-30s. Skies should be mostly sunny.

Thomas Is Cold Spot

The coldest spots last night were reported at Thomas, W. Va., four degrees above, and Mt. Lake Park, where the mercury dipped to eight degrees above. A similar reading was noted at Deal, Pa., according to the Western Maryland Railway.

Thomas also was reported to have about an inch of snow while a similar amount was noted in the Altamont and Terra Alta sector along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. At 8 p. m. the mercury stood at 10 degrees in Altamont, with a reading of 12 degrees in Blazer and 14 degrees in Terra Alta. Elkins was shivering in a temperature of 12 degrees.

Roads Are Clear

State Police at LaVale substation said roads in the immediate area were generally clear, although icy spots prevailed in sections of Garrett County.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said U. S. Route 50 was clear, although a few icy spots were reported in the Kingwood-Terra Alta section.

In Cumberland the official high for yesterday was 23 degrees, and the low, 16 degrees. The reading at 8 p. m. yesterday was 17.

In downtown Cumberland the unofficial reading at 9 p. m. was 23 degrees.

CD Siren Test Slated At Noon

Civil Defense officials have scheduled a 90-second test of this city's disaster warning system for today at noon.

Arthur B. Gibson, CD coordinator, said all sirens will be set off simultaneously in order to test relays which have been installed by C & P Telephone Company crews.

The test is planned only to check the operation of the equipment which makes up the air raid warning system.

During World War II, relays installed on sirens here gave some trouble, Gibson said.

Civil Defense officers located in key spots throughout the city will report on the sound coverage during the test. Citizens who wish to report on the test may do so by sending post cards to City Hall.

Local Eagles Backing Social Security Plan

Members of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, this week voted full support of President Eisenhower's proposal for liberalizing Social Security benefits.

Herman L. Myers, secretary, pointed out that "friends of Social Security, including Democrats and Republicans, are supporting the President's proposals." The Eagles, who pioneered in the early campaign for old age pension laws and the Social Security Act, said they view these proposals as a step forward in providing adequate old age security for all Americans.

Police, Firemen To Meet

A regular meeting of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the squad room of the Public Safety Building.

Bills To Change Delegate Strength Differ Widely

BY ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

What is a fair representation for Allegany County in the General Assembly?

That question has been asked since two widely conflicting bills were introduced in the House of Delegates in Annapolis Wednesday. Both would revise the representation in the General Assembly and both are supposed to be based on the 1950 Maryland census.

Analysis of both proposals as they affect Allegany County shows that neither would give an exact representation to this county.

Starting with the census, where both proposals apparently originated, it is found that Allegany County, with a 1950 official population of 89,556, has 3.8 per cent of the state's population of 2,343,001. Ideally, then, this county should have 3.8 per cent of the representation in the State House.

In the House of Delegates Allegany County has six, or 4.8 per cent of the 123 delegates. In the State Senate this county has one out of 29, a percentage of 3.4. The county thus has more than its share in the House of Delegates but is under-represented in the State Senate.

Then, to take a look at the suggested remedies:

Under a bill introduced by Baltimore Delegates Hopkins and Milanicz, Allegany County would become widely under-represented in both branches of the General Assembly.

The measure would cut Allegany County to four of the 123 delegates, a percentage of only 3.2. They also would increase the number of state senators to 40, leaving this county with only one or 2.5 per cent of the whole.

Another bill, introduced by the Montgomery County Delegation, would do much better by Allegany County. This county would continue to have six delegates, but the total number in the lower house would be upped to 133, giving this county 4.5 per cent of the total representation. There would be no change in the number of senators.

Some local observers, also engaging in this mathematical game, have concluded that five members in the House of Delegates with its present strength of 123 would give this county about as close a representation to the county's share of the state population as any arithmetical conclusion.

That would be just four per cent of the representation and the county has 3.8 per cent of the population. Allegany's present one senator out of 29, 3.4 per cent, is about as close as can be arrived upon for a fair representation in the upper chamber.

High Court Upsets Ruling Of Jurist

The Maryland Court of Appeals ruled yesterday that trustees of the $369,000 estate of the late Daniel E. Offutt of Oakland should decide how much allowance his son should receive.

It reversed the Garrett County Circuit Court decision by Associate Judge George Henderson which increased the 23-year-old University of Maryland student's allowance from $200 to $300 a month.

Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff said in the opinion that Offutt's will reflected "caution" in allowing the trust income to come into the youth's hands and "clearly expressed the intention that the trustees were to have absolute power and discretion in fixing the amount."

Young Offutt receives $2,000 a year from $69,000 in life insurance and bonds in addition to the allowance.

When the case was argued before the appeals court last month, William J. Gunter, this city, represented young Offutt and William C. Walsh, also of this city, was attorney for the trustees.

In another appeal from Garrett County, the appeals court in Annapolis upheld a verdict of $430 for James A. Blubaugh, 49, of Eckhart, who was injured when Henry Brumage's truck skidded into the back of his car January 10, 1952, on an icy Route 6 hill.

City Collects 89 Per Cent Of 1953-54 Levy

Tax Receipts Hit 97 Mark On Jan. 31

The City of Cumberland had collected 89 per cent of its all-time high levy for 1953-54 on January 31, as the seventh month of the current fiscal year ended, according to a report issued yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The tax levy collections were at the 97 per cent mark, with only $31,460.32 to be collected on a tax levy of $984,900.

Spending by city departments for operating expenses was at the 55 per cent mark, with 58⅓ par for the month.

The report showed that $1,245,682.90 has already been collected from the $1,400,630 levy, leaving $159,400.83 still to come in.

One account, the city's share of state racing revenues, is $4,453.73 over the estimate.

Major amounts still to be collected are some $58,000 expected from general licenses, about $22,000 from general and special income, some $9,000 from police fines, about $11,000 of recreation income and about $12,000 from state gas and auto taxes.

The various city departments had spent by January 31 a total of $644,921.31, or 55 per cent of the funds allotted for operating the city. This is about three per cent under par.

Most departments appeared to be about on schedule in their spending.

Resident Is Charged With Firing Gun Within City Limits

A local resident who reportedly shot his neighbor's dog was taken into custody early Thursday morning and charged with discharging firearms in the city.

Joe Hartley, 612 Princeton Street, was booked at Police Headquarters at 12:30 a.m. following his arrest by Officers Kenneth W. Morrissey and Charles W. Thompson. Hartley posted $25 bond after his arrest.

Officer Morrissey said Hartley reported he was afraid the dog was going to attack his wife and daughter near the walk in front of the Hartley home. He was reported to have blasted away at the dog with a .30-30 rifle.

A hearing is set for February 17, police said.

Funeral Today For Child Found Dead In Bathtub

Autopsy Shows Victim Drowned

Four-month-old Karen Gail Rephann, who was found dead in a partially filled bathtub early Thursday morning at her home in Bowman's Addition will be buried at 10 a.m. today in a graveside service in Eckhart Cemetery.

Her mother, Mrs. Shirley Alice (Geary) Rephann, 23, who is being held in the detention ward of the Allegany County Infirmary, will not be present, on the advice of a physician who said she is in a "nervous condition."

Drowning Caused Death

Death of the child, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, was due to drowning. An autopsy, Dr. Deming added, was performed Thursday night at Memorial Hospital by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, pathologist.

Meanwhile, no further developments in the case have been revealed by authorities.

The father of the victim, Donald Earl Rephann, a machinist for the Western Maryland Railway at the Ridgeley shops, found the body of his daughter in the bathtub when he came home from work shortly after 7 a.m. Thursday morning.

Fellow workers said that Rephann was informed he had been placed on the furlough list when he went to work at 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Following the autopsy, the time of death was set at 3:10 a.m. Thursday. Few details have been announced by the office of State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Several Give Statements

Mrs. Rephann was questioned Thursday at the state's attorneys office and the father and several members of the family came in for questioning in the case.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, who is investigating the case for the state's attorneys office, could not be reached last night as he was out of town for the weekend.

Both Fletcher and Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty are attending a meeting in Baltimore of the State's Attorneys Association of Maryland and are expected back today.

The graveside service today will be conducted by Rev. W. H. Grose, pastor of Eckhart Methodist Church.

School Leaders Plan To Attend Convention

Four representatives from the Allegany County public school system will attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators starting this weekend and running until next Thursday in Atlantic City, N. J.

Attending from here will be Kenneth R. Malcolm of Westernport, president of the County Board of Education; Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster, Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer, and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools.

Webster said that the convention offers school administrators from throughout America the opportunity to see the latest in equipment for schools, from rooftop to basement. Several floors of the huge Atlantic City auditorium will be filled with exhibits of all types of equipment. They even have whole fleets of school buses.

A year ago, between 16,000 and 17,000 attended the convention. The convention traditionally is held in Atlantic City in the off-season because other cities haven't sufficient space for the affair.

The local representatives plan to return next Thursday.

Blaze Threatens Treading Works

Two blazes were checked by city firemen yesterday morning.

The call came in at 10:45 a. m. and firemen were on the scene for about 45 minutes and used a booster line to quench the flames. Volunteer firemen from Bowling Green also fought the blaze.

City firemen said employes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad had been burning brush along the tracks and that it ignited some scrap rubber in the rear of the building. The flames were eating their way up the side of a bank toward the structure as firemen extinguished it. No damage was reported. The building is owned by Paul J. Buchholtz, firemen said.

At 11:26 a. m. South End firemen checked a brush fire along Hawthorne Avenue and were out about 22 minutes. No damage was reported in the blaze.

News In Brief

Boy Scout Exhibit

Boy Scouts Bruce Crothers and Earl Rinehart of Troop 1 stand by their unit's archery display, which attracted scores of interested visitors last night at the Boy Scout Circus at the State Armory. The exhibit was one of several staged by each of Cumberland's 13 Boy Scout troops to emphasize the opening of Boy Scout Week. Several other activities are planned for next week.
